

NORTHWEST TOURIST DIRECTORS ELECTED

Double Appropriation for Work to Be Asked.

W. J. HOFMANN CHOSEN

Portland Man Is Retained as President of Organization; Advertising Is Discussed.

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—So successful has the work of the Pacific Northwest Tourist association been during the last year that the directors at the annual meeting in Tacoma today determined to urge that the legislatures of Oregon and Washington and the parliament of British Columbia double the appropriations for the ensuing year.

Despite his protests that the honor should go to Washington, which has never had a president of the association, W. J. Hofmann of Portland was re-elected president by acclamation. The delegates refusing even to consider his suggestion of leaving his present post.

Follow-Up Work Is Urged. Importance of commerce clubs and kindred organizations following up the work done by the association was emphasized at today's meeting. Names that are obtained at large expense through the association's advertising should be followed up and supplied with literature from every city and town in the Pacific northwest.

Directors pointed out that the likelihood of tourists or homesteaders coming to this section is increased many times when such prospects have literature of many towns upon which to base their decision. Each city should have a central tourist bureau, also, it was brought out, through which civic organizations should share. In this way the greatest possible amount of good would come through giving tourists the information they desire without waste of effort, duplication or lost motion.

Advertising Is Discussed. Herbert Cuthbert, executive secretary of the association, in discussing the advertising done for the whole Pacific northwest, said that the most responsive concerning Oregon and Washington come from the middle states, and the people of New York, Massachusetts and states bordering on Canada, appeared to be most interested in British Columbia. He added that the advertising appeal is to people really worth while, from a tourist or investment standpoint rather than get responses from persons who had no intention of traveling and upon whom expensive literature was wasted. Curiosity seekers are mostly the worst, was his opinion, by making the appeal of a nature that necessitated a personal visit to the Pacific northwest.

Indorsement was given to the illustrated lectures delivered by Frank Branch Riley of Portland throughout the east and he was commended for the interest that he has aroused concerning the northwest. Need of more excellent tourist hotels throughout the northwest was emphasized by Mr. Hofmann in his annual report. He gave a detailed report of how the association had advertised during the year just ended and the media used.

Oregon Directors Re-elected. A. C. Jackson made the report for the Oregon contingent. The following directors representing Oregon were all re-elected:

Sam A. Rose, secretary of state, Salem; Phil Steinhilber Jr. and O. W. Mielke and J. P. Joyce all of Portland; E. V. Carter, Ashland; George W. Hattat, Enterprise; Robert W. Sawyer, Bend; E. E. Brodie, Oregon City; Fred H. Hall, Marshfield; W. E. Durall, Corvallis; J. W. Stegmann, Clatsop Falls; Scott Butler, Hood River; H. W. Collins, Pendleton; J. E. Gratie, Astoria.

Washington directors—George Phillips, Spokane; N. R. Coffman, Chehalis; Clayton Williams, Everett; J. Grant Hick, Bellingham; E. F. Hill, Bellingham; H. V. Collins, Hoquiam; A. B. Howe, Tacoma; G. M. Lauritzen, Port Angeles; P. S. Watt, Seattle; J. T. Harrah, Yakima; Clement Scott, Vancouver; and a number of others. Whitney Wentche, who has been selected by Mr. Whitney, but whose name had not reached the association as yet.

British Columbia directors—John Hart, minister of finance, New Westminster; R. Kinham, Victoria; James H. Fletcher, Victoria; Mayor R. H. Gale, Vancouver; Mayor J. J. Johnson, New Westminster; G. H. Cottrell, Vancouver; Commissioner J. E. Davison, Vancouver; W. C. Shelly, Vancouver; J. N. Harvey, Vancouver; J. C. Pender, Victoria; J. E. Jones, Kelowna; D. R. Johnston, Kamloops; Mayor W. V. Vance, North Vancouver; George H. Naden, deputy minister of roads, Victoria.

Mr. Cuthbert Secretary. The directors re-elected Mr. Hofmann, president; Mr. A. C. Jackson, executive secretary; R. L. Sparger, Seattle, vice-president for Vancouver; J. E. Davison, Vancouver, vice-president for Oregon; Mayor Gale, Vancouver, vice-president for British Columbia; A. E. Todd, Victoria, honorary president; and Chester Thorne, Tacoma, assistant treasurer.

The directors will work with the legislatures in their different states as early in the forthcoming session as possible to get co-operation for the association.

A resolution of condolence was adopted in memory of Captain I. M. Howell, who died a short time ago, while serving as secretary of state in Washington. He had long been an active member of the association. The directors will meet again in March in a city to be selected by President Hofmann.

CANDIDATE TELLS OF ECONOMIC GAINS.

Business Administration Promised by Former Office Holder if He Is Elected.

One of the largest attended pre-election meetings of the week was held last night at the home of T. L. Perkins, candidate for city commissioner, speaking on his views on civic affairs. Perkins said that he can handle them all to an economical advantage. The speaker, who has had considerable experience as a public official, sketched the work he accomplished in the state senate and also when he sat on the board of city commissioners. Dr. Perkins said that it was during the 1913 session of the legislature that he was instrumental in having passed his own bill that gave the juvenile court the right to destroy records of delinquents after they had proven themselves. Another measure Dr. Perkins helped to make a law

POISON FOUND IN MILK

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 16.—(Special.)—A sensational development in the poisoning death of three children a month ago at Newport, Ky., came this afternoon when the Campbell county grand jury returned an indictment containing three counts against Miss Ida Werner, aunt of the children, charging her with willful murder. The woman is 42 years old and had lived with the children all their lives.

WOMEN ALLEGED TO HAVE PUNISHED LADS AT SCHOOL.

Cows That Figure in "Roundup" Start Neighborhood Row and Parents Visit Attorney.

An improvised round-up with some friendly cows as principals, patterned after what two boys had seen in the movies, and the alleged beating up of one small youngster, Eddie Fisher, are responsible for a neighborhood row at Hillsdale that ended yesterday in the district attorney's office.

Two complaints have been sworn out by Deputy District Attorney Graham charging that Mrs. Walter McCredie, wife of Portland's baseball promoter, and Mrs. F. S. Fisher, willfully assaulted and beat Kenneth Buxton and Randal Turner. The case first came up in the court of domestic relations and last Friday Judge Kanzier believed when he had obtained a promise of good behavior from the ringleaders among the youngsters involved, that he had settled the case. It seems, however, that the parents were dissatisfied and are pushing further.

Stories were circulated to the effect that one of the boys had been hung upside down over a bridge by another boy, but when pressed as to its truth the youngsters admitted such was not the case. Eddie Fisher, who is ten years old, had been called to have called one of the boys profane names and received a beating for it. Finally Kenneth and Randal were taken to the court house and the McCredie and Fisher cows out of pasture trying to rope them.

The irate women on October 12 went over to the schoolhouse to have the lads punished and Mrs. McCredie, alleged to have slapped Kenneth while Mrs. Fisher took Randal in hand and led them before the teacher. The boys, who are around 12 and 10 years of age, were playing on the steps and it is charged that the women were angry because Mrs. Bessie Turner and Hannah Manning made the complaint.

CHRISTENSEN OFF LIST

FARMER-LABOR NOMINEE IS NOT ON BALLOT.

Party Failed to File Name With Secretary in This State.

Parley P. Christensen, presidential candidate of the farmer-labor party, is the only presidential aspirant whose name does not appear on the Oregon ballot. All other candidates are on the ballot, but there is no farmer-labor ticket of presidential electors. The presumable reason for this oversight is that the farmer-labor party has no organization in the state and now that the ballot has been printed it is too late to rectify the omission. Names of presidential electors are filed with the secretary of state and through him are certified to the county clerks to be placed on the general election ballot. No one apparently has taken sufficient interest in the candidacy of Mr. Christensen to attend to this matter and therefore the names of presidential electors for the farmer-labor party in Oregon.

That there is some sentiment for Christensen in the state is evident from the straw votes which have been taken. From time to time, in straw votes, Christensen has received a few ballots, but these would be supporters will have to vote for some one else in the general election. The farmer-labor party was hurriedly organized and so far as Oregon is concerned the national organizers apparently forgot the existence of this state.

TARIFF IS DISCUSSED

McARTHUR TELLS REPUBLICAN VOTE NEED.

Protection of American Industry From Cheap Foreign Competition Asked.

In a campaign address at Mount Tabor school last night, Representative McArthur discussed the tariff question and urged his audience to do their part toward election of a Republican congress, in order that the protective tariff policy of the Republican party may find expression in legislation that will protect American labor and industry from cheap foreign competition.

"The tariff question is one of the important issues of the campaign," said Mr. McArthur. "With gradual return of normal conditions of production throughout the world, we are witnessing the spectacle of a flood of products of other countries at our ports and as a consequence depression in the market for home-grown products. The American people wish to maintain high standards of living and the tariff is the only way to do this unless congress writes upon the statute book legislation that will put a duty upon imports from foreign countries.

The republican party is committed to the protective tariff and democratic party is hostile to it. If America is to be rescued from the ruinous competition of cheap foreign products, it will be through the election of a republican president, a republican senate and a republican house.

Mr. McArthur also discussed other issues of the present campaign. He will continue to address voters in various sections of Multnomah county until the eve of election.
