

BRIEF LOCALS.

Sewing machine headquarters at J. Wm. Will's. Novelty in the stationery line at the GAZETTE office.

Ladies' and children's hair cutting a specialty at Taylor's. Furniture at cost prices for 30 days at J. A. Knight's furniture store.

New spring wraps, capes and jackets, at Kline's. Nobby styles and low prices.

Wheeler & Lingley are sole agents for the celebrated PRIDE OF JAPAN TEA.

Billy Martin and Paul Kinzel shoot at 25 live pigeons each, at McMinnville on the 26th.

McCoy, down the road is, just now having a siege of whooping cough. Independence took hers in mumps.

For picture frames and fine mouldings go to J. A. Knight's furniture store, the cheapest and best place in town.

The "Bees" are swarming right along in a healthy condition. The tent now numbers over 40 members.

No business was transacted by the city council Monday night and the meeting was adjourned until to-night.

Inks, pens, pencils, blank books, envelopes, plain and fancy writing paper in great variety at the GAZETTE stationery store.

Ladies wanting a sewing machine will do well to call at A. Knight's furniture store and examine his new style "Davis Sewing Machine."

Lawyers and clerks can find exactly what they want in the GAZETTE stationery store. A specialty made of type writer supplies.

A special session of circuit court will convene at Albany next Monday, for the trial of Morgan Wasson, the Lebanon murderer and other criminal cases.

The college athletes have postponed their entertainment at Brownsville to some indefinite date, which means, until the weather gets dryer and the roads become more passable.

For anything in the sewing machine line go to J. Wm. Will. He keeps the largest assortment of extra parts, attachments, needles, oils, and the best of machines at the latest reduced prices.

WANTED—Everyone to know that Peterson keeps the finest moulding and makes the finest picture frames in town as well as turning out the best job work. Shop two blocks south-west of public school.

Also, as well as other sections of the county, has been pretty well represented in Corvallis during the week. The road between that settlement and the valley is reported in a deplorable condition.

Arbor day exercises at the public school last Friday were witnessed by many parents in attendance, and were of more than ordinary interest. A maple tree was planted by the graduating class of '93.

The flag end of the old Leader has finally disappeared from its accustomed haunts, the material having been stored away in Fisher's new block next to the Times office.

The residence of Charles White, near Gold Hill, Jackson county, was burned to the ground Thursday morning. In attempting to rescue a sleeping child Mrs. White was seriously burned and the child lost its life.

Mr. Albert Koehle, Pacific coast agent of the entomological division of the U. S. department of agriculture, visits the agricultural college this week. He is making a study of the hop louse, and is on his way to Washington state.

It is said the Oregonian publishing company are talking of running an early morning train to carry that journal to Salem daily. This is a common practice among enterprising publishers in the large cities of the world.

A frightful accident happened Tuesday afternoon at the government rock quarry on south Coos river, in which Henry Bartell and William Garrison were blown up with powder and both hurt. A premature discharge of blast caused the accident.

The wife of the assessor of Marion county, D. Coffey, died a few days ago. They had been married only a few weeks. She was Miss Maggie Badger, a highly respected and beloved young lady of Mill City. Mr. Coffey will have the sympathy of many friends.

Friendship lodge, No. 14, A. O. U. W. has taken the rooms lately occupied by the old Leader office in Burnett's block, and is fitting up a new hall there, covering the south half of the upper floor from front to rear 60 feet or more in length. It will make fine rooms for them.

Reginald de Koven's new waltz, which one hears played on so many pianos nowadays, has proved so popular with young women that a second edition of the April Ladies' Home Journal, containing the music, has been found necessary, the first edition of the magazine consisting of 700,000 copies.

Friday C. C. Rigsdale arrived in Portland from his Monmouth home with a drove of sheep. While putting them in the pen he was taken with severe neuralgia pains in the stomach and became unconscious. He was taken to a hotel, but expired in a few hours. His remains were brought back to Monmouth, the funeral taking place Sunday. He was aged about 58 years and leaves a family.

The prospects are that Albany will have a base ball team in the valley league this season, backed by a monthly contribution of the business men of that city. The outlook is not promising for Corvallis. The best material for a crack team doesn't seem disposed to concentrate. If the best players in the college would unite with local players, a club could be organized here that would scoop the valley.

THROUGH TO THE EAST.

Boise, Idaho, April 17.—Sometime ago E. W. Hadley, receiver of the Oregon Pacific railroad wrote to Mayor Pinney, of Boise, for maps and other information regarding this section of the state. The request was complied with, and, in a letter acknowledging the receipt of the documents, Mr. Hadley says of the Oregon Pacific: "During all of its vicissitudes I don't think it was ever so near construction and extension toward the promised land of eastern Oregon and Boise as it is at the present moment, and I feel sure that if we all put our shoulders to the wheel with a long pull and a pull all together we shall ere long be making the dirt fly in your direction."

The fact that such a statement is made by the receiver is thought to indicate that strong parties are preparing to take hold of the road with the view of pushing it eastward to a connection with the Burlington or some other trunk line.

John P. Fay, one of the attorneys for the present management of the road, states: "The policy of the bondholders I represent has been from the beginning and now is in favor of developing the railroad and the adjoining country as rapidly as it can be done on safe business principles. Among these bondholders are John L. Blair, James A. Blair, Joseph Wharton, Alexander Brown, Lindley Smyth, George de B. Keim and Sylvester Kuehland. From the very beginning they have advocated a reorganization of the road and the completion of the line to Boise City as rapidly as the business of the country would warrant, and have earnestly advocated every improvement which would tend toward the settlement, cultivation and of building up the fields and tracts in Oregon which this road now enters, and which it in time, as completed, will open up other tracts equally as fertile and prolific as those covered by the portion of the road now in operation.

"The new receiver, E. W. Hadley, assisted by his general superintendent, Mr. Mulcahy, has demonstrated during the past 30 days that the road can be run without loss, and by proper management can be converted into an income-paying property. His success is a matter of general satisfaction among eastern bondholders, and has largely tended to restore confidence among them in regard to the ultimate success of the road, and has gained for him their unanimous support. If the road continues to show during the next 30 days equally good results, we may fairly expect that work will soon be commenced for the completion of the line."

ANNIVERSARY.

Next Tuesday, April 26th will be the 76th anniversary of the founding of Odd Fellowship in America. Brethren of the order in Corvallis are preparing to observe the day in a fitting manner, though not with the display of a public celebration. Their observance will be in the shape of a social, to be given at the opera house in the evening, and in which Barnum lodge, Qui Vive encampment and Alpha Rebecca lodge with such friends as may wish to participate, will be the participants. They will have literary exercises, music, social games, etc., and a general good time.

Judge William Loehren, of Minnesota is, Minn., is the newly appointed commissioner of pensions under President Cleveland's regime. There are men in Corvallis who are able to speak of the gentleman on personal acquaintance. His war record, in which he figured as a lieutenant in the First Minnesota volunteers was a brilliant one. He was in the famous charge at Gettysburg that checked Pickett's onslaught, when of the 300 men who made that charge only 40 came out unhurt. Returning from the war he engaged in the practice of the law, with eminent success. Although a democrat he was appointed by a republican governor to a judgeship, and has repeatedly been elected to positions invariably on the strength of republican votes.

Roseburg now boasts of a new and important enterprise in the shape of a branch of the Keeley institute for the cure of liquor, opium, morphine, cocaine and tobacco habits. This will bring the Keeley cure closer to southern Oregon and Lane county residents. The Roseburg branch is supplied with all the facilities for thorough treatment and cure, and is in charge of a first class physician. The attention of those in need of treatment, and their friends, is invited to the work. The institute at Forest Grove is also prospering and doing grand work.—Silverton Tribune.

Adam Aswell announces his determination of transferring his pursuits in the restaurant business from this city to Newport-on-Yaquina the first of May. Adam is a rustler from way back and he will be missed by many people in Corvallis when he is gone. A more liberal hearted man never struck the town. In fact, if Adam held hold on to one-half the money he handles it would not impair his reputation for generosity in the least, and would be the better for his pocket by several dollars a month.

Smith, the pugilist who knocked out Williams and became the champion welter weight of the world in the mill at Coney Island Monday night, once lived in Corvallis. Naturally considerable interest was manifested in the town over the affair.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE NOTES.

The lecture delivered by Capt. Cleveland Rockwell of the U. S. geographical survey last Sunday afternoon was listened to by a large and appreciative audience, consisting mainly of students. Captain Rockwell took for his subject "The Physical Geography of the Northwest," and in his lecture he discussed every phase of it in a most thorough manner. The next lecture is to be delivered on Sunday, April 30th, by the president of the Friend's Polytechnic institute, of Newberg. The public is cordially invited.

The different classes in the college have all organized and intend to give entertainments at the end of school. There are 19 in the senior class, this being the largest class that will have ever graduated from this college.

There are now 18 in the junior class, but next year there will be several of seniors in this class taking another degree. The sophomore class contains only 12, but they are well organized and will no doubt present an entertainment at the end of the year that will be a credit to any class. The freshman class have also organized with a membership of about 90. They intend to present a programme at the commencement that will be a credit to them, and judging from the number there is plenty of good material to select from.

The trip to Brownsville, by the athletes, has been postponed until the 6th of May.

Next Saturday is a pleasant day the Albany college ball nine will play a match game here with our college nine. A good game is expected.

AGAIN AFLOAT.

The steam schooner Alice Blanchard has been pulled off the sands at Yaquina and towed along the O. P. Co's dock at Yaquina City to receive such repairs to her machinery as the company's machine shops can furnish. Her cargo was gotten off and forwarded to San Francisco by the steamer Willamette Valley some time since. Great praise is accorded to Receiver Hadley and Superintendent Mulcahy for the prompt assistance they produced in the use of the company's tug which stood faithfully by the distressed vessel and finally drew her proudly back to deep water in very good condition; and also is the conduct of Captain Hulcomb, of the government works highly commended for the very valuable assistance he rendered in lightering the steamer of her cargo and clearing her hold of water which threatened to destroy her. It has taken long and hazardous labor to save the vessel, a result which many old seamen predicted would not be accomplished, and it is a feather in the cap of Yaquina bay harbor that the matter turned out so fortunately as it has.

Some weeks ago it was stated by the Portland papers that Dave Keener, an old soldier who was a former resident and well known in Albina, had been granted a pension and back pay. Mr. Keener, who is a resident of Corvallis, states that his application dates back 20 years ago, when he was a resident of Stockton, California, and that it has been hanging fire, as such things not unfrequently do, in the meshes of red-tapeism, ever since. At that rate David will be the fortunate recipient of a handsome stake, which to a man at his age and situation in life, is a very fit patrimony to be as worthily received as it is bestowed. Keener served in a Maryland regiment throughout the war, and was one of the first to enter Richmond, after the final struggle there.

Friday died in Shedd, Linn county on Thursday night, April 14th, 1893, of consumption, Mrs. Benj. Looney, aged about 40 years. Mrs. Looney was a daughter of Mr. R. H. Wright, who is also seriously ill, and was a woman of estimable character. Mr. Looney resides in eastern Oregon, and proceedings for a divorce were pending. The deceased leaves six children and many friends to mourn her death.—Salem Journal.

Lawrence Stovall, the late victim of the gun explosion, is getting well. His case, at the time of the injury and for several days following, was considered hopeless, and his ultimate recovery appears no less marvelous. That a person could have a jagged iron slug nearly as large as an ordinary thread spool sent through his skull and tearing alongside his brain from front to rear and live, is an incident which the doctor says is worthy of relating in the medical publications of the profession.

PAY YOUR DOG TAX.

All owners of dogs in the city are hereby notified to pay the tax on such dogs and get collars for the same at once, according to the ordinance now ordered to be enforced. Pay taxes to the city treasurer, J. R. SCRAFFORD, Chief of Police.

Dr. Daniel Payton died in Stockton, Cal., on the 6th inst., and his remains were brought back to Salem, his former home, for interment. Dr. Payton had led a very active life in Salem and held many positions of trust, embracing legislator, mayor of the city, dean in the medical college, etc. A large concourse of friends followed to his grave. He was 65 years old.

ACCIDENT ON THE HOAG.

The Hoag, on her regular trip hitherward last Sunday morning, continued her journey on up the river to Harrisburg, carrying a lot of accumulated freight in the Corvallis warehouse to several points above. When about ten miles this side of Harrisburg an accident occurred which nearly cost a man his life and may yet result in fatal consequence. In landing to take on a passenger the boat struck a dead tree that was just ready to fall and jarred it down. It fell upon the deck of the steamer, striking a deck hand named Joe Brown with full force, and stretching him unconscious upon the deck. His injuries were serious, embracing a broken leg, bad lacerations about the head and possibly internal rupture. He was taken to the Hospital at Portland on Monday morning's train from Harrisburg. Doubts were expressed of his recovery.
