A Danbary citizen sent over to a neighbor one evening recently, to borrow the Danbery News, and was told that he would have to wait until "our Jane got back from the ball."

The Danbury News don't like the Patent Office Reports. The characters are all overdrawn, and there isn't enough poisoning and shooting in the plot to keep the reader interested.

to see If it was good for anything. As at PRICES to SUIT THE TIMES. his mother knits left handed mittens for him now, it is generally supposed that the cartridge was a good one.

A novelty in gentlemen's dress is promised in Boston. The bosom of the shirt is to have a few bars of music printed upon it, in some cases with words. Gentlemen wearing them will stand behind pianos to be sung and played for.

P. T. Barnum's menagerie and circus starts out April 1st. No reflection intended.

A raw countryman, gazing at a gar-den in the vicinity of Boston, in which were several marble statues, exclaimed: "Just see what a waste! Here's no less than six scare crows in this ten foot patch, and any one of them would keep the crows from a five-acre lot!"

A Danbury man says he has read of beggars dying with their stockings full of silver, but the only beggars he ever saw had real estate in theirs.

There was a fight between Danbury and Norwalk roosters in this place Friday. The pain every good citizen must feel over such a brutal display is somewhat modified by the fact that our rooster licked.

Nervous old invalid-"Well, Miss Nipper, I think it's quite time these passage walls were re-papered." Landlady-"Pardon me, sir; but I was a waitin' to see 'ow your 'ealth goes on. Coffins is sech things to knock the paper off a comin' down."

HONEYMOON CONVERSATION .- A correspondent, writing from a watering place, gives a report of the conversa tion between a newly maried couple There is depth of affection in it which is refreshing to contemplate.

"Wiliam! dear William!" exclaimed the young wife, with a world of affection in her eyes.

"Speak, heavenly charmer!" replied the new-made husband, returning with interest the very expressive glances of his spouse.

"Dear William!" "Adored Eliza!"

"Sweet flatterer!" "Angelic creature!"

"Dear-dear William! pardon; but de you think a short walk would hurt

"I fear, loveliest of thy sex! that you may be fatigued." "Fear not, dear!"

"Heavenly emanation! bright dream of my precarious existence! but I cannot help fearing."

"Sweet William!" "Celestial Eliza,"

Here they fell to violent kissing, which lasted several minutes,

Love of Snow .- The middle classes spend their income in keeping up talse appearances. They, too, must wear dove-colored pantaloons and shiny boots. They must wear diamond studs and seal rings, and carry young ladies to the opera, in hired carriages, at the rate of three hours' use for three days' wages. They must take a turn now and then at cards, stand a treat to the cocktails, but upon their veracity when called in question, and last of all, lest they should be deemed timid, must demonstrate their nerve by "fighting the tiger," until it claws the last dime out of their pockets, and claws lasting scratches upon their souls. The only safeguard against vice is work; not as slaves, who work to eat, and eat to work, but work to reach a higher plane of effort, not only of the body, but of the mind-work, whatever for a day, a week, a month, or a lifetime, honestly and cheerfully, as one who expects to contemplate its results for-

An old bachelor said "there's a darn ed sight more jewelry worn now-a-days than when I was young. But there's one piece that I always admired which I don't often see now.'

"What is that?" asked a young lady.

"A thimble," was the reply. He was regarded with contempt and scorn by every lady in the room for the rest of the evening.

A cup of coffee is a sure barometer it you allow the sugar to drop to the bottom of a cup and witch the bubbles arise without disturbing the coffee. If the bubbles collect in the middle the weather will be fine. If they adhere to the cup, forming a ring, it will be rainy; and if the bubbles separate without assuming any fixed position, changeable weather may be expected.

At a funeral the undertaker arranged for the husband and mother-in-law to ride in the same carriage. "Must I," said the broken-hearted man, "must I ride with that awill woman?" "I think you will have to, answered the undertaker. "Well, it I must, I must," replied he, but to ride with her destroys all the pleasure of the occasion."

Prospectus for 1873-Sixth Year

THE ALDINE

Not for Sale in Book or News Stores.

THE ALDINE, while is used with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary publications. It is an elegant misrellany of pure, light and graceful literature; and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Elthough each succeeding number aftords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of The Aldine will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as hompared with rivals of a similar class The Aldine is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then there are the chromos, benides! THE ALDINE, while is ned with all the reg

Art Department. Notwithstanding the increase in the price of subscription last Fall, when Phe Aldine assum d its present noble proportions and representative character, the edition was more than resentative character, the edition was more than doubled during the past year; proving that the American pablic appreciate, and will support, a sincere effort in the cause of ARI. The publishers, anxious to justify the ready confidence thus demonstrated, have exerted themselves to the atmost to develop and improve the work; and the plans for the coming year, as unfolded by the monthly issues, will astonish and delight even our most sanguase patrons. The publishers are authorized to announce designs from many of the most eminent artists of America. In addition. The Aldine will reproduce examples of the best foreign masters, selected with a view to the highest artistic success, and greatest general interest; avoiding such as have become familiar, through photographs, or copies of any kind.

become familiar, through photographs, or copies of any kind.

The quarterly inted plates, for 1873, will reproduce four of John S. Davis' inimitable child sketches, appropriete to the four seasons; these plates appearing in the issue for January, April July and October, would be alone worth the brice of a year's subscription.

brice of a year's subscription.

The popular feature of a copiously illustrated "Christmas" number will be continued.

To possess such a valuable epitome of the art world, at a cost so trilling, will command the subscriptions of thousands in every section of the country; but, as the usefulness and attractions of The Aldine can be enhanced, in expectation to the superiorities. proportion to the numerical increase of its sup-porters, the publishers propose to make "assur-ance doubly sure," by the following unparal-lelled offer of ance doubly sure," by the following unparallelled offer of Premium Chromos for 1873.

Every subscriber to THE ALDINE, who pays in advance for the year 1873, will roceive, without abditional charge; a paio of beautiful oil chromos, after J. J. Hill, the eminent English pointer. The pictures, emittled "The Village Belle," and "Crossing the Moot," are large inches—are printed from 25 different plates, requiring 25 impressions and tints to perfect each picture. The same Chromos are sold for $30 per pair in the art stores. As it is the determination of its consluctors to keep THE ALDINE out of the reach of competition is every department, the chromos will be found correspondingly shead of any that can be offered by other periodicals. Every sufferible unit receive a certificate, over the signature of the publishers, guaranteeing that the chromos delivered shall be equal to the sample furnished the agent of the many will be refunded. The distribution of pictures of this grade, free to the subscr bers to a five deliar periodical, will mark an epoch in the history of Art; and, considering the unprecedented cheapness of the price for THE ALDINE itself, the marvet halls little short of a miracle even to those best acquainted with the achievements of inventive genius and improved mechanical appliances. (For illustrations of these coremos see November Issue of THE ALDINE.)
