OFFICIAL PAPER FOR BENTON COUNTY

DEAD.

The president is dead. These four words flashed over the nation last Monday night and came upon the people like the low, sad wail of a broken heart...

Twice in our short life time, less than a third of a century, have we stood in the shadow of our country's grief as it mourned over the yawning grave of its chief magistrate...

ANOTHER MISREPRESENTATION.

The Oregonian quotes from the Silverton Appeal the following: The Corvallis Gazette wants the people of Marion county to give something to the Yaquina railroad...

The above is false and does not contain a word of truth. The Corvallis Gazette under its present management, which began about the first of last May, has never asked the people of Marion county...

We have however, not long since, suggested that the people of the valley counties contribute a small sum each, amounting to about two or three dollars apiece to be used by the government engineers at Yaquina Bay...

The Oregonian however in her anxiety to give every improvement a kick that is not controlled by her monopoly, is excusable for quoting those lines (when she knew that they misrepresented us) because she has been much demoralized for some time over the fact that the water is drying up in the Willamette river...

The Chattanooga Commercial says: A real estate operation worth mention was the sale in New York last week of 40,000 acres of woodland, situated in the mountains of Georgia...

NEGLECT OF DUTY FOR WHICH THE PEOPLE MUST PAY.

Mr. Justice Wrenn in his reply to an editorial of the GAZETTE in relation to tax payers, says in substance that about the 15th of February the editor of the GAZETTE caused a warrant to be issued for a defendant against the advice of the Dept's Dist. Atty's...

Second, Mr. Yantis, who was the attorney who procured the warrant referred to, was not justice of the peace, but simply an attorney, who, biased by the story of his client, prepared and submitted the affidavit for arrest, and Mr. Wrenn himself issued the warrant.

But we are not at this time, nor were we at the time the leader referred to was written, intending to throw blame on Justice Wrenn, for after an experience of several years at the Corvallis bar, we must say that Mr. W. has used as good, and we think generally much better judgment than his predecessors in the matter of issuing warrants in these cases...

In calling attention to the case of which Mr. Wrenn refers to in his letter, we did not mean to cast any reflections upon Justice Wrenn any further than to furnish an illustration, because we are well satisfied that Mr. Wrenn has been fully as careful, if not more so, than most justices are in issuing warrants...

The justice shall take depositions of any witnesses which the complaining party may produce until he is satisfied that a crime has been committed and that the party accused is the guilty party before he issues a warrant, the statute means that such justice shall take such depositions before he issues the warrant for the parties arrest...

Four years ago there was but one Republican Senator in Kentucky. This year we have nine. There is no mistake about it, republicanism is growing in this state as surely as figures won't lie.—Danville, Ky., Tribune.

Mrs. M. V. Brown has received the sum of $2000, which became due her by the death of her husband who was a member of Willamette Lodge No. 5 A. O. U. W. the lodge has been very prompt in making this payment...

THE CONTINUATION OF THE GOVERNMENT WORKS AT YAQUINA BAY.

The result of the mass meeting of citizens held at this place last Saturday is that several parties are now actively engaged in interviewing the people for the purpose of obtaining subscriptions to be used in continuing the government works at Yaquina bay harbor after the present appropriation is exhausted...

With this appropriation a nice start has been made in the improvement of this harbor, and all the appliances necessary to work with in completing this harbor improvement have been purchased with part of the money, and are all there on hand...

On the other hand, if the people neglect this important step at this time and the elements during the coming winter wash away and destroy all of the unprotected work which has been placed there by means of the present appropriation, the next congress will undoubtedly be very reluctant to make another appropriation for this purpose.

WIND WASTED.

The Oregonian has lately put forth two or three labored and lengthy editorials to convince the people that the farmers of the country have to pay for all the trouble and extra expense of conveying their produce to the sea board by way of Portland, occasioned by the fact that the Willamette river is not of sufficient depth at several places below Portland to admit of large seagoing vessels...

What the people of this valley and eastern Oregon, in this regard, most need is a line of transportation to the sea board upon which they can place their produce for shipment and not have to handle or remove it until it arrives at the ocean beach...

The court of Umatilla county purchased a poor farm for county purposes.

TELEGRAMS.

St. Catherine, Sept. 17.—The new Well and canal is now opened, and the American steamer L. M. Dickerson has been towed through.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Forest fires about 37 miles south of city are destroying dwellings and barns.

Carthage, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Forest fires are spreading rapidly in this vicinity. Crops, stock and many buildings have been burned. Twenty houses in an Irish settlement have been destroyed since Thursday night.

Washington, N. J., Sept. 18.—The Star Parlor Organ Co's and Beatty's immense organ factories were burned today; loss estimated at $200,000, partially insured.

New York, Sept. 18.—Michigan fire relief fund subscriptions to-day amount to $44,230.

Cleveland, Sept. 17.—Contributions to Michigan sufferers, $10,000, besides a heavy amount of clothing, etc.

New York, Sept. 17.—The Jeffersonian democracy of the state will issue a call for a state convention in this city October 10th.

Duluth, Sept. 17.—There was a violent storm here to-day, which has done some damage to property.

Washington, Sept. 17.—District Attorney Corhill has severely criticized for having dismissed the grand jury until October 2d, while star route cases were awaiting consideration.

Columbus, Sept. 18.—The following is published today:

Columbus, Sept. 17.

Geo. K. Nash, Chairman of the Republican State Executive Committee: Dear Sir—During the week a long list of appointments for the able and distinguished speakers of Republican party have been announced for Ohio, beginning the 20th inst.

The democratic committee has been ready to open the speaking of the campaign, but in consideration of the condition of the critical illness of the president we have thought that patriotism and sorrow in the presence of that awful calamity to our country demanded that we should be silent.

The tidings each day from the great sufferer grows gloomier, and indicate that death alone will end the tragedy. In view of the fact that we do not feel like opposing the president, we are willing to avoid all discussion that will lead to bitterness, and out of respect to the president, this being his native state, if you will consent to the appointment of a meeting, we will announce any meeting, and you will withdraw your appointment. However, if you do not care to do it, our sense of duty compels us to say that we are willing to avoid all discussion that will lead to bitterness, and out of respect to the president, this being his native state, if you will consent to the appointment of a meeting, we will announce any meeting, and you will withdraw your appointment.

Yours respectfully, CLARK IRVINE, Chairman, Geo. E. Key, Secretary.

THE REPLY.

Columbus, O., Sept. 17.

Mr. Clark Irvine, Chairman of the Democratic State Executive Committee: Dear Sir—Your favor of this day is received. In reply I will say that this committee before we announced the campaign for the 17th inst. (not the 20th, as stated in your letter), determined that a fair, honest and candid presentation of the principles of the republican party would be neither improper nor unpatriotic. Those principles President Garfield loved and advocated with all his great power.

From his lifelong and magnificent record we know that his triumph was for the people, and for by him. Whether by the will of Providence President Garfield lives or dies, his sacred duty obliges republicans to use all proper means to maintain his principles. President Garfield, when a soldier for the union, never faltered because eminent and useful countrymen fell upon the field of battle. If Garfield's voice could be heard, he would bid his old comrades not to abandon those principles because he suffers. In contesting for his own and their principles, republicans will follow his example and receive the same commendation for their efforts at this time to advocate the principles which the president always believed to be injurious to the country, is a question for your committee to determine for or against.

Let me assure you that no one can feel greater sorrow over the critical condition of President Garfield than those who stood by him and vindicated his honor and good name from all attacks on his part.

Very respectfully, Geo. K. NASH, Chairman Republican State Ex. Com.

New York, Sept. 18.—Parnell's new programme is a desperate bid for the continuance of agitation. Fearing the defection of the tenantry, he appeals to laborers to follow him in a wider socialistic campaign, which he incites to the tenantry by the promise that he will abolish landlordism. He declares his intention to lead laborers if the tenantry fall into the real object of the League is to secure legislative independence for the people and peace and prosperity. This object is forced on the league by the action of American societies. Happily it is a natural tendency of these movements to shrink in proportion to their extravagance. League excesses have already received Parnell's parliamentary following, while the land act has shaken his head on the tenantry. Disturbances already declared against him, Parnell's appeal to the laborers is a last resort. The scene created by the League at the exhibition meeting Wednesday shows notwithstanding the fact that the League voted it, they have no desire to show the industrial prosperity of Ireland.

The country continues very unsettled. The system of intimidation continues in force and serious outrages on property are continually reported. There is a very big feud between the police and the people. One of the latter was set upon and murdered by a mob in Dublin, Thursday night, when assisting in the arrest of a drunken fiend.

The agitation for land reform is spreading in Scotland. The Aberdeen share farmers are refusing to pay rent unless it is reduced. Threatening notes have been sent in Ross-shire to farmers who pay full rent.

London, Sept. 18.—The most serious event of the day is the immense interruption to cotton trade caused by the corner and the combination of millions to break it down. Tens of thousands of hands have already been thrown out of employment.

Elberon, Sept. 19.—11:20 P. M.—McVeagh just came to Elberon hotel from Francklyn cottage and said: "I sent my dispatch to Mr. Lowell at 2 P. M. Shrewsbury and found his pulse 106, and all conditions promising a quiet night. The Dr. asked the president if he was feeling uncomfortable. 'Not at all,' and shortly afterwards fell asleep, and Dr. Bliss returned to his room across the hall from that occupied by the president. Col. Swain and Col. Rockwell arrived with the president.

About fifteen minutes after 10 P. M. the president awakened and remarked to Col. Swain that he was suffering great pain and that he had over his heart. Bliss was summoned and when he entered the room found the president substantially without pulse, and the action of the heart was almost instantaneous. He stayed at once that the president was dying and directed Mrs. Garfield to be called. The president remained in a dying condition until 10:35, when he was pronounced dead. A diagnosis of some trouble of the heart, supposed to be neuralgia; but that, of course, is uncertain. I notified Gen. Arthur and sent a dispatch to Messrs. Blaine and Lincoln."

Long Branch, Sept. 20—12:20 A. M.—Attorney General McVeagh has just sent the following to Vice President Arthur: "It becomes our painful duty to inform you of the death of President Garfield, and to advise of taking the oath of office as president of the United States without delay. If it occurs with your judgment, will be very glad if you will come here on the earliest train to-morrow morning."

W. H. HUNT, Sec'y of Navy. WM. WINDOM, Sec'y of Treasury. THOS. L. JAMES, Postmaster Gen'l. WAYNE MACVEAGH, Atty Gen'l. J. J. KIRKWOOD, Sec'y of Int'r.

New York, Sept. 19.—A telegram extra says that at the president's bedside, holding his poor emaciated hand in her own and watching with anguish unutterable the fast vanishing sands of life, at his faithful and devoted wife. During the closing hours of the president's career around him were other weeping friends, and physicians lamenting their powerlessness in the presence of the angel of death. Toward the last the mind of the sufferer wandered. He was once more back at Mentor and those scenes which were the happiest hours of his life were present. He sat in the dear old homestead again with his loved ones around him, his aged mother, so proud of her big boy, his faithful wife and beloved children. It was a blissful dream that robbed death of its terrors and rendered the dying man for the moment unconscious of the cruel rending of the once vigorous frame that was constantly going on. The moans of the restless ocean mingled with the sobs of loved ones in the damp of life flickered and went out forever. Nearly every one around the president clung to hope to the last and refused to believe the approach of death until the shadow deepened and the destroyer's presence could be no longer denied. Flags flying at half mast, and resolutions were passed affirming the principles of the land league, and pledging those present to continue the present movement till the land league are abolished.

San Francisco, Sept. 18.—The fire in Marion county is spreading with increased rapidity and has burned over the Truckee ranch north of 16,000 acres. If the fire extends over Mount Tamalpais there is danger to stop it till the ocean is reached by a distance of 15 miles of heavy timbered country. But few houses have been destroyed so far. So far 60,000 acres have been burned over, a large part of which are valuable timber lands.

London, Sept. 19.—At a land meeting Sunday at Clonakilly, county Cork, 10,000 persons were present and resolutions were passed affirming the principles of the land league, and pledging those present to continue the present movement till the land league are abolished.
