The County Convention.

The County Democratic Convention which met at the Court House last Saturday did well in their selection of a candidate for the State Senate. 'Ex-Governor Whiteaker is one of the ablest men in the State, and only able men are desirable in the body to which he will undoubtedly be elected. The Governor did not desire the nomination, but realizing the belief of the convention that his election would be an established certainty, and also its belief that he could serve the people of our county and State to better purpose than any other man that could be selected by either party, he consented to accept be of vast benefit, and he is known to be honest, fearless and incorruptable; a ready and forcible speaker, he will command the respect of the Senate to a greater degree than any other man that could be sent there. The delegates reflected honor upon themselves and the people who selected. them for their representatives.

The Legislative ticket throughout is as good perhaps as could have been selected, at least among those who would under any circumstances accept a nomination for such position. which is at best a thankless one. There are few men who can go to the Legislature and please all. Messrs. Burton, Cruzan, Redford and Hays are all men of intelligence and stirl ing worth. Mr. Hays also will have the benefit of his experience in the Legislature of two years ago to assist him in the performance of his duties The men comprising the ticket are nearly all well known to all the citizens of the county and need no recommendation at our hands.

IT IS ASTONISHING bow quick a nomi nation for office will arouse an individual to the necessity of having the aid of a newspaper to enable him to secure the position he seeks. There is a class of men-we will not call them office-seekers, but they are always glad to accept a nominationwho allow a paper to struggle on, barely making a living, or less, never heeding its existence until they resition to make money easily, when called the "Oregon and Central Pacific Railquire its assistanc . to put them in pothey rush forward and magnanimously road Company. offer the publisher $2 50. The State is far too poor to appropriate any such sum as one hundred and eighty thousand dollars per year to aid in the construction of this the nomination. His experience will road. The benefits to be derived are entirely inadequate to the additional tax that would have to be imposed. Certainly if a corporation as wealthy as the Central Pacific Company cannot afford to construct this road how much less can the State of Oregon, whose whole wealth is less than that of the company afford to do it ? In the matter of immigration alone would any railroad be of great advantage to the State. We have almost nothing to ship by rail. California is a much better frait country than Oregon and will be abundantly able to supply all the demand for shipment east. The wheat crop of Oregon upon which it does and must depend for its income, is shipped direct to foreign countries and a railroad would not take any of this trade, for the reason that no person could ship wheat to any market open to us by rail, or likely to open, and get even the cost of producing in return. We have only then cattle and coals for shipment. The former can be driven to almost any accessible Democratic Convention, Candidates for in good condition, cheaper than they could be shipped by rail, and for the matter of coals there is even less prospect of a sure return from them than from any thing else mentioned. It is be held as follows: Primary Conventions hardly worth while to talk of putting a tax of one dollar and a halt per capits on the people of Oregon to build this railroad. It will not be done. Since the above was put in type we find an abstract of the proposed bill a different time. in the Oregonian as follows :

the company to issue through bills of lading to and from Portland and Atlantic coast and with the ocean charge from San Francisco to Portland added thereto.

A Small Amount of Advice.

There are many Democrats in this county who are advocates of the very suicidal policy of eternally keeping out of the party any and all who by any means once get outside of its lines.
