PRESIDENTFLASHES LIGHT ON LIBERTY

Statue at New York Harbor Illuminated Amid Imposing Ceremony.

RUTH LAW WINS APPLAUSE

Mr. Wilson Declares "Peace Is Going to Come to World Only With Liberty"-Guns of Atlantic Fleet Boom Salute.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 .- President Wil-NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—President Wilson, speaking tonight at the banquet which was the culmination of the celebration in honor of the permanent illumination of the Status of Liberty in New York harbor, declared that he had thought for the last two years that "peace is going to come to the world only with liberty."
"The peace of the world," Mr. Wilson sided, "is not going to be secured by the compacts of nations, but by the sympathies of men."

the compacts of nations, but by the sympathies of men."

The President declared that the United States has a community of ideas with France, whose people presented Barthold's statue to the United States, because "one republic must love another."

Spirit of Statue Significant.

Spirit of Statue Significant.

The President spoke of the significance of the Statue of Liberty to the immigrants. He said he wondered whether the spirit typified by the spirit of the statue is truly represented here. The President said he noticed that the source of light for the statue "comes from the outside."

"The only light," he added, "that we can contribute to the illulmation of the world is the light that shines out of our own lives. We must illustrate liberty in our lives. With all due respect for those who represent nations not governed as ours, I do not think respect for those who represent nations not governed as ours, I do not think that nations ruled by small groups of men can be successful."

"The world," he declared, "is enlightened by ideas and ideals and the sacrifices of men enable the world to go forward."

Light to Be Continuous. The President gave the wireless flash which bathed the Statue of Liberty in light at 6 o'clock tonight. Bartholdi's famous symbol of American freedom, which has been for 30 years a token of welcome to the United States to millions of immisrants from every land, will be illuminated every night hereafter from top to bottom. The necessary funds to install the permanent lighting system for the statue were provided by public subscriptions.

This poster, designed by William Meade Prince, of New York City, won the country-wide competition for the best preparedness poster to be exhibited at the Preparedness Bazaar, to be held at the Grand Central Palace, December 14 to 21. In the competition in which artists from all over the country participated, Ethelinda M. Stock, also of New York, was second. Although the actual competition is closed the bazaar committee will continue exhibiting all posters received.

Fleet's Guns Hoom Salute.

"I light this statue," said the President, with the thought that it may always stand as a symbol of our purpose to throw upon liberty, out of our own life as a Nation, a light which shall reveal its dignity, its serene power, its benignant hope and spirit of guidance. The great guns of a division of the Atlantic fleet boomed a salute as the statue flashed into view, outlined in white lights.

The French Ambassador, after readaring a message from the President of France, dwelt at length on the friendly relations existing between his country and the United States. He detailed the listory of the events that led to the modeling of the statue by the contributions of his countrymen, and laid stress on the fact that Barthold, the sculptor, evolved the idea as the result of an impression left upon him by the war of 1870, which deprived him of Animals Once Almost Extinct Are Increasing on Reservations.

"Watch Your Sneeze!"

An eminent physician says: "A missiep is unfortunate, but a random sneeze is one of the most dangerous things we have to consider. Take a person who, through lack of sleep, hunger, sorrow or exposure to the elements is susceptible, add one explosive sneeze and you have at least one call for a doctor. No one wants to spread disease, and this is the ideal time to watch your sneeze."

CHICAGO, Dec. 2 .- (Special.) -- With he day of the end of the "diet squad" test in sight its members today her-alded their prospective release with joy. "The test has been good fun, but the constant restraint against anything outside of the meals has been trying," said Mrs. Borghild Halvorsen, one of the 12 members of the squad which is demonstrating the practicability of liv-ing well and healthfully on an expendi-ture for food of less than 40 cents a day.

"I can't complain; I've gained four and one-haif pounds," said Henry Gehring, Jr. "But I'll be glad to get back again where I can eat what I want, when I want and where I want. It has been forbidding of getting a bite of food in between meals that has been a habit hard to cut out."

been a habit hard to cut out."

Weight Loss Causes Alarm.

Health Commissioner Robertson, alarmed at the remarkable slump in weight which his experimental diet squad suffered after the attempt was made to cut the cost of meals from 11 cents to 8 cents apiece, hastened today to build up a weight-producing menu. Eighteen pounds lost by the squad since the beginning of the reduction Tuesday leaves the squad but nine and a half pounds heavier than when it started the test.

Hominy, codfish balls and buttered rice with stewed onions were the principals of the meals today with which the Health Commissioner hopes to regain lost weight for his squad. Members of the squad declare they feel as well as they did before the beginning of the test and some of them attribute the loss in weight to excessive dancing during the Thanksgiving holiday. A gain of six and three-quarters pounds, registered after the morning meal today, would indicate that the Commissioner's menu is to be effective.
