me Matters.

A CHANCE TO INVEST .- Business demanding our attention in the States immedistely, we will sell a half interest in the RESISTER to a competent man at a very low figure : or we will sell the entire office. The office is in good order, and one of the best arranged in the State, with a full sup- ent. to-wit : Mayor, N. B. Humphrey ; ply of job type, three presses, paper cutter, Councilmen, Baum, Gray, Harris, Mc Coy etc., and a very large supply of nearly new news type. The office has a good run of Engine Co. No. 2, asking for an appropriabusiness, which can be doubled in a short time. As our absence will necessarily ex- steamer for the Company, was received. tend over several months, we would prefer An ordinance, prepared in accordance with to sell at least a half interest. Parties de- the petition, was read first and second time siring to run a newspaper, now have a snd referred. A petition was received chance. Apply at once to this office.

A FIRST CLASS IDEA .- At the request of the U. S. Centennist Commission, we publicate to keep them from depredating upon lish below a suggestion that meets our their neighbors' gardens. An ordina approval fully, and suggest that our county to this effect was read first and second authorities take the matter under advise-

It seems proper that the local celebrations of the Fourth of July, 1876, which will be held throughout the land, should be made to contribute to a permanent historical memorial of the Centernial Celebration. In each county provision should be made for the delivery of an address tracing the history of that peculiar community for the past century, or from the time of its settlement, and including a sketch of its growth, its resources, industries, prospects, etc. These addresses should be published in a uniform size,—that of the Congressional documents, for instance,—in order that they may be bound together by States. To competent persons the preparation of such addresses would not be an unduly burdensome task; but in the aggregate they would constitute an invaluable historical repository such as no nation has ever had the opportunity to collect.

Designations of the historians ought to be made without delay, in order that they may have time to accomplish their work, It is to be hoped that the press will give general circulation to the project, and that each journal will see to its consummation in its own locality, and that the slight ex" pense involved be assumed by the county town authorities.

boat company recently organized, is to do business on the Willamette and tributaries and the lower Columbia. It is designated as "Willamette Transportation and Locks Company," and has a capital of one million dollars. The Directors are: J. C. Alneworth, R. B. Thompson, T. Wygant, B. Goldsmith and F. T. Dodge. J. C. Ainsworth is President, R. R. Thompson, Vice Presidet. The new Company own the locks at Oregon City, the farmers warehouse at Astoria, the water front lately purchased by the O. S. N. Co. at that place. the steamboats Willamette Chief, Gov. Grover, Champion, Beaver, Annie Stewart, Orient, and the barges, Autocrat, Columbia and Columbia's Chief. By this consolidation competition on the Willamette and lower Columbia rivers is practically played out, notwith-tanding the promises made by certain parties. The Canal & Locks Co. has thus consolidated with the O. S. N. Co., the oldest and most grinding menopoly in 3 Wm Clymer, the State, Next.

Good Monnings .- We speak more particularly of the late trosty mornings. They 27 Chas Levis are splendid for—lying in bed and resting.

The man was centered that its healthy to arise at 4 o clock these mornings, and rush around in the cold, with a long ickele langing from his nose, teeth thattering, and every now and then being compelled to jump up and down and slap his hands against his thighs to keep his blood from conjealing, is a-well, he's another. He can make his own by-laws; as for us, give us a little more kiver !

DISENCORPORATION .- A meeting of the stockholders in the Albany & Santiam Canal Co. is called, at which a proposition to districorporate the Company, settling its business, selling its property and dividing the proceeds among the shareholders, will be submitted. This is an important matter, and those interested will do well to remember the day and hour of the meeting, to-wit: Tuesday, February 15th, at I P. M. at the office of the Company in this BACK AGAIN .- G. W. Wilcox, homocopathic physician, has returned from Cali-fornia, and now occupies an office on First street with E. H. Griffin, over Dr. Lister's grocery store. As we informed our readers some weeks ago, the Dr. returns to stay, having taken a great liking to Albany.

Plenty of frost these mornings.

REDUCING EXPENSES .- Mr. James Elkins, who has been acting as Agent for the O. & C. Ballwood Company at this city for nearly a year past, has left the service of the Company for reasons that will appear upon reading the subjoined letter. Mr. Elkins was the first agent of the Company at the completion of the road to this city in 1871, and always gave the best of satisfaction, being energetic, courteous, reliable and prompt. The subjoined letter shows the appreciation in which he was held by the officers of the Company, and is a high compliment to the integrity and business ualifications of Mr. Elkins. Following is FINISHED AND PAID FOR. The bridge across the Santiam at Lebanon is completed and paid for, and is one of the staunchest and finest looking in the State. There was a balance due on the completion of the bridge, as was stated in these columns some weeks ago, ot nearly $700, which was made up and promptly paid over by Messrs. J. K. Charlton, Elkins Bros., J. L. Cowan, Montague & McCally, A. Saltmarsh, S. T. Miller, Joe Nixon, Wm. Foren, A. Greggs, J. Settle and Charles Raiston. Velly good. The business men of Lebanon go back on nothing they undertake.

Robertson; Secretary, J. F. McCoy; Treasurer, L. E. Blain; Librarian, S. E. Young ; Assistants, J. T. Tate, R. A. Foster. Teachers: R. M. Robertson, L. E. Blain, D. D. Gray, J. F. Mc-Coy, Mrs. J. H. A GOOD WORKMAN,-The Titus Bros have been so fortunate as to secure the services of Mr. F W. Wolcks, a first class watch-maker and jeweler, late of Portland, who will bereafter aid in repairing, cleaning and manufacturing watches, jewelry, etc., at their place on First street. Mr. Wolcka has a splendid reputation as a workman, and is ready to execute the most intricate job in his line, at short notice. He is now engaged in manufacturing a miniature clock, about the size of a watch, which will be a beauty when finished. If you want to see handsome jewelry and lots of it, call at Titus Bros.

NECK BROKEN.-During Geo. Knox's temporary absence at his brother's, Ellis Knox, some half a mile from George's, who lives at Knox Butte, some one came to his barn and purloined five sacks of oats. The thief, it is supposed, frightened one of George's horses which stood in the barn, and the animal in its terro.; attempting to get loose from the rope fastening it in the stall, broke its neck.

ROUGH TRIP .- Mr. F. S. Crosby and wife reached this city last week from Yaquina Bay. Mr. Crosby was seven days making the trip, and says the roads are almost impassable. Mr. C., who had charge of the lighthouse at the Bay for a long period, has been transferred to the lighthouse at Coos Bay. As the emoluments are greater, we congratulate friend C. on his good luck.

RECEIVED. - Miss Bolds and Mrs. Enos. at their establishment on Broadalbin street. are agents for Dr. Warner's Sanitary Corset-a combination of corset, skirt-supporter and self-adjusting pads-a supply of which they have just received. This is an elegant garment, and we have no doubt there will be a rush to secure them by their lady patrons.

DONT FAIL TO BE THERE .- We are requested to say that there will be a meeting of the members of the Committee on Eutertainment of Linn Engine Co. No. 2, at Dr. Geo. W. Gray's office, on Monday evening next, to complete the details of the entertainment to be given by the Company on the 22d of February. It is specially requested that every member be present without fail.

EDUCATIONAL MONTHLY.-This new candidate for popular favor has been received. It is published at Salem by W. P. Keady, under the editorial management of Prof. J. L. Gregg. It is neatly printed and filled with entertaining matter. Will doubtless prove an entertaining visitor to those interested on the subject of education.

The stockholders in Linn Engine Company adopted a set of by-laws, Monday night, for the government of the Directors, A seal has been ordered and the Board will soon be in readiness to do business on the "dead thieving square." The first business transacted, probably, will be to order the Secretary to collect the stock subscription. G'lang.

MUTATION .- James Elkins, Esq., so long agent for the O. & C. Railroad at this city, has resigned. Mr. Wm. B. Rice, Assistant Superintedent Telegraph Operator for the Co. will attend to the duties heretofore performed by Mr. Elkins. Although this increases Billy's labors largely, it shows that the Company has great con fidence in his ability to do it satisfactorily and acceptably. 'Ror for Billy.

And now who doubts that Oregon is the greatest State in the Union! A cotemporary says that during July Oregon had torty clear days and one cloudy! Who wouldn't desire to come to a country that has fortyone days to the month, and all of them fair but one? Beautiful, grand, g'lorious Web-

LEAP YEAR BALL.-The Leap year ball at Harrisburg on Monday night was a gay occasion. The married ladies had charge of the affair, and of course is was a successthe most brilliant and satisfactory party, said our informant, the Harrisburgians ever took part in.

ing a Young Men's Christian Association. Our neighbor the Guard, thinks this office needs a head; well perhaps it does—but there is not enough of that office to attach a head to, unless the outside of a sausage could be thus built on.—State Journal.

Ah boys, boys, cease your conduct.

REMOVALS .- Mrs. Stevens has purchased the stock of Mrs. C. C. English, and will move into the store at present occupied by her, on First street, adjoining A. Carothers & Co., the first of next month. Mrs. S. has given such general satisfaction, that her business is constantly enlarging, demauding her removal.

In this city, on the night of the 12th inst., John Froman, brother of ex-Mayor David Froman of this city, aged 80 years. Deceased has been gradually failing for some time, his principle trouble probably being asthma. At the hands of Mrs. David Froman, one of the kindest and best of nurses, he received every attention and care, and his pathway to the tomb was made as smooth and comfortable as warm hearts and tender care could make it. Deceased was buried at three o'clock yesterday, Rev. J. Bowersox officiating.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE. THURSDAY, Jan. 13, 1876, Gold in New York, 113.

Greenbacks, 88@89. Wheat quoted at 821/2c per bushel in this Trade during the week has been light. The market is almost entirely bare of hams, acon and lard. Butter is quoted at 371/2 @40c per pound; eggs, 3714c per dozen.

We have no late Liverpool quotations, and therefore do not know whether the advance in the price of wheat in that market, expected upon the ushering in of the new year, have been realized or not. A London telegram of the 10th says : The Mark Lane Express' weekly review of the grain trade, says that in the Paris market, reports of the reappearance of frost arrested the down-ward tendency of prices, but trade is stagnant, while in several provincial markets quotations are one shilling lower. Some places in Holland, Belgium and Germany have been in sympathy, but nowhere has there been such material reduction as to cause discontent of growers with present rates. St. Petersburgh is unchanged and Odessa closed so shipments from both places must cease for some time. In Adellaide, Australia, whence we were recently led to expect large shipments, prices have suddenly risen five shillings per quarter, and there is great difficulty in so wholesale qualities. San Francisco dates to the 12th give wheat at $1 8031 85 shipping, and $1 90 $1 92½ milling. Oats, general range $3

ON THE WING. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal. MR. EDITOR :- I wrote you last from Phoning, Jackson county Oregon. Christmas eve, after enjoying my turkey, I packed and lashed my trunk preparatory to a fresh start on my journey South. About six o'clock the stage hove in sight, looking as picturesque as the Willamett Chief. Approaching the driver I anxiously inquired "have you a load?" my beart beating terrifically all the while for fear of an affirmative answer. But to my great relief the answer was in the negative, and I was soon occupying a seat in the stage. Having a good pilot and a fair night for traveling we launched out into the sea of mud. We made the first station without mishap, where we added on two more horses, for we were nearing California, and it requires a full team to get across the foot of the mountain, the early morning light giving us a final glimpse of dear old Webloot. The rain soon commenced pouring down in torrents, and any amount of California soil found its way down to some lower region. Here is the most forsaken country I ever saw. Mud three feet deep and water in proportion, and all were fearful we would be weather-bound. It rained more in one day in California than I ever saw in three days in Orggon. The rain helped us, you know, almost driving our "scow" before it, especially going down "hill, carrying everything before it. But we landed on to Yreka, through one of the most disagreeable days of my experience, being Sunday evening. I was anxious to see the grand old town, for I tented here on the present town site, twenty-four years Bishop Morris held Episcopal services at ago. I thought it one of the most desert-the Congregational Church Monday evengetting, you know, that it was Sunday, and expecting too see everything in full blast as they were years agone. But one of the citizens informed us that now "business" was done on week days, and respect was had for the Sabbath. Now Yreka has 1,500 inhabitants, but the town certainly has a downward tendency look now. However, our landlord was a fine fellow, gave us plenty to eat and drink-we mean tes and coffee, in the drinking line, of course, as our crowd were all Good Templars, and drink only in cases of necessity-and we soon forgot our troubles. Here we laid over till six o'clock the next morning, when we were provided with another mud scow similar to the one we had been favored with, only smaller, called a 11-passenger. Eight passengers crowd into the space of seven feet! Shovels and axes are tled on to the stage, and when inquiry was made, passengers are told they must use them to dig out with when mired down in the mud. I have traveled a great deal but never saw worse stage accommodations or roads. This is one of the great drawbacks to emigration to Oregon, and will be until it is bridged over by a railway. It is true there is a better and more convenient route afforded by old ocean, but nearly or quite three-fourths of mankind will not trust th treacherous waters if they can help them-Getting out of change at Redding, the next stopping place, I tried to get a greenback changed. A man who has greenbacks can always find friends. I was no exception to this rule. A friend offered to show me where I could get the change, and even took me by the hand to keep me, doubtless, from fulling into some pitfall, and safely conveyed me to a place where I could be accommodated with coin for my greenback. My friend even went so far as to receive the coin from the bar-keeper and count it into my haud, and take the greenback from my hand and place it in the keeping of the bar-keeper. Of course I was thankful for these little civilities, and bowed myself out, not wishing to trespass on his valuable time further. But he followed me, and remarked, "see here, loan me some of that money." I kindly refused, didn't bave it to spare, and informed him, as I was a temperance man and perhaps not so liable to tall in the darkness, that I would not trouble him tarther for his company, and asked him to remain where he was a few moments until I could get away in good shape. He seemed to take the hint, and so I rid myself of him. Redding, California, is a most desolate and sleep none, for everything costs doub-

place, and I think the traveler would do well to have an eye on his pocket-book. le that of any other place on the route, with less accommodations. We slept two hours at this point, starting at one o'clock. Here we take the railroad. Traveling in the night, of course one can not see much of the country. At the approach of daylight we had a fine view of the Sacramento valley. The day being clear added to the beauty of the scene, and as we bowled along over the iron track, we feasted our eyes on California scenery-the most lovely in the world. Farmers were everywhere busy, and I counted ten gang plows plowing in the field. Wheat here now looks as it does in Oregon in April. As we approached Oakland, we find a most magnificent

We are now in San Francisco, This own surprises us, as we have been lost everal times already, but succeeded in finding our way without great difficulty. When P light out of this magnificent town and Into Quincy, Illinois, you will hear from me again. I will therefore once more say farewell to all enquiring friends. A. B. MORRIS.
