TOWN AND COUNTY MATTERS.

The New Mountain Road.

The new wagon road constructed from Lebanon in this county across the Cascade range to Canyon City is proved to be a success without any doubt or cavil. Bands of cattle, horsemen, pack trains, and light teams, have frequently passed over it during the summer, but lately emigrant trains and heavy freight teams have successfully traveled it. During the week there have arrived in the county by this two large emigrant wagons, and two heavy freight wagons, which came all the way from Boise, via Canyon City. A party of miners also arrived in from Canyon City on horseback, having been only four days in making the journey! All these parties speak in high commendation of the road, and the miners assert that it is the best mountain road they have traveled. To show the contrast between this route to or from Canyon City, in point of time, we will state that while a party of three—Messrs. N. A. Townsend, J. H. Chapman, and Frank Vleet—were twelve days in reaching this county from Canyon City, by way of the Dalles, another party, of four, were in Lebanon on the night of the fourth day's travel, over the new road, from Canyon City. The road is a success. Now, let our county people use their influence and exert themselves in every practicable way to have the road built. Every town and every farmer in the county will partake of the benefit to flow from the opening of this route to the very heart of the rich mining regions east of the mountains. Money expended to improve and keep it in repair is like unto bread cast upon the waters.

THE RACES.—The racing over Boston Course going on daily we hear. So far we have received no more than the report of the sport on Thursday. There were three entries for the single mile dash for $100 purse and $50 each entrance money added, viz: S. G. Thompson's Ridenham filly; Mr. Loper's grey mare, and Moore's horse. The race and money were won easily by Thompson's filly in 1:51, she landing winner about forty yards ahead of Loper's mare, which came in second. Fine sport it is expected this afternoon.

EXPRESS TO CANYON CITY.—An Express will start this morning from this place for Canyon City, over the new mountain road from Lebanon. Information concerning it can be obtained from Mr. D. Bridge, who proposes to make the trip himself.

CHECKS CASHED.—The Fall term of the Circuit Court for Linn County, Hon. H. P. Boie presiding, commenced on Monday evening. The docket is larger than usual, and there will be added some criminal cases it is likely.

THE WEATHER.—Not a drop of rain in two weeks; but very foggy mornings, with clear, sunny, warm afternoons, and pleasant nights generally. There has been only one day's rain this month.

THE WEALTH OF LINN.—Assessor Riggs has not completed his assessment roll of this county, but his figures show a property valuation of nearly two and a half millions.

NOTICES OF ADVERTISERS.

ANOTHER NEW STORE.—Kohns & Brothers have opened a new general-merchandise store in the new store brick opposite the saddle shop of Thompson & Paxton, on First (the main) street, and offer great inducements to customers. Theirs is a fine store, handsomely fitted up, and full stocked with every description of the best and latest styles of dry goods, ladies' dress and fancy goods, gentlemen's clothing and furnishings, youths' and children's clothing, hats, caps, bonnets, ladies' hats, garters, boots, shoes, slippers, groceries, provisions, hardware, glassware and crockery, carpets, oil-cloths, oils, paints, agricultural implements, and, in short, every conceivable article needed in this community. They sell at the lowest rates, and offer great bargains. Persons having produce to sell will find at their store a ready sale at the highest prices. Read their advertisement in another column, and give them a visit at their fine new store.

FURNITURE.—Again Upton has been replenishing his Furniture Warehouse with a large and a lot of selected stock of just the kind of ware adapted to this market. He has the only complete establishment of the kind we know of in town, and sells at very little above first cost prices. Among his new stock are several patterns of high chairs for children, infants' low chairs, large, medium and small rockers, and all the latest styles of good beds, stoves, chairs, tables, bureaus, toilet stands, wash tubs, and so on. Another thing which every family ought to have in the house Upton has a tip-top washing machine—the "Struck-10-0-lane" patent. But go to his warehouse, on the corner opposite Schlegel's old store, and examine for yourselves his good wares. You will like his stock, and be satisfied with his prices.

ANOTHER BIG SLUR.—Ex-Vice President Hamlin seems determined that himself and family and connections shall have a big share of the Government loaf. He has not a son, nephew, or any of his kin or kith, capable of holding office, who is not in possession of a lucrative Federal position, and now he comes in himself for the fattest share of all. He belongs in Maine; yet he is given the Col. leadership of Boston. If it was given to him on the score that no Massachusetts Abolitionist was honest enough to fill the place, perhaps it was well enough to appoint him. But he certainly seems to require extraordinary inducements to keep alive his loyalty.

SCENERY.—Buttman, the accomplished landscape painter, has returned from a tour up the Columbia, and is at Portland, with a number of fine sketches of grand scenery from which to paint. He says Oregon presents finer and grander scenes for the painter than California. He has several views of Mount Hood in his collection.

VICTORIA TRADE.—The steamer Active is regularly running between Portland and Victoria. The Portland and San Francisco steamers have been off from the Victoria trade, and make direct trips between the two ports.

NEGRO COLONIZATION.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican, one of the most influential Abolition organs in the country, says:

We are glad to admit the facts upon which the Springfield Republican bases its argument for the colonization of the white and black races. The facts are neither pleasant nor creditable to white Americans, but they are not to be ignored—that account.

Our readers will remember the plan proposed by Gen. Cox. We printed his letter containing it last week. It is that the negroes shall be colonized "in contiguous territory in South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Florida, under the sovereignty of the United States, and with all the facilities which the power and wealth of the Government can give," with "full and exclusive political privileges."

This is the plan the Republican virtually approves. It is in violent contravention of the Constitution, which denies to the General Government the power or right to take any such "contiguous territory" from within any of the States; yet the most respectable Abolition organ in New England favors the project. To give them "full and exclusive privileges" would be to allow them a Delegate in Congress, and who else but a black man would a colony or territory of negroes send?

But what is the evil Gen. Cox and the Republican would escape, and how is his plan to remedy it? He argues that it is fatal or at least most injurious to the interests and welfare of both the whites and negroes for the two races to live in the same community together—hence he would separate them. How? By compelling the negroes to remove from among the whites at the North, where they prefer to reside, and where the Abolitionists have professed such great regard for them, to a territory South, where they are to be kept entirely aloof from the whites, and permitted only to live by themselves as a distinctive people. This is "freedom for the down trodden negro" with a vengeance. He is to be free, but must depart from where he wishes to dwell, and remain where he does not want to live! No other than Abolition logicians and Puritan humanitarians could ever devise such an argument, or insist upon such conclusions.

The North makes war upon the South for depriving the negro of his "perfect freedom"; it insists that he shall be invested with every right and privilege of freemen; it declares that he is "a man and a brother"; yet, when the war is over, and they who assert all these things are successful; when they have marched and lured and driven thousands of negroes from contented abodes in the South to places in the North—they turn about, declare that the two races cannot harmoniously, or beneficially to either, live together, and coolly say to the unhappy victim of their "kind consideration," that he must go South to the spot they have selected for him—not which he has selected for himself—and there end his days.

And in addition to the outrage they thus perpetrate towards the negroes, they thus inflict a far greater one upon the people of the South. They have no more right to seize upon and appropriate "contiguous territory" in the States named than they have to do the same thing from out of any States in the North. Indeed, if this is to be done, it is from the Northern States—New England especially—the "contiguous territory" should be appropriated. In that section they have always professed the liveliest interest for the welfare, culture and happiness of the black race. They have done this, to force the blacks upon them again. It was the demand of the North against the protestations of the South, which took from the latter the right of having its own act, and hereafter keep the negroes, and assure to them the "perfect freedom" it promised them. To compel them to return to the South on particular territory is an outrage; to compel the people of the South to receive them, and to strip their States of the territory upon which to place them, is doubly an outrage. But the Abolitionists, in this plan, reveal something of their Punie faith even with their black allies, and illustrate the little regard they have for constitutional or other obligations, for justice, reason or humanity, when self-interest inspires them.

THE CASE HERE.—The Chairman of the Ohio State Abolition Committee lately declared that "Negro Suffrage was to follow the Constitutional Amendment." This is precisely the real intention of the party in Oregon, but they will attempt to conceal or deny the fact until after the next June election, all their protestations to the contrary notwithstanding.

KOOTENAI.—Late arrivals from Kootenai report that that mining region is almost deserted. The mines pay well generally, but the system of government taxation is so oppressive as to drive away the miners.

UMATELLA TO BOISE.—Freighters charge eleven cents per pound on freights from Umatilla to Boise Basin.

THE VACANCY IN LINN.

We do not attribute to Gov. Gibbs a deliberate intention to commit wrong in the case of the vacancy in the State Senate by reason of the removal of Dr. Ballard, one of the Senators from this county, from the State; but we do think that before issuing his order for elections in the several counties to fill vacancies in the Legislature, he ought to have taken good care to provide for every vacancy. He has called elections in the counties of Polk, Yamhill, Clackamas and Grant. There is a vacancy also in Linn County. Dr. Ballard, the State Senator from this county, sold out his whole business, property, stock, and everything he could dispose of, and left the State some months ago. We have it from a gentleman who had business transactions with Dr. Ballard, that the latter told him on the eve of his departure that his purpose was to return to Oregon no more, that he intended to take up his abode in the East. From other sources we gather facts to the same conclusion, and it is not therefore a matter of uncertainty or doubt that Dr. Ballard has relinquished not only his Senatorial seat, but his citizenship in Oregon.

There is yet ample time for Gov. Gibbs to call an election in Linn county to fill this vacancy in her Senatorial representation, and we look for him to do so. His failure to do so up to this time may be overlooked, on the score of want of authentic information as to Dr. Ballard's purpose to quit Oregon. But he can get ample testimony from among those who lived neighbors to Dr. Ballard, and to whom he expressed his decided intention to abandon his residence in this State. It is his duty to investigate the matter, and on ascertaining the fact that that gentleman has ceased his residence here, to order an election to fill the vacancy thereby occasioned in the State Senate. The people of Linn county will eagerly await the Governor's action in this instance, and they expect him to faithfully perform his duty. If he does not, it will be to order an election, our citizens will not be slow in manifesting their indignation at the wrong put upon them.

THE WAR OF THE ABOLITION TITANS.
 The feud long entertained between the Titans of the Abolition party has at length broken forth in a bitter war, and we find arrayed against each other—the Blair and Seward, Stanton and Holt; Thurlow Weed and Horace Greeley, Simon Cameron and Congressman Kelly of Pennsylvania, and last, though not least, Chief Justice Chase and Wendell Phillips and President Johnson, in a sort of triangular fight. The speech of Gen. Frank P. Blair, which we printed some weeks ago, and that of Montgomery C. Blair, which we print on the first page of this issue, tell the acrimony of the war waged by them against Seward, Stanton and Holt, and the organs of these men are equally bitter against the Blairs. It is singular, too, that in this war of words, the Blairs lose no opportunity to express their entire confidence in President Johnson, and to applaud his course, while they most virulently assail his two chief Cabinet officers.

The war between Weed and Greeley is conducted through the medium of the New York Times and Tribune. In their exchanges each strive to show the world the selfishness, the corruption, the downright infamy of the other. They are certainly accomplishing, not only against each other, but against themselves, all that either seems to expect to do, before the people.

Between Simon Cameron and Kelly the readers of their respective assaults must be lost in amazement how such self-convicted demagogues and great knaves could have so readily attained and successfully held the power wielded by them.

The war between the Chief Justice, Wendell Phillips and President Johnson, is no less damaging or wicked, but it is conducted with less apparent vehemence than that between the others.

That these feuds and warring wars have the effect to create fearful dissension among the admirers and adherents of the various antagonists in the ensuing Congress, and that they will end in the disruption and ruin of the Abolition party, there can be no doubt. Then, as Pharaoh says of the Romans in the days when corruption ran its mad riot in the Imperial City, the people of this country will have "one consolation amidst their misfortunes—that they needed no other revenge upon the authors of them, than to see them destroy each other."

DOCTORS DEAGRE.—We copy the following from an Eastern paper of a late date: "A despatch from St. Paul, Minnesota, informs us that, in the Republican State Convention, in session in that city on Tuesday, a platform of the most ultra radical type was adopted; after which, the telegram says: 'A resolution, approving President Johnson's military and civil course, was voted down.' The Abolitionists seem to be puzzled as to regard President Johnson. In New England, Iowa and Minnesota, they reprobate him. In other States East they don't seem to know whether to accept him or not; but in Oregon they profess to receive him with open arms and to endorse his policy. It is singular what "perfect harmony" exists in the Abolition ranks."

Has the State relapsed into Abolitionism again? How is that James? "Statesman."
 Well, no, James; nor is there the slightest danger that it will. Your party is now enjoying its last triumph in Oregon—let it make the most of it. Next June will tell the story. Call again, James.

THE PLOWMAN.—The Review says Mr. E. M. Waits will positively commence the publication of the Plowman on the 1st of January ensuing.

MORE TROOPS.

On Thursday last week 500 troops just from the East, arrived at Fort Vancouver, to be stationed in the various posts in this military department. A few days before 300 other troops were landed at Astoria, and it is said more are yet to arrive. The Indians might be kept in pretty good subjection hereafter in the country east of the mountains, with all these troops, besides the Oregon and Washington Territory volunteers, to attend to them.

OPPOSITION STATEMENT.—The New Company organized for the purpose of putting on a line of opposition steamers between Portland and the highest navigable point on the Willamette, have completed their organization, and have their new and fine steamers all quite ready for running. They will be liberally patronized by the people of this Valley generally, who have been too long and intolerably freed by the old monopoly line.

ORIGIN COMING.—We learn that about 700 girls, from the ages of ten to—we dare not say the other figure,—all from Massachusetts, most of them orphans of soldiers killed in the war, are expected to arrive in Portland in a few days. They have been sent here for the purpose of having homes or employment provided for them. Massachusetts is glutted with women.

MIXING IN JACKSON COUNTY.—The Sentinel says a new quartz mill has been put in operation in this county, and ample work for ten stamps is promised. The rock crushed paid $23 per ton, and other rock will yield about $35. There are many profitable lodes in Jackson and Josephine counties.

INDIAN DEPRIVATIONS.—The Oregonian says the Indians have again run off nearly all the stock and destroyed the stage stations on the Boise-Chico route. The route will stop with horses until next year, when the coaches will again be put on.
