

Law of Newspapers:

Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary, are considered as wishing to continue their subscriptions.

1. If any subscriber orders the discontinuance of his newspaper, the publisher may continue to send them until all arrears are paid.
2. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their newspapers from the office to which they are directed, they hold themselves responsible until they have notified the publisher, and the newspapers are sent to the former direction, they are held responsible.
3. If subscribers remove to other places without notifying the publisher, and the newspapers are sent to the former direction, they are held responsible.
4. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers from this office, or removing and leaving them uncollected for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.
5. The postmaster who neglects to give legal notice of the neglect of a person to take from the office of newspaper addressed to him, is liable to the publisher for the subscription price.

THE PIONEER.

In a lecture delivered some time since by Thomas Fitch, he closed with the following glowing eulogy of the Pacific coast pioneer.

The gallant pioneer! He is the type of American fraternity, for he has "Honor and courage." Qualities that eagle-plume men's souls And fit them for the sun." He climbs like a huge fly upon the bald skull of some lofty mountain, and the primeval hills welcome his footsteps. He taps with the prospector's pick at the adamant doors of the earth's treasure chambers, and at his demand they reveal their shining secrets. His glittering ax lays low the green-plumed forest monarchs, and at his demand the emerald hills welcome his footsteps.
