Frivilege of free export and sale to manufacturers would stimulate produc-tion and ald gold mining, says the com-mittee, and might also be a safeguard against inflation. The Government might increase production by assisting in improving methods of mining. Possible methods of maintaining the visible gold reserve would be in the curtailment of the use of the metal for manufactures and making a call on the public to turn in hoarded gold. "On the other hand," he said, "dis-bandment of the complete military bandment of the complete military units could be and was immediately begun. In this way the military situ-ation was safeguarded and at the same time demobilization was accelerated." General March urged that legislation be passed permitting the resumption of voluntary enlistments and re-enlist-ments in the Army, saying that demo-bilization of overseas forces was being bilization of overseas forces was being bilization of overseas forces was being retarded to an extent by the fact that there are practically no troops to re-place them. He said there are many men at every camp who would enlist in the regular Army if it were not for the fact that all definite period enlist-ments were suspended by the act of May 18, 1918. GOLD PRODUCTION DROPS

Special Probe Discloses That Decrease Is Seroius.

WASHINGTON .- The special commit tee headed by Hennen Jennings, gold mining engineer, which was appointed by Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior, to investigate gold production in the United States, has made a report that indicates a decline in production.

The committee was appointed severa months ago when the secretary's atten-tion was called to the increasing cost of gold mining and a consequent decline of output

The report just made says "gold mining has been seriously injured by the war and has been discriminated against for the benefit of the Treasury in that the exporting of gold and even the in-ternal free trade in the metal was in-

decreased in proportion to the increase of other commodities which in one way or another are factors in the obtaining of new gold. "The present decrease in gold production is serious, as the maintenance of a sufficient gold reserve is essential to the security of our National finances and credits. The United States is the most favored Nation in regar dto gold reserves, holding more than $2,000,000,-000, or nearly one-third of that of the month but it has contracted debts on but it has contracted debts on a gold basis many times that existing before the war."

The committee gives as the principal reason for the decline in gold produc-tion the increase in operating costs in the most favored quarts mines of from 57 cents to produce a dollar's worth of gold in 1917 to 70 ceits in 1918. Various means of stimulating the Various means of stimulating the production of gold were considered by the committee. Fayment of a bonus on newly mined gold, advocated by many, is frowned upon by the committee. The elimination of excess profits ta on gold mining and the encouragement of larger outputs thereby is advocated, and the statement is made that larger dividends paid to shareholders will mean greater revenue for general taxa-

After working around the clinker department long enough to wear out two pairs of ordinary soles, my Neolin Soles are still as good as new," writes A. F.
