CLEAN UP DAY.

Tomorrow is clean up day in Marshfield.

It should be made just what it purports to be.

A clean up day. Let us clean up the city.

Marshfield is our home. It is as necessary that the city be clean as our houses.

Health demands it. Beauty demands it.

Good morals demand it for is there not excellent authority that says "cleanliness is next to Godliness."

Here is where we are spending our lives.

Let us make this abiding place as pleasant as possible.

Clean streets, green lawns and flowers go far toward making life worth living.

Let us do our share to make it such a place.

Coos Bay with its climate and fruitful soil might be made an earthly paradise if everyone of its residents would do their full share in creating it.

Where nature has done so much let us do a little.

The ladies of the A. N. W. Club are deserving much praise for inaugurating the movement.

The public should show appreciation by making clean up day tomorrow a grand success.

A GOLD FACTOR.

Now comes a brilliant scientist, a man of repute, of recorded achievement, and declares he can, and will, manufacture gold of a fineness exceeding Government standards, at the rate of $100,000,000 a year at a cost of 10 cents on the dollar.

Color of the Lungs.

Much has been written about the coloration of the lungs of workers in mines in the coal regions. Physicians declare that men live just as long with black lungs as with pink ones, the natural color. I am sure of it.

Waking His Audience.

At about 3 o'clock one morning T. P. O'Connor was orating in the house of commons to twelve or fifteen members lying about in various stages of drowsiness.

A BEAUTIFUL PAPER.

In the promotion of practical work in accordance with its name, the Beautiful America Club of North Bend achieved an artistic triumph in the last edition of the Harbor issued under its auspices.

POHL FINDS FRUIT PEST

COOS COUNTY FRUIT TREE INSPECTOR FINDS MOTH IN COQUILLE VALLEY THAT WILL BECOME PEST UNLESS STAMPED OUT.

MYRTLE POINT, Ore., May 5.—Editor Coos Bay Times: Late Saturday afternoon I returned from an inspection of the orchards on the upper South Fork of Coquille river, where I found the Codling moth in great abundance, an insect which is one of the great dangers to all orchards.

I am sorry to say that the owners of such properties do not realize the seriousness; so far but very few have complied with the law.

So far as I know, the law provides fines up to $100 to be imposed by the county court for such neglect. Please owners of such orchards, be forewarned. Eight is slow but when it strikes it strikes hard.

As information, I will notify you and the Chamber of Commerce in Marshfield and North Bend of having received the following letter from Commissioner Carson of the Third District:

"Owing to necessary work to be done in other parts of the Third District, President Newell and Commissioner Carson cannot come earlier than in June. They will leave Drain for Coos county, June 5th, and may arrive in Marshfield June 7th."

All arrangements to be made for meetings in the different sections of the county are left to be settled and advertised by myself. However, I find it very necessary to ask for the assistance of all Chambers of Commerce or Boards of Trades, granges and farmers to cooperate with me so as to make no mistake.

All secretaries of such are respectfully requested to cooperate with me in this movement so as to complete a program satisfactory to each and all.

Since my work of inspecting is near its finish and there are only a few days work yet on the Coquille side and on Coos Bay, the Ten Mile district and the sloughs, which then will finish my work as far as inspection goes, I will be in Marshfield by Wednesday or Thursday and if possible would thank the Chambers of Commerce in your towns to allow me a few minutes to speak to those present at their meetings.

M. G. POHL, Fruit Inspector, Coos Co.

It is handsomely printed on a finely calendered book paper, and the text illuminated with some excellent half-tone engravings that add much to the general effect. It consists of three eight page sections, replete with well written articles, all reflecting the enterprising North Bend spirit in felicitous combination with an air of literary culture and refinement of which the city may well be proud.

The Sundial at Yale.

About the time of the Yale bicentennial celebration in 1901 some wag presented the university with a perfectly good sundial, which was elaborately advertised in the New York papers and with due solemnity set up in a conspicuous place on Berkeley oval.

An Austrian Dogberry.

The Vienna men of law once distinguished themselves in a unique manner. A Wachau peasant had been caught in the criminal act of throwing stones at rabbits. He had not hit them, and the rabbits had decamped without so much as suspecting the attack, but the peasant was hauled before the high courts of justice.

No Piratical Innkeepers These.

One lives mightily well in Normandy and Brittany, even at the smallest inns. Of course the fish are as fine as can be found in the world and in great variety. In season you will get most excellent oysters, and you rarely find an inn so small that it does not have a dish of appetizing crevettes, or shrimp, among the hors d'oeuvre. The meats are invariably good; chicken is omnipresent. One rarely gets wine on the table in this part of France unless it is specifically ordered, as little wine is made in Normandy or Brittany.
