SATURDAY, AUGUST 24.

POLITICS AND FINANCE.

The democrats of Ohio are tempting fate. An issue is before them but the majority, many of them owned by Senator Brice, temporize and reaffirm the double headed 1892 financial resolution, the first clause of which cannot be construed otherwise than to mean free coinage of silver. Then it is qualified so that it may mean anything which may be agreeable to the voter. We quote: "We hold to the use of both gold and silver as standard money of the country and to the coinage of both gold and silver without discrimination against either metal, or charge for mintage, but the dollar or unit of coinage of both metals must be of equal intrinsic and exchangeable value or be adjusted by international agreement or by such safeguards or legislation as shall insure the maintenance of the parity of the two metals and an equal power in every dollar at all times in payment of debts; and we demand that the paper currency shall be kept at par with and redeemable in such coin."

Silver advocates contend that the present ratio, if free coinage is restored, will make silver bullion equal in value to gold. They reason from experience. Gold advocates, in the democratic party, use this platform as a makeshift to avoid approaching the real issue. They only desire one standard that of gold. This is a fair and impartial view of the case which anyone, who reads the platform, then notes the actions of contending factions cannot deny. It may be stated that the democratic party, which, by the way, has always voted for free coinage of silver, at least the majority, is not alone in misery. The rank and file of the republican party is divided on this question, and the populist brethren have divergent views, many of them contending that paper money is the desideratum.

The legislature of Illinois last winter passed a new libel law as regards newspapers. It was about similar to the one proposed in Oregon last winter and passed by several states, permitting retractions as a bar to damages, and providing for actual damages rather than exemplary or punitive damages where malice does not appear. At the special session of the legislature recently adjourned, in addition to other evil doings, they unceremoniously repealed the law. The doctors who were principals in the Portland duel were allopaths or of the old school, judging from the large doses of lead they prescribed. They were not afraid of mineral. It strikes us that the explanations of the cause of the shooting as published are very lame. It is seldom that men go armed and shoot on the drop of the hat on account of a mere matter of professional jealousy. There is something in the case which has not yet or may never come to light.

The young men and grown boys of this town who make a practice of chasing ignorant and verdant girls of tender age should take care lest they get a job in a state institution located at Salem. Their claim legislature passed a law raising the age of consent for females to sixteen years. They should exercise their peculiar talents on people of mature age and understanding. The Willamette Valley sustains her reputation for wholesome rains. A small amount only is needed at present to lay the dust and abate the smoke nuisance. Grain harvest is not finished, the grain is in the fields and the hop crop must yet be saved. Rain aggravates the nuisance of hop lice, which may cause serious damage to the crop.

A lady died the other day in England and in her will it was found that she had left the whole of her fortune amounting to $50,000 to the local newspaper, the perusal of which had given her many happy hours. The example of this lady is worthy of emulation, but we do not ask it of our friends. In fact we do not wish to see them die. Pittsburg Dispatch: "A Kansas man and his wife spent a fortune in suing each other for divorce. After they had gotten rid of all their money they concluded to live happily together in poverty. This is a new demonstration of the theory that the way to get any satisfaction out of wealth is to spend it."

It is estimated that the revenue received by the state of Maine from tourists and sportsmen is over $10,000,000 a year. Evidently in that state they are always ready to welcome strangers and take them in. Scientists are interesting them selves in a projected exhibition to the south pole. They should finish up the job of finding the north pole before engaging in the other work.

Given to a Portland Firm. COTTAGE GROVE, Aug 20.—The Champion Gold Mill & Mining Company, of Bohemia, today awarded the E. B. Hammond Company, of Portland, Or., the contract for a ten-stamp mill, and putting it in operation. The contract is limited to 60 days.

FOSTER'S FORECASTS. Weather Predictions for the Next Ten Days. That man Foster continues to make weather for the masses. In his last bulletin he gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from 18th to 20th and the next he says will reach the Pacific coast about the 21st, cross the west of Rockies country by close of 22d, great central valleys 23d and Eastern states 24th. This disturbance will be unusually severe in the west of Rocky mountains and the cool wave following will cause killing frosts in the upper Missouri, upper Mississippi and Red river of the North valleys. Warm wave will cross the west of Rockies country about 21st and Eastern states 25th. Cool wave will cross the west of Rockies country about the 24th, great central valleys 26th and Eastern states 28th. Particular attention is called to the following aurora and earthquake countries: Within a few days of August 20th, September 17th, October 16th and November 13th severe earthquake shocks may be expected. Near August 22d, September 18th, October 15th and November 12th brilliant auroras will probably be observed on the North American continent. In his next bulletin he promises to give detailed forecasts of temperature, rainfall, storm waves, severe storms and frosts for September. September is the important month preparatory for sowing small grain and a correct forecast of the weather will be very valuable. The weather of the coming September and of April and May, 1896, will very largely determine the 1896 crop of fall sown small grain.

WILL WE GET IT? Manager Stone Wants O. C. & E. R. R. Built to Eugene. Manager Edwin Stone has made a report to Mr. Hammond, projector of the O. C. & E. R. R. and he talks as follows about the building of a branch line to Eugene: "The building of the line to Eugene is considered by Mr. Stone of first importance. He suggests that Mr. Hammond come to Corvallis and drive over the proposed line to Eugene at an early date. Such a line would traverse a large and fertile section of farming lands, lying between the river on the east and the foothills of the Coast range on the west, and it is thought would afford traffic sufficient to justify the building of a branch line. The people of Eugene, Junction and Monroe feel that the Southern Pacific has not treated them with proper consideration, and would welcome a competing line. Should Mr. Hammond make them a proposition, this feeling would doubtless be of advantage to the new enterprise. With this line and the river boats, the company would practically control the traffic of the Willamette valley, as far south as Eugene. Years ago, the Southern Pacific completed a survey from Corvallis to Junction, and secured the right of way over the entire distance, and began construction, but work was soon discontinued. Since then, efforts have been repeatedly made by the citizens of this city, as well as those living along the proposed line to induce the company to extend the road, but their efforts were unsuccessful."

MARRIED.—At the residence of and by Rev. A. D. Skaggs, Christian minister, Junction City, Or., Saturday, August 17, A. A. Gibson and Miss Maud Achison, all of Lane county. The price of wheat in Albany is 45 cents per bushel.

RAILROAD ASSESSMENT.

A Communication From the Josephine County Judge. County Judge A. H. Fisk yesterday received a communication from J. M. Chiles, county judge of Josephine county. The letter is dated Aug. 19: "The letter contains statistics with regard to railroad assessment. By referring to Encyclopedia Britannica, Judge Chiles finds that up to 1889 the cost to build and equip a railroad to be $22,000 per mile. Judge Chiles also wrote the Examiner to learn the aggregate assessment per mile in California. He received a reply to his inquiry a few days since, stating that the assessment per mile in that state for railroads is $12,836.44. Continuing, Judge Chiles says: "As far as I can hear, this year, the prevailing idea seems to be for us on this line of the road to assess at $5000, which, according to California, is less than half. I would like to hear from you before the equalization board meets and give me your idea of a uniform rate. I feel that the railroad company will be the quicker satisfied when we arrive at that point."

DIED.—Rev. Daniel D. Mather, D. D., of Delaware, Ohio, who died recently at the age of 73 years and 3 months, was distinguished in the Methodist service, having entered the ministry at the age of 20 years. He filled many of the most important appointments in the Ohio and the Central Ohio conferences and also represented his conference in the general conference several times. He was a brother-in-law of Hon. A. G. Hovey of Eugene, having married Mr. Hovey's oldest sister in 1844, at Marietta, Ohio. Severe griping pains of the stomach and bowels instantly and effectually stopped by DeWitt's Colic and Cholera Cure. OSBURN & DELANO. Cholera morbus is a dangerous complaint and often is fatal in its results. To avoid this should use DeWitt's Colic and Cholera Cure, as soon as the first symptoms appear. OSBURN & DELANO. Best for sick headache, biliousness, sour stomach and constipation. OSBURN & DELANO. Daily Guard, August 22. EARLY HOPS PICKED.—Dr. Davis, of Harrisburg, finished picking all his early hops that were ripe, yesterday, about 15 acres. Five acres more will be picked Saturday, after which pickers will be laid off until about Sept. 1st. Our informant states there were about 600 people on the grounds, and many were turned away. DIED.—At the residence of Lew Gibson, west of Eugene, August 17, 1895, of inflammation of the stomach, Mrs. Sneed, wife of Row Sneed, aged about 55 years. The lady is from Eastern Oregon and has been visiting at the house of Mr. Gibson. The funeral was held this afternoon and she remains interred in the Oak Hill cemetery. Daily Guard, August 22. RESIDENCE LEASED.—Prof. E. B. McElroy has rented the Green B. Hayes residence, corner of Lincoln and Sixth streets, and with his family will occupy the same. A force of carpenters, painters and plumbers are at work now placing the house in readiness for occupancy. The Prof. and his wife returned to Salem on the early train. SAVED.—The Medford Monitor in recounting the burning of the school building at that place, among other things, has this item: "Fortunately Prof. Naregan's private library had been mostly removed preparatory to moving to Eugene and thus saved from the general wreck." The price of wheat in Albany is 45 cents per bushel.

The "GLOVE FITTING" CORSET is so simple in design and construction that it requires but a word of description. "The secret of it all" lies in substituting for gores, "transverse" seams in graceful curves, which adapt themselves to "all" figures, thus securing the most perfect and comfortable fit. It is made in three or more pieces, and being cut on correct geometrical principles, with transverse seams running round the body instead of up and down, evade all strain, thus avoiding the objections urged against every other corset. The fit is perfect, for it is automatic, or self-adjusting, yielding so easily to every movement that the wearer is unconscious of any feeling of constraint. "It makes the stiff, the stubborn, flexible, With magic force, wrought to graceful lines." We have said enough, perhaps, to account for the fact that the "GLOVE FITTING" CORSET has become the favorite of the ladies of America. In the whole realm of costume, no one perfected article of dress ever gained so wide a popularity so quick, nor was destined, we think, to hold it so long as The Glove Fitting Corset.
