ADVICE TO WEST ROSEBURG.

Roseburg is acting very naughty and will do itself an injury that it will take many years to overcome. The capital of Douglas should remember the experience of Cottage Grove and profit thereby. At the last session of the legislature, Roseburg was re-incorporated taking in West Roseburg under some protest from that part of the city. Now West Roseburg has petitioned the county court to incorporate the town has been granted, an election to take among the class of diversified farm- Home at Roseburg. of West Roseburg and the petition

In the meantime however, the question of whether West Roseburg must remain a part of the city, or be allowed to "hoe its own row" will be fought out in the circuit court.

A city divided against itself cannot grow and Roseburg may learn this to its sorrow. West Roseburg had best remain a part of the city proper and add other territory as fast as time and conditions will justify.

Fairmount and College Hill have found it an advantage to become part of Eugene proper and West Roseburg will see it the same way in the course

Our advice to West Roseburg is to be good, get in and hustle and buckle down to hard work in advancing the material prosperity of Douglas coun-Register.

Attorney A. C. Woodcock, went t Portland and argued in the U. S. Court before Judge De Haven, a few days ago, in support of a demurrer he had filed to the indictment of J Booth, ex-Receiver of the Land Office at Roseburg. He claims that Booth was indicted for giving out information concerning matters in the Land Office which had already been decided and were matters of public record, which the law does not prohibit but required him to do. If Mr. Woodcock is right there was nothing to base the indictment on, and the person who drew it made a mistake which the court will correct by dismissing the indictment.-Eugene
