SUNRISE IN CHICAGO.

A Poet's Description of the Charity Ball at the Auditorium.

The charity ball in Chicago is brilliant, not merely as a fashionable and an elegant occasion.

Mr. Bill, too, swirled in music through the great arches, twinkled and fluttered and advanced in cadence.

Stately dowagers in velvet gowns, with white hair piled high under diamond tiaras, and delicate hands in diamond rings.

The Hon. N. K. Fairbank came with simple but beautiful side whiskers, such as Cupid or a young angel would be glad to have for wings.

The lights in the windows of the town pale into the day; the dawn of the night is still asleep; the brilliant and charm of the charity ball are a dream of the past.

The poem has been written, and the proof has been read, but the first flushes of the dawn illuminate the pensive lineaments of Sylvanus F. Bill as he sits by the great rose window in the eighth story of the Inter Ocean building.
