

SUFFERERS TESTIFY TO HEALER'S POWER

James Moore Hickson Lays Hands on Thousands.

ILL SURGE ABOUT CHURCH

Long Line Finally Ends, Though Piteful Appeals Come for Visit to Homes.

Stephen's pro-cathedral, Thirteenth and Clay streets, who has been present at both missions and worked just as long as Mr. Hickson needed assistance, announced yesterday afternoon that he is going to continue the work in his marks. Always a firm believer in the healing of bodily ailments through prayer, and consistent in the practice of intercessory prayer for the sick, he declared that the good work begun in so large a way by the visitor from abroad must be continued by the church through the clergy.

Workers Eager to Aid.

Rev. Thomas Jenkins, rector of St. David's Episcopal church, 1215 1/2 Twelfth and Morrison streets, also one of Mr. Hickson's chief assistants in the missions, was equally certain of the good accomplished and asserted that he is eager to carry it forward in whatever way may be found best, after a conference following the close of the missions here.

Mr. Hickson's work has been such a revelation to those who are profoundly impressed, said Rev. Mr. Jenkins. "Certainly, it must be considered of that there is no doubt. While I have been constantly visiting hospitals during my work in St. David's, I have never seen so unimpressed as I have here through these missions. There is no doubt of the good that has been accomplished, even though it should develop that no outright miracles were actually term them, have been effected."

Bed-ridden Members Ask Aid.

Rev. Mr. Jenkins declared that three bed-ridden members of his church, "old-timers at St. David's," had called him by telephone to urge that measures be taken to take to them the healing message.

Mr. Hickson left last night for Seattle. Larger crowds than ever thronged the vicinity of Grace church yesterday to feel the healing touch of Mr. Hickson. Probably 2000 men, women and children surged about the modest little edifice that, within the last two days, has been the mecca of sufferers from bodily ills. That many were helped was the general declaration of those in attendance.

"God be praised," said "How happy I am for what he did for me" were phrases written on bits of paper handed into Rev. Mr. Taylor, prime mover in bringing Mr. Hickson to Portland.

But the man who has been ministering to the throngs coming to him for the healing touch is only human, and after his long day of work last night he was weary in body.

For two days, from early morning until far into the afternoon, he ministered to the multitude, stopping only 10 minutes for very light nourishment, and then resuming his work. Mr. Hickson often works past the midnight hour, his secretary says, and it is only when tired a few hours of sleep that he gets complete rest and recuperation for his duties. He eats sparingly, but enjoys it greatly and is "temperate in all things," according to his aide.

All Ministered To.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Hickson descended into the basement, where there were gathered many sufferers from various ailments, and there laid hands upon them and uttered prayers, assisted by the Episcopal clergy.

There was much more system yesterday, resulting in many more people receiving attention. They came to the church in all manner of conveyances, rich and poor, seeking the healing touch and it seemed that the line would never end, but late in the afternoon it was announced that all had received ministering.

Hundreds of piteful appeals were sent to the church praying that Mr. Hickson would visit sufferers in their homes, but because of the lack of time it was found to be impossible for him to see many of these.

BURGLARS SHOW ACTIVITY

EAST SIDE RESIDENTS REPORT LOSSES TO POLICE.

Old Gold Valued at $300 and Silverware and Clothing Worth $200 Taken from Home of D. Dahn.

A box of old gold, valued at $300, a quantity of silverware and various articles of clothing were taken from the home of D. Dahn, 585 East Salmon street, by burglars who gained entrance by jimmying a kitchen window, according to a report made to the police yesterday. This was one of several burglaries reported to the authorities.

Inspector Howell and Morak made an investigation of the burglary of the Dahn residence. The stolen articles were estimated as valued at nearly $500.

The residence of W. S. Wymore, 72 West Jessup street, was reported to have been ransacked by burglars during the absence of the family.

Miss Hazel Wymore, a daughter of the family, reported returning home after dark and hearing someone apparently in the yard. She gained entrance and went to a friend's house. Later she discovered that the house had been broken into and a wrist watch, a lavalliere and a string of green jade beads stolen. She could not give a list of other property taken, as she did not know just what other members of the family had taken with them.

O. L. Cross, 1945 East Morrison street, reported his residence entered and a lady's watch, a ring and a watch chain taken.

The theft of a 32 caliber revolver from 477 East Sixty-third street North, was reported by N. E. Tyrrell of Bonneville.

A. J. Authors, 1274 East Hoyt street, reported the theft of eight valuable Rhode Island red and White Leghorn tows.

Patrolman Nolan reported that he found the door of the jewelry store of H. H. Vines, Third and Washington streets, open at 5:10 yesterday morning. The lock had apparently been picked. The proprietor said he found nothing missing and it is believed that the burglars were frightened away.

JUNIOR WEEK-END PLAN

REED FACULTY APPROVES NEW DEPARTMENT PROPOSED.

Events of Athletic, Dramatic and Social Nature to Be Combined With Annual "Prom."

"Junior week end," a time-honored college custom, will be introduced at Reed college this spring, when the junior class will combine with its annual "prom" events of an athletic, dramatic and social nature. Plans for the week end were approved by the faculty last week, after some reservations.

The first Reed festivity of this nature will not be elaborate and will entail only the discontinuance of Saturday classes. May 30 is the day set for the junior promenade, the Saturday following will be given over to sports and the evening will be taken up by the Reed Drama club. "Open houses" for outside visitors will be the rule.

Another student activity interesting Reedites is the publication of a Reed annual, depicting in detail the life of the college. The booklet is entirely managed by students and will be issued some time during the last college month. Glenn Quiett is editor-in-chief and James Hamilton is handling the business end of the venture.

A memorial for Reed men who died in the service is the plan of a committee appointed by the student council last week. Howard Hopkins, a former lieutenant with the famous 91st division, heads the committee, which will erect a memorial to Reed's six soldier dead. Miss Florence M. Reed, Isabel Strain, Kirk Prindle and Elbert Charman are other members of the committee.

Mrs. Mary B. Talbert, noted colored woman, will be the speaker at the 4 o'clock vesper services in the Reed chapel. There will be special music by the college choir, a vocal solo by Carlyle Cunningham and a flute solo by Russell Foster.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps or your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, watery spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a table spoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Adv.

Wedding Takes Place at 1 A. M.

ALBANY, Or., March 6.—(Special.)—William Shults, 55, and Mrs. Minta Keyson Titus, 48, were married at 1 o'clock yesterday morning after a ceremony by George H. Young, pastor of the First Baptist church, who performed the ceremony. County Clerk Russell, who issued the license, and Dr. B. R. Wallace, who signed the necessary medical certificate, had been called from their slumbers in the middle of the night.

LULU TEMPLE WILL BE IMPERIAL GUARD

Forty Horsemen to Surround Potentate Kendrick.

CITIZENS ASKED TO HELP

Mayor Baker Says at Least 30,000 Rooms Must Be Provided for Visiting Shriners.

Philadelphia's Lulu temple horsemen, 40 strong, will be guardians of the person of W. Freeland Kendrick, imperial potentate, during his official visit to Portland next June, when the Shrine convenes here. That much was settled yesterday when telegraphic confirmation was had between the two cities.

And then came the announcement that the far-famed Pendleton Round-Up patrol, 24 all told, will be in town for the big convention. They will stage all manner of riding stunts, which only cowboys can, and it is intimated from the eastern stretches of the state that they intend to "show" these horsemen from Philadelphia how to cling onto an animal under circumstances rarely, if ever, seen in the Quaker City. What else they may undertake is, of course, a profound secret, but it is hinted that some of the "boys" will bring along plenty of rope, and it may be that a few of the imperial potentate's guard will be kidnaped—if they don't watch out.

Horses Will Be Provided.

Captain Charles T. Grob of the Lulu patrol will be in charge of the Philadelphia "arabes," who will bring all of their paraphernalia, but will be provided with the finest horses in these parts by Harry Kerren of the Portland riding academy.

Pendleton's cowboy patrol will be directed by "Tim" Taylor, the sheriff of Umatilla county, and W. E. Brock, both of whom are game for wanking things up in Portland at the proper time during the shrine convention. Both have wired headquarters here that they will make known their arrival in some typical western way and that they will be on hand to help the Philadelphia bunch, in case they need help.

Every mail brings requests for quarters and additional news of the oncoming Shriners. Portland has a very large task to perform and the help of all citizens is needed if the great throngs that will be here in June are to be adequately cared for.

Mayor Baker and W. J. Hofmann, who had much to do with bringing the convention here, are earnestly seeking the co-operation of the people of the city in providing rooms wherein to lodge the thousands who will come. This co-operation should be hearty given at once, they assert, so that all arrangements may be systematically made beforehand.

Citizens Urged to Co-operate.

"This shrine convention is so big that the people scarcely realize what it means," said Mayor Baker yesterday. "Unless one is familiar with the details, it is difficult to comprehend how great is the task of caring for such a convention. I cannot too strongly urge it upon the people to help the general committee by arranging to provide one or more rooms in no other way may this big job be done. It is to the interest of all that Portland show itself not only a hospitable city, but an efficient one when it comes to caring for big crowds."

A large force is now canvassing for rooms. While many have been listed, there must be a very material increase in the daily average. It is said at headquarters. A total of 30,000 rooms is required.

Pioneer Sells Hood River Ranch.

HOOD RIVER, Or., March 6.—(Special.)—C. C. Maister, an Oregon pioneer, who before he came to Hood River more than 30 years ago, operated a wagon train engaged in freighting in eastern Oregon, has just sold his 30-acre Odell ranch to Bernard Krohn. The latter is already owner of an Odell orchard.

The Figure 8 Saves Time

For it's the magic figure 8 motion of the water that sends the water through the clothes four times faster than in the ordinary washer! What's more, when you use a there's no danger of buttons flying off and buttonholes tearing off—there's not a single part in the tub to cause wear and tear. The hot, cleansing water is forced through the clothes by the action of the tub alone. There are no parts to lift out and clean after the washing is finished.

The swinging wringer—also electrical—can be shifted from the washer clear over the clothes basket without moving the washer. The 1900 works easily and smoothly, washes a whole tubful of clothes in 8 to 10 minutes, and costs less than 2c an hour to operate. These facts combine to make the 1900 the perfect washing machine.

The folly many people commit in allowing a merchant or salesman the opportunity to work upon their innocence or inability to discern the difference between the REAL or GENUINE article, as against the MAKE-BELIEF, the IMITATION, is strange, to say the least. This is particularly true of the Piano business. For certain it is, the spending of two or three hundred dollars for a cheap STENCIL Piano, the MAKE-BELIEF, the IMITATION Piano, does not mean that you have bought a Piano. No indeed! It means instead that you have only commenced to pay upon it; in other words, the two or three hundred dollars is only the first payment; you will have continual monthly, or even weekly, payments to keep up indefinitely, for broken strings, tuning, action regulating and innumerable other expenses, all of which most assuredly accrue to the cheap stencil Piano. And finally you find, to your utter disgust, that you have paid the price of a REAL Piano, and yet have only an expensive and worthless luxury, ridiculed and condemned by all who hear it as a tin-canny thumb-box. Sure, you can trade it off as part payment for a real Piano, but you find it has no REAL trade-in value. And yet, why go this long way round to obtain a real Piano and consequently pay two prices for it? We suggest your eliminating the cheap, the STENCIL Piano in the first place, and see to it that your dollar obtains for you all that it is possible of obtaining. This is only possible wherein you buy a genuine, standard grade Piano in the first instance; thus your purchase of a Piano is a profitable investment from the beginning; moreover, your musical requirements are more easily attained, likewise your unbounded satisfaction in realizing your own the genuine article will be "A thing worth while," a joy forever.

Buy the best first, last and all the time. It is true economy. Buy a BUSH and LANE Piano—one of the few worthy Pianos of today; built and sold by the Bush and Lane Piano company, and sold at prices and upon terms considerably less than is usually asked for the ordinary Piano, and in many instances less than the cheap and worthless STENCIL Piano sells for.
