

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

New, bright, clean rooms at the Madras.
Always in the lead with low prices at Hahn's.
A. E. Hammond and Don P. Res visited Bend this week.
If you want barbed wire see Loucks Bros., Madras.

Mrs. A. Quackenbush, of Spokane, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Delano. Born—At Haystack, Sept. 9, 1904, to Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Gillam, a girl.
Fred Closset and party, from Portland, were soliciting trade here last Friday.
No old shelf worn junk; nothing but new, fresh goods at Malloy's Pioneer Cash Store.

A complete line of windows, doors and sashes for sale at J. F. Morris' store, Prineville, Ore.
The best house to stop at when in Prineville is the Poindexter. Prompt service is our motto.

Uncle Jim Barnett, of Haystack, is suffering from a serious attack of erysipelas of the leg.
Travelers have learned that Hahn's is the place to get a good meal, good bed and good horse feed.

Fred Davis has commenced work on his store building and keeps his force of five men very busy.
For courteous treatment, reasonable prices and clean beds don't forget the Poindexter hotel at Prineville, Ore.

When your watch or clock is in need of repairs send it to F. H. Van Norden, the reliable watchmaker, The Dalles.
John Deere Hacks, Buggies and Surreys for sale by J. F. Morris, Prineville, Ore. Call and get a bargain.

H. C. Bopper, the Antelope sheep man, passed through Madras Friday on his way home from the summer range.
A party of traveling men consisting of Stubling, Bradbury, DeBevoise and Fowler were in Madras Thursday night.

W. R. Cook, of Haystack, will commence teaching for the six months school term of Montgomery school, Crooked river, next Monday.
Special low prices on cash bills for all and winter supplies at J. F. Morris', dealer in general merchandise, Prineville, Ore.

John Palmehn is in town for a few days. He expects to spend a portion of the coming fall and winter at Cline Falls, where he will winter a portion of his cattle.
Some of the ball tossers from Madras will journey towards Antelope in a few days, where they will assist the Prineville team in picking up a few of Uncle Sam's "samoleons."

Timothy Brownhill arrived in the city last evening accompanied by Mrs. Brownhill and children, fully prepared to make themselves at home among us.
Just as we go to press we learn that Fred Fisher, who was hurt in a runaway at the sawmill a few days ago, is getting along very nicely and will be as active as ever in a few days.

Mrs. J. H. Horney and her two daughters, Bertha and Clara, leave tomorrow for Prineville, where they expect to reside this winter, giving the girls the benefit of the new high school at that place.
N. P. Poulson, the plumber and tinner, of Shaniko, was in Madras Saturday making arrangements to erect a store building. He has a homestead two and a half miles north-west of town and is pleased with the prospects here.

Teempay, Jr., a near neighbor of ours, has favored us with a letter this week which we are satisfied will be very interesting to the readers of The Pioneer. We hope to hear from him again in the near future, telling something of the local happenings on the Reservation.
Go with the crowd and stop at the Madras hotel.

Madras is taking on a steady growth that is very pleasing to its inhabitants. Loucks is building a good-sized kitchen addition to his residence on D street. The carpenters are busy putting the finishing touches to Fred Davis' harness and saddle store. Loucks Bros. are commencing a large addition to their main building, and not, but not least, George Loucks is finishing and furnishing his barber shop in a manner that would be a credit to any city and certainly will be appreciated by a liberal patronage on the part of our people.

Take your produce to Malloy's Pioneer Cash Store.
While out driving with T. J. Malloy and family Sunday, Miss Maude Phillips met with what might have been a serious accident. Just after passing Jim Mayes' place, on the road to the Agency Plains, the road is very rough, and it was at this place that Miss Phillips was thrown out of the carriage, striking on the back of her head and cutting a large gash behind the left ear. She was stunned for a few moments, but pluckily refused to return and insisted on finishing the drive. Miss Phillips is to be congratulated on her narrow escape.

Did you see Malloy's ad. Better look.
Trade $25 with Hahn and get your photo enlarged free.
Malloy pays best price for your butter and eggs.

A. S. Phillips and J. C. Stoner took a load of machinery to Bend Tuesday.
T. J. Malloy and Martin T. Pratt made a "freighting" trip to Shaniko this week.
George Loucks has finished his building and will soon move his barber's chair into the front room.

Mrs. Nina Holt, daughter of our fellow townsman, Jim Mayes, is reported in a serious condition.
Poindexter hotel, electric lighted, electric bells; only modern house in the city. Main street, Prineville, Ore.

Nathan W. Wallace, an old pioneer of Antelope, died at his home in that place last Sunday afternoon, leaving an aged wife, four daughters and two sons.
There was a large crowd in attendance at the baptizing at Windom's Reservoir, Culver, Sunday. Misses Hazel Robinson and Nettie Peck were baptized, Rev. C. A. Sias officiating.

We are indebted to Don P. Res for his kindness in attending to the editorial work on The Pioneer for the past two weeks. His articles written during that time were doubtless read with much interest.
About November 1st, John Palmehn and a number of settlers living near Cline Falls will commence work on a large irrigating ditch which will be completed in time to irrigate next year's crop. Mr. Palmehn informs us that he has bought two of the best tracts of land in that country.

It was reported here that U. S. Cowles, who has been seriously ill, was dead, but we are glad to say that such is not the case. A gentleman by that name died at Shaniko a day or two ago and this appears to be the cause of the mistake. Our U. S. Cowles is improving slowly.
J. H. Horney, of Culver, was in town today and says that he is just through threshing his crop. The summer-fallow wheat averaged twenty-three bushels per acre and was raised on sod plowing. A part of the oats sown last February averaged fifty bushels per acre. Mr. Horney's farm is five miles south of town and is comparatively a new place, having only been under cultivation a short time. Mr. Horney, however, is a practical farmer and in consequence thereof is prospering accordingly. He thinks the future of Madras and vicinity is very bright indeed.

Lost—Pol-Angus dark cherry red milk cow, medium size. Liberal reward paid for information concerning her whereabouts. J. C. Stoner, Madras.

NOTICE.
A special examination will be held in Prineville during the first three days of the first week of the term of the Crook County high school commencing soon for the benefit of all common school pupils of the county who desire to take either a part or the whole of it. All who have previously made grades of the required standing will be allowed full credit upon them and all completing the examination will be granted a diploma by me admitting them to the first year of the high school. To correct any misunderstanding there may be, I wish to also announce that there is no charge whatever for attendance at the high school. If any pupil wishes to work for their board they will please communicate either with me or the principal and an effort will be made to secure them such work.
C. B. DIXWIDDE,
County Superintendent.

PROM SHANIKO.
Last week there was unloaded at Shaniko a large force of men, two carloads of draught horses and one car of tools, all to be used in construction of the Auto line between Crook Keys and Bend.
On Friday the J. I. Case Co. unloaded one complete threshing outfit for Mr. Strausser, of Madras. This is one of the most up-to-date machines to be had. Mr. Strausser claims there will be plenty of work next year on the Plains for these machines.
Messrs. C. H. Barnett and J. E. McPherson, of Wasco, arrived here from a trip to Agency Plains and the interior and make great predictions of the future of that part of Oregon, and were highly pleased with their trip. While they are both young men, they have spent their lives in Oregon, and we do not hesitate to say it would be safe to bank on their opinion.

NOTICE.
The first semester of the year 1904-5 of the Crook County High School will begin next Monday, September 19, at 9 a. m. Until the new building is completed about October 10th, the school will be held in the upper rooms of the court house. There will be classes in the first, second and third years of the course and later in book-keeping and related branches, in either of which we will be glad to receive students.

Principal.

A LETTER FROM AN ORIGINAL AMERICAN.
Editor Pioneer: Would you and your readers like to hear something of our Indian people who are your neighbors, and as the Scripture teaches us that "of one flesh and blood God made all nations of men," therefore are we not yet even brothers, and if so here goes for the account of us and our surroundings. We are corralled here on what is known as the Warm Spring Reservation; crouched down at the feet of that mighty monster with its crown of perpetual snow, Mt. Jefferson, and our Reservation extends from near Wapinita on the north to Matoles creek on the south and from the beautiful Deschutes river on the east to the summit of the Cascade Mountains on the west, embracing about 322,108 acres, but only a small portion of it allotted to about 800 Indians of the Warm Spring, Wasco and Pitme tribes, and scarcely any of the fine timbered lands is allotted at all, and only a small portion of the allotments are cultivated, as it is principally rocky sage brush land, yet the Indians produce enough to supply their own wants and what the Government needs at the Agency and school, besides quite a surplus to sell, and all is produced by Indians, as not an allotment is rented to white men, therefore the Indians are sadly industrious as they have to work rather than rent their lands and live in idleness. But it is presumed that in the near future the white man will be among us and a part of us, as inherited Indian land here is now saleable and one piece is already advertised for bidders, although at the present time we are practically living as in a little kingdom, and the ones bowing the lowest is permitted to reap the least, for we are legally almost cut off from all the balance of the entire world, as the counties of Crook and Wasco neither recognize any part of the Reservation as belonging to any voting precinct; however, under the U. S. Revised Statutes and the laws law we who have forsaken tribal relations and accepted our allotted lands are recognized, or should be, as American citizens, and it is practical, in some instances as, for instance, where a man off of the Reservation wants a license to sell whiskey, then our Red Men are called on too and some do sign his petition.
We must admit that Uncle Sam is doing great things for us, even more than poor white people get, as our children are boarded, clothed and schooled for ten months during each year and a superintendent is furnished to look after our interests and a clerk to keep tally on all the official business, a doctor to look after all our ills, a blacksmith to do our bidding at his trade, a seamstress to make clothing for our children, a laundress to keep them clean, a cook to prepare the food for our children, a dynamo tender to furnish lights, two teachers in school, and above it all we are granted one school and two Reservation farmers to teach all the greatest of industries and the greatest Indian civilization and the shortest road to Indian independence and good citizenship, and the Hon. Commissioner of Indian Affairs says the foundation of all Indian education sought is to teach us HOW TO WORK. Then send us home to our allotments and tell us now to work or starve. "So mote it be," Uncle Sam will then be receiver rather than giver. But our literary training seldom earns bread and butter for either us or our present generous and highly appreciated Uncle Samuel.
