GONE TO ALASKA.

Judge E. D. Stratford, editor of the PLAINEALER, left on this morning's local for Alaska, where he goes to do some special government work for the interior department.

THERE ARE OTHERS.

The Roseburg Review has of late been giving considerable attention to the matter of "flopping." It reprints a half-column article from the Capital Journal extolling the unchanging faithfulness of Hofer, who has since his visit to Bryan at the opening of the last presidential campaign—been as faithful a howler as the most fanatical silver adherent could desire.

The editor did not flop. He had not the moral courage to do that. A "man" cannot flop. It is only his tongue that flops. When a man changes his opinion after increased knowledge and understanding on a subject, he cannot be said to flop. He simply slid. Like a turtle on a log, he slipped in the slime into the water and a few bubbles told the tale.

Age ago, on the banks of the river Nile, in the region of what is now the contended Fashoda, stood a monstrous stone statue some seventy feet in height. It was the figure of a man sitting in a chair. By the fury of the elements a large chunk of stone had been displaced from the crown of the head leaving a hollow therein. At night when the heavy dew fell a small quantity of water would collect in this hollow. When the rays of the tropic sun struck it on the morrow, a hissing sound came forth, and the superstitious people hearing it said: "Hut! it is a god," and they worshipped it. Finally the broken part was replaced and the hissing ceased.

Thus it is with the Review. Every day we hear a hissing sound of the dew that falls from exchanges at night. The silverites say: "Hut! it is a god." It is but the perspiration, caused by the labor of the editor's brain, in the effort to produce a wholesome thought, passing off in vapor that they hear. Let the broken piece—the honest convictions of the editor of "America's Greatest"—be replaced and no longer will they say it is a god. There are foppers and sliders. We cannot distinguish between them.

"From Maine to Oregon!" is a back number," says an exchange. "It is now 'From Maine to Manila!'" What's the matter with Porto Rico?

Spanish diplomacy does not seem to have accomplished much in Paris, regarding Cuban affairs, and the outlook does not appear very brilliant for Spain on the Philippine question. Uncle Sam needs those islands in his business. He has them and might just as well keep them.

The Cottage Grove Messenger thinks it is time for that town to be a county seat. It says:

The time is near at hand when South Lane and North Douglas counties should be organized into a new county. As it now stands, Eugene "hoggs" everything in sight. While Bohemia mining district being in two counties makes an endless chain of difficulty for the miner and prospector. Having the resources and population we should demand the formation of a new county.

A Correction.

The following appeared in the PLAINEALER of Oct. 20th, 1898. "The reform idea appears to be 'get a plenty while you can.' Gazley has two deputies when he promised to do with one." In reply to the above, I most emphatically deny ever making a statement that I would do with one or any other number of deputies. And further, I deny making a statement before election that if elected I would run the clerk's office for any stated sum of money. But I did say, and do yet, that the office should be run for less money. And further, I propose to turn back into the treasury the sum of $500.00, during this, my term of office.

J. F. GAZLEY, County Clerk.

Ojala.

Grass and volunteer grain were never better at this time in the season.

Professor Moon closed a term of school at this place, having given entire satisfaction.

Miss Zelia Byron is gradually gaining health since her recent severe illness. We hope she may soon entirely recover.

The postoffice at this place is soon to be made a money order office, which will be very much appreciated by the patrons of the office.

Parties who have been in the habit of chasing deer with hounds in this neighborhood of late, had better look a little out for the main land owners have given orders forbidding the same upon their lands.

Major Walsh made his appearance at this place last week, and made arrangements to sink a shaft through the conglomerate to the bedrock. No doubt good pay will be found on the original bed rock.

Mrs. W. R. Wells has returned from Roseburg, having been there for two weeks under the treatment of Dr. Myra Brown. Mrs. Wells has faith in the doctor's treatment, and has no doubt of being benefited by her.

J. W. McFarland is putting in a bridge near the ford on the Ojala post office. This bridge has been needed for many years, being at a place where the creek often gets past fording during the winter. It is on the road leading from Ojala to upper Ojala.

A Reception.

On last Saturday evening about 25 members of the McKinley Republican Club, of which Judge E. D. Stratford, is president, gave him an informal reception at the offices of Hon. A. M. Crawford on the eve of his departure for Alaska. An hour was spent in coaching the president on his duties in his new field of labor. Advice was poured out on him like a river and job lots of counsel both wise and otherwise was offered him freely and without price. After the president had been properly impressed with the enormity of the dangers which he would encounter in the land of floods and avalanches, where the mosquitoes have bills as long as the Review's bills for printing sheriff's sale notices, and whose appetite is as voracious for human gore as that of a populist officeholder for fees and salary, tables were brought in and a lunch was served to which all did ample justice. The evening was pleasantly spent and the committee again demonstrated their ability as entertainers.

Married.

At the residence of M. Rice on Pine street, last Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, A. B. Castor and Miss Laurie L. Rice were married, Rev. G. R. Arnold performing the ceremony. Only a few friends and relatives were present but the occasion was a very happy one. The couple were the recipients of several very beautiful gifts. Miss Rice has for several years resided at Rice Hill in this county, and is a cousin of M. Rice, the furniture dealer. The bride and groom will make their home at Jefferson.

By the Board.

There was an old person named Hamman, who fell on a piece of banana. With a slip and a slide more stars he eaped than are seen in the Star Spangled Banner. A gentleman flew to assist her, he picked up her muff and her whisker. "Did you fall, ma'am?" he cried. "Do you think," she replied, "I sat down for the fun of it, mister?"

It seems to be the general verdict among the attorneys that Judge Hamilton is not to be trifled with. He don't think it is necessary that the court should suspend its operations in order that a billful can go on and round up the attorneys that may be interested in the case next to be called.—Eugene Register.

W. M. and B. B. Hervey were in Roseburg from Myrtle Creek Saturday. The latter has just returned from Mt. Reuben and says that there is about a quarter of a mile of the new road yet to be built, and that it will probably be completed by the end of this week. Work at the mine for some time will be the erection of a saw mill and the construction of buildings.

Rev. J. A. Crutchfield came up from Grants Pass on his wheel last Saturday, his special mission here being the holding of services in the M. E. Church, South, for Rev. L. C. Wilson, who went to Grants Pass to meet his family. Rev. Crutchfield has accepted a pastorate in the North Texas conference and will leave for that state within a couple of weeks. His family will remain at Grants Pass this winter.—Medford Mail.

Advice for Halloween.

(Which is tonight.) You'd better take the front-yard gate and lock it in the shed, An' turn the dog to roamin' loose, an' keep him underted, An' git some anchors on the porch an' ballast on the roof, An' string barb-wire 'long the fence to make it youngster proof; For boys' every sort an' kind kin'git all-fired mean, When layin' plans for raisin' hob because its Halloween. Scrofula Swelling On the Neck and Great Weakness Caused by Impure Blood—Was Constantly Growing Worse.

"When my son was 6 years old he was in a very poor health and we could get nothing to relieve him. At the age of 7 years he began to complain of soreness in his neck and soon found it difficult to gather on one side and grew to the size of an egg. We tried because more money had been to doctor him for scrofula. He gradually grew worse, however, until at the age of twelve years we had lost all hope of his recovery. He became so weak he could sit up but a few minutes at a time. My wife saw Hood's Sarsaparilla recommended as a great blood purifier and we sent and got a bottle. We began giving our boy the medicine according to directions and it was not long before we saw he was improving. He continued taking it until he was in very good health. He is now 18 years old and is well. We recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla for all troubles caused by impure blood." R. M. SILVER, Grants, Oregon. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. 50¢ a bottle. Get only Hood's.
