WILL THE MOTOR COME To Hillsboro or will Hillsboro go to the Motor? NO LIVES WERE LOST IN THE FIRES Gratifying to This County --- A Runaway --- Another Exodus --- G. A. R. Post. The Motor Project. Some Portland parties are contemplating the building of a motor line between that city and Hillsboro. The company in question has secured the right-of-way to Cedar Mill and will at once extend the Barnes Heights electric line to that place. From there the line will be built to this city, provided any encouragement can be obtained from our business men. The idea, as near as can be ascertained, is to build here on the offering of a subsidy, which need not be paid until the line is completed. Just the amount asked is not known at present, but will be made public in a short time. Mr. W. F. Nelson, a prominent young contractor of Portland, was in the city the first of the week, looking over the situation, and will return in a few days with a definite proposition. The benefits to be accrued from the building of such a line are too manifold to detail. In the first place it will place a lower rate of passenger fares to and fro and this will work a benefit in more ways than one. Then a reduction in freight rates will follow. It will bring investors into the county, thereby cutting up some of our mammoth farms. There is room and productive capacity here for double the present population, and there can be no doubt as to what effect manifold transportation facilities will have in this regard. Unless the terms are entirely "out of reason" it will behoove the business men of the county to see the road built here, and its early consummation is eagerly looked for by all progressive people. Yellowstone Excursion. Under the management of Dr. Roland D. Grant, one of Portland's leading ministers, there will be an excursion party leave Portland on September 2nd, to visit the wonderland of America, the Yellowstone Park. The rate named will be the lowest ever issued on the coast, and here will be an opportunity for tourist travel which should not be missed by anyone desiring to see that delightful section. For full information write or inquire of Dr. Grant, Corner 11th and Taylor, or A. D. Charlton, Assistant General Passenger Agent, Portland, Ore. Will Soon Organize. Next month sometime the old soldiers of the Rebellion will organize a post in this city. They already have a membership of 41 and signed and it bids fair to be the largest G. A. R. organization on the west side. Doubtless many who affiliate with Forest Grove and Beaverton will come into this organization. ADDITIONAL LOCALS. Sheriff D. A. Osburn, of Corvallis, spent two or three days in this city the first of the week, enjoying the hospitalities of Sheriff Ford. Mr. Osburn has twice been elected on the democratic ticket to Benton county's shrievalty, and, strange to say, is a good democrat yet. His newly made friends here hope to soon again see his genial countenance down this way. Only one croquet set left, worth $1.25, now goes for $1.00. Sea Island, or crochet twine, all colors, large balls, only 5 cents each, at the Hillsboro Bazaar. Hair cutting, 25 cents; Shaving 10 cents, at the City Shaving Parlors. Miss Coressa Stratton, who has been in this city since last spring, left for her home on Willapa Harbor the first of the week, accompanied by Mrs. L. A. Long and two children, who will make that section a visit. Mr. and Mrs. Walter O'Neil are in the city, the guests of A. T. Phillips and wife. Mr. O'Neil is one of Prineville's prominent business men. The Sheriff of this county could annually spend more than his salary looking out for fugitives. There seems to be no provisions for such labor, the office being salaried at such a rate that this work is, in many instances paid out of the Sheriff's pocket. It would seem that the county should offer a reward, or hold out some inducement whereby this section could be relieved of the damnable robber gang that has infested its border for years.

injury to the wagon. If there is anything in the old adage "a bad beginning makes a good ending," certainly this couple should have an uneventful and happy life, for they were married but a few hours prior to the accident. They Caught Him. One Dell Cornell was arrested yesterday by the officers for the theft of a buggy from Corvallis last week. The Sheriff of Benton county had shadowed him for two or three days, and with the assistance of our officers he was nabbed and placed in the county jail. On being searched 23 keys were found on his person, besides two or three burnt 5 cent pieces, showing conclusively that he had been experimenting with the coin of the realm. In his vest pocket was found the plate, containing the name of the manufacturer of the vehicle, and upon searching the barn where he was stopping they recovered a set of harness which he had also purloined. He had put the top of the stolen rig on another vehicle, and made various changes. It is supposed that young Cornell is about 25 years of age. He has been under surveillance for many months, as he is suspected of being connected with the worst gang of thieves in this section. The evidence of his recent theft seems conclusive, and Sheriff Osburn is naturally well pleased with the capture. Another Exodus. This and last weeks have seen a considerable number of Washington county people depart for the coast's salt breeze, or the mountains' cooling shades. The fires, however, in the hills, have prevented much of an exodus to those favorite haunts, and in consequence Newport and Tillamook have received large reinforcements to their resorts. On Monday, two parties left this city for Netarts, one composed of Messrs. and Mesdames C. B. Brown and Max Crandall and Mr. Jas. Young, the other of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hare and son, and Mr. and Mrs. John Hay, of Portland. The trip will be made by team and a royal good time is anticipated. Thos. Stewart, accompanied by little Miss Ethel Wehrung, left for Newport the first of the week. Forest Fires. The fires in the mountain regions back of Forest Grove, Gales Creek and Greenville are somewhat abated, but not so until great damage has been done to homesteaders. Much valuable timber has been destroyed, and many little ranches have lost nearly the entire summer's work. It is reported that one man lost a large number of sheep, and another, some cattle, but the rumors generally lack confirmation. The report that lives have been lost has been contradicted. These annual fires in the dry season have been a great menace to the settlers in the timber, and while this is the only season to successfully burn slashing, it would appear that great care should be exercised. Once started the flames know no rest, devastating forests, fences, settler's cabins and buildings in a manner appalling to industry. The friends of Mr. and Mrs. North, who once lived in this city will be pleased to learn that they were taken out of the fire in safety. A Runaway. Last Thursday afternoon Mr. Martin Ginthart and wife started from this city for their home near Buxton. At a point near Greenville, Mr. Ginthart stopped to water his team, and inasmuch as one of the horses would not drink with the bridle bits in its mouth he removed them. The team from some cause then took fright and ran away, upsetting the vehicle, throwing Mrs. Ginthart out, somewhat

News comes from Glenwood that a man by name of Peterson, who has a ranch near that point, was found dead the other day on a side-hill near his cabin. It appears that he was well along in years, and that he had a son stopping with him, who left early in the morning to be gone the entire day. On returning in the evening the father was found dead. It is supposed that a tree or limb had fallen on him, but reports are so confused that nothing definite can be given. Deceased has a son-in-law at work at the Witch Hazel track, training horses.
