wedding march, and the Misses Mildred and Lillah Rogers will sing.

Portland is anticipating the visit of the Countess Madeleine de Bryas, who will be here August 29 and 30. She is not coming as a social light. No, indeed; the Countess is coming as a patriot, a woman above all womanly, loyal, in earnest in the cause she represents. She will speak here under the auspices of the State Council of Defense and the American Committee for Devastated France.

On Friday, August 23, the Countess will address the Progressive Business Men's Club at their luncheon and the next day at noon she will be the guest of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae at a luncheon at the University Club. At night there will be a mass meeting at the Auditorium, Comtesse de Bryas will be the largest French organization doing work in the destroyed villages. On behalf of Bon Gite she made a lecture tour in Southern France and then the French government sent her to Spain.

Comtesse de Bryas has given her services in the liberty loan and in Red Cross work. She is said to be a wonderfully inspiring speaker. In France she worked as a Red Cross nurse, then became interested in the population living in the destroyed regions and was the first woman to take up work in this particular line. In 1915 she formed the organization known as "Le Bon Gite" which now is the largest French organization doing work in the destroyed villages. On behalf of Bon Gite she made a lecture tour in Southern France and then the French government sent her to Spain.

Comtesse de Bryas' father, Comte Jacques de Bryas, lately founded in Paris a new club for the American and allied officers and he is vice-president. The honorary presidents are General Joffre, General Pershing and Sir Douglas Haig.

The patronesses for the appearance of the Countess are the board of the American Committee for Devastated France.

Miss Laura Akin, daughter of Drs. Otis and Mabel Akin, will arrive in Portland this morning after an extended Eastern trip. Miss Akin has been visiting recently in Ohio and Michigan, where she has many friends and relatives. She was graduated this year from the University of California where she was one of the popular and attractive co-eds. Miss Akin is a member of Chi Omega sorority. She has a large circle of friends in this city who will delight to welcome her home.

Miss Louise Corbin entertained at a pretty tea yesterday honoring her house-guest, Miss Margery Whiteford, of Seattle, and also took this occasion to announce the engagement of Miss Mary Dunbar to Hans Lemcke, of San Francisco. Miss Dunbar is an attractive girl and is very popular in the younger set. She is the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Dunbar and formerly lived in San Francisco. Mr. Lemcke is a member of a prominent family of the California city. He is a graduate of the University of California and a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity. The wedding will be an event of the near future.

Many friends of the young hostess called to welcome her guest and shower the bride-elect with good wishes.

have come the smartest, most attractive Suits, Dresses, Coats, Millinery and Blouses you've ever seen.

Many will be the delighted Ohs! and Ahs! heard about our store this week. Every day brings a wealth of new wearables—and each box we unpack seems to hold things just a little more clever than the last.

Coat models are distinctive

—Rich furs lend unusual beauty to handsome velours, duvetyns, burellas, pompoms, silvertones and broadcloths. Color tones include taupe, plum, Royal purple, Burgundy, a half dozen browns and navy. $19.50 to $75 and more.

Dresses of unusual design

—Women who come a-dress buying will find a wealth of new ideas. Much fringe is used in cleverly novel ways—silk and soutache braids and battalions of buttons are employed. Serges, serge and silk combinations—jerseys, satins. Scores of them. $17.50 to $55 and more.

Suits of rare beauty

—They've a "different" air. As in coats, rich furs are much in evidence. Longer coat lines are foremost features. The narrowness of the skirts is notable for its extreme smartness. But one must see them to appreciate their full merits. $29.50 to $65.

Our Displays of MILLINERY FOR FALL are unusually striking.

—Never before have millinery designers displayed more originality. To attempt to describe the wide profusion of new models recently received would be an almost endless task.

—Suffice it to say that we're mighty proud of our showing. There are More Than 500 Hats—A much more comprehensive showing, we believe, than may be found anywhere else in town. —Hats for every woman and for every purse. See them tomorrow! $7.50 to $27.50 and more. 1st Floor—Emporium.

ARRIVED! Wondrous Rugs from the Orient

The bales all have been opened and their rich contents will be ready for your inspection on tomorrow and following days.

How rejoiced were we when we were told that the steamer bearing our precious rugs had reached New York! If these could speak (and it almost seems that they are trying to speak) what a tale they could tell! Of growing slowly to wondrous beauty on faroff Oriental looms; of the long journey over desert wastes; of reaching a great port after many days; of waters running high when lights were darkened; of lurking steel sea-shark that sought to slay! But eyes were sharp and shots went true, and when the last dawn came, Liberty raised her torch in welcome—Liberty, for which the patient weavers of these precious fabrics have prayed and toiled for centuries!

Think on these things when you view these rugs. Though they are becoming each day more rare and harder to obtain, yet we will offer these at this time at our customary prices. Many sizes are here, and many groups.
