FOR SALE!

A DESIRABLE FARM
Situated two miles above Mehama, Marion county, Or., and three miles from the line of the Oregon Pacific railroad.

—THIS PLACE—
Consists of 452 acres of both hill and level land, containing rich, black soil for meadow purposes. There are about 200 acres that are covered mostly by small underbrush such as hazel, willow, and small fir, which can easily be grubbed up fixing it ready for the plow; the other portion is partly mountain sides and heavy timber but is splendid pasture; eighty acres of this has had the first slashed and burnt off and is now covered with nice orchard and timothy grass, the seed having been sown five years ago.

There is about fifteen acres seeded to Timothy grass for hay and about THIRTY acres ready for plowing purposes.

A GOOD HOUSE, with the necessary outbuildings, is already erected on the farm close to a running brook; and a barn suitable for most any farmer, is also built; also sheep sheds, etc.

THE ORCHARD consists of about 200 trees of choice varieties—prunes, apples, cherries, etc.; they are now 8 years old and will soon furnish large quantities of fruit. Quite an amount of small fruit also.

THE FENCES are all substantial, ranging from seven to nine rails high; a county road passes along by the place. The north side for over 2 miles is bounded by the clear, running waters of the Little North Fork of the Santiam river, in which is an abundance of mountain trout, and in April and September salmon inhabit the river.

THE PRICE asked is a very reasonable one, and will be made known to any person, desiring to purchase, upon application to F. S. CRAIG, at the office of THE CORVALLIS GAZETTE, Corvallis, Benton Co., Oregon.

GOOD DOCTRINE.
The following from Harpers Weekly may not be in the Bible, but it is good doctrine, nevertheless: "It is an old thing that no sooner has death claimed our friends for their own than we begin to say and do a multitude of things of little use at all then in comparison to that which they might have been had they come in advance of death. Then out of hand we flock to the house with offers of assistance and proffers of friendship; we rob our gardens and hot houses and send out flowers in profusion, and funeral wreaths and crosses and pillows and anchors and stars to encumberance, and do all we can, though late, to hide and disguise and sweeten fate. But if we had flocked to the house while the dead could have been aware of it, how much pleasure and excitement or relief from monotonous or lonesome hours our sick friend might have enjoyed when all was a tiresome round of day and night and medicine and solitude, when a bunch of flowers brought in would have brought a light to the dull eyes in joy over both the gift and the giver, which no broken columns of tuberoses and ivies, costing small fortunes, can bring to the eyes of the dead! Even could we not have been admitted to the sick room itself, we could have brought there the murmur of the outside world by the mere knowledge given to the patient that we were within the gates."

DISEASED BLOOD.
Humors, Blotches, Sores, Scabs, Crusts, and Loss of Hair Cured.

Terrible Blood Poison. Suffered all a man could suffer and live. Face and body covered with awful sores. Used the Cuticura Remedies ten weeks and is practically cured. A remarkable case.

I contracted a terrible blood-poisoning a year ago. I doctored with two good physicians, neither of whom did me any good. I suffered all a man can suffer and live. Hearing of your CUTICURA REMEDIES I concluded to try them, knowing if they did me no good they could make me no worse. I have been using them about ten weeks, and am most happy to say that I am almost rid of the awful sores that covered my face and body. My face was as bad, if not worse, than that of Miss Boynton, spoken of in your book, and I would say to anyone in the same condition, to use CUTICURA, and they will surely be cured. You may use this letter in the interests of suffering humanity. E. W. REYNOLDS, Ashland, O. Covered with Running Sores 17 years.

I have been troubled with a skin and scalp disease for seventeen years. My head at times was one running sore, and my body was covered with them as large as a half dollar. I tried a great many remedies without effect, until I used the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and am thankful to state that after two months of their use I am entirely cured. I feel it my duty to you and the public to state the above case. L. R. McDOWELL, Jamesburg, N. J. Dug and Scratched 38 years.

I got Mr. Dennis Downing ten years better. I have dug and scratched for thirty-eight years. I had what is termed pruritis, and have suffered everything, and tried a number of doctors, but got no relief. Anybody could have got $500 had they cured me. The CUTICURA REMEDIES cured me. God bless the man who invented CUTICURA! CHENEY GREEN, Cambridge, Mass.

THE BRAVEST OF BATTLES.
The bravest battle that ever was fought, Shall I tell you where and when? On the maps of the world you'll find it not; 'Twas fought by the mothers of men. Nay, not with cannon or battle shot, With sword or noble spear; Nay, not with eloquent word or thought From mouth of wonderful men. But deep in the walled up woman's heart— Of woman that would not yield, But bravely, silently bore her part— Lo! there is the battlefield. No marshaling troop, no bivouac song, No banner to gleam and wave! But O, these battles! they last so long— From babyhood to the grave.

AN OBT-REPEATED ERROR.
"Sweet love, good night, Beneath the stars which radiantly are glowing, Reluctantly I quit thy sight, For joy must end; time flies and I am going, Sweet love, good night." "Sweet love, good night," The maid replied; "and yet that note of which sharply cuts the air; oh prythee, hark!" Was it the mellow lay of matin lark, Or barnyard rooster crowing in the dark? Nay—see the east; 'tis Phoebus' glaring spark. Alas, methinks thou should'st have said "Good morning!" And not "good night!"

A Woman's Will.
It was nothing new for Grandfather Ross to be in a passion, but his present rage was of the most volcanic order. It was all the fault of his daughter Marie, who persisted in falling in love with Charles Knight. "Why, you're a fool not to fancy John Ferris!" the old man blurted out. "Don't you see if you marry him the farm need not be divided?" "I don't want the farm," sobbed Marie. "I want Charlie and your forgiveness." "Well, you shan't have either," growled Mr. Ross, "and to settle the matter I'll will all my property to John Ferris before the sun sets to-day." A young man who had been listening unperceived to their conversation now drove around to the front door. "Do you want to go to the village, grandfather?" he asked, carelessly. "Yes, John," said the old man. "I've got some work on hand for my lawyer," and without paying any more attention to Marie they drove away. A few nights after that Marie awoke with a strange sense of suffocation. She rushed to the door and found the stairs in flames. "Oh, grandfather, grandfather!" she cried. "He cannot get out of his room! Poor old grandfather! No, no, John," she said to the person who suddenly appeared at the window, "leave me; you will have time. Take grandfather first." But her plea was unheeded. With arms like steel he raised her and sprang out of the window, just as some one else dashed past them into the old man's chamber. Out into the cold air and starry heavens he staggered under his almost helpless burden—scorched, burned, gasping for breath, but alive, bearing the old man, so well wrapped in blankets that he was not harmed a particle. "Who saved me?" he asked, in a husky voice. Was it John? "No," some one answered; "it was Charles Knight, and he is seriously hurt and burned." Just then the old man heard a moan of anguish and a woman's sob, and his dim eyes beheld the prostrate form upon the grass over which Marie bent, weeping bitterly. "Take him where he will be cared for," cried the old man eagerly. "Somebody who is young and strong carry him tenderly; and you Marie, come, too. Let the

STATE GRANGE MEETING.
The annual session of Oregon State Grange will convene in the city of Salem, on Tuesday, May 28, 1889, remaining in session three days. Arrangements have been made for reduced rates on the Southern Pacific and the O. R. & N. railroads, members paying full fare going and one-fifth fare returning. The session will open promptly at 10 a. m., on the 28th. In the afternoon there will be an address of welcome by Gov. Penneyer and a response by Mrs. I. L. Hilleary of Turner. Also an address by Judge R. P. Boise on behalf of Salem and a response by Mr. Sample of Umatilla county. Mrs. H. E. Hayes will deliver an address of welcome to the California delegation, of whom there is expected to be a large number in attendance. The standing committee of the State Grange are as follows: Credentials, W. M. Hilleary, Marion county; J. A. Edwards, Gilliam county; H. Robertson, Marion county. Order of Business, F. M. Shipley, Clackamas county; Mrs. E. Skirving, Clackamas county. Woman's Work, Mrs. N. A. Hemmree, Yamhill county; Mrs. J. White, Polk county; Mrs. B. Schofield, Washington county; Mrs. M. J. Harris, Benton county. A fashionable young woman in New York has undergone a remarkable surgical operation, long and painful, by which her tip-tilted nose became an organ of pure Grecian design. The cruel cure is made that the new nose does not suit the general conformation of her face. It is figured out that the railroads of the world are worth nearly $200,000,000,000, or nearly one-tenth of the wealth of the civilized nations, or more than a quarter of their invested capital, and that all the ready money in the world would buy only one-third of them.

A BOOM FOR THE FLY.
Natural gas has artificially prolonged the existence of the fly. In the days of old, when nights were cold, there being no gas fires, the last fly of summer smoothed down his little coat-tails, rolled up his trunk, and fell over on his back after the first few frosts. Now the fly, like the man who wants a small loan, is always with us. He basks in continual warmth all winter, but there are precious few of him. The average happy home, where gas bills come as regularly as the new moon, will have trouble in searing up more than three live flies on Valentine's day. Whether the February fly lasts until the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of spring suits, is a question for scientists to tackle. We simply want to go on record as saying that where natural gas prevails, and no tab is kept on the consumption, it is possible by the expenditure of from $12 to $50 to preserve the life of a fly all winter and keep the household warm at the same time. When we can see a fly twiddling his hind legs and rubbing his ears on February 28th, we are convinced that he will live in a great and growing age.—Jamestown, Pa., News.

POPE AND CARDINALS.
Of the 363 Popes registered in the statistics of the Holy See only 49 are of foreign nationality, the other 221 are Italians, and include 111 Romans. Among the foreign popes there have been 15 French, 8 Greek, 6 German, 6 Syrian, 3 Spanish, 3 African, 2 Dalmatian, 1 English, 1 Epirote, 1 Antiochian, 1 Portuguese, 1 Thracian and 1 Flem. The last named, who reigned under the title of Adrian VI., is the latest in date, and his elevation goes back to the year 1522. So it is more than three centuries and a half since a non-Italian pope has sat on St. Peter's throne. Of the 61 existing Cardinals only 32 are Italians; the other 29 are foreigners. It will thus be seen that the distance between the two elements is scarcely perceptible. Among the Cardinals who are not Italians, there are 8 French, 4 Spanish, 3 English, 3 Germans, 3 Portuguese, 2 Hungarians, 2 Austrian, 1 Croatian, 1 Irish, 1 Pole, 1 Canadian and 1 American.—New York Graphic.
