SAYS HORSES ARE ABUSED

Chas. E. Buchanan Says Mail Carrier Should Be Prosecuted For Acts.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Feb. 1, '09. Editor Times,—

Why is our mail service so irregular?

The facts are that the owners of horses used in racking the mail from Roseburg to this city should be prosecuted for cruelty to dumb beasts instead of making shekels out of the poor miserable crippled horses which they are using to transport the mail. I saw four horses, every one of them limping and groaning in a twelve-mile grade often leaving blood on the snow as a mute testimonial of the agonies suffered in the trip from station to station. I personally think that the Humane societies should be criticised for permitting the operators of the stage to continue the galley slave treatment of the poor dumb animals. There is no use of blaming the drivers for they are as a whole the finest bunch of men I ever met in their line, and I have had ample opportunity to be a judge. They have hearts as large as buckets, often going out after a hard trip and helping the stable boy try and relieve the suffering of some poor old horse that has long since outlived his usefulness and should be turned out to die or better still shot and forever put out of his misery.

I saw two horses that stopped in the trail and laid down while being urged on by the driver. Their hoofs were split and the ankles frightfully swollen to say nothing of bleeding shins and fetlocks. There is nothing for the drivers to do but go on with the torture or else quit and if one does, his place is taken by some incompetent person and the poor horse is subjected to new torture. One of the horses could not be got up out of the stall on the trip and three had to pack the load of four, making a delay of several hours in coming through. Good horses would give nearly regular mail as it is not often that the trains are late.

The horses if they can be called such, have all the oats, barley and hay they can eat but what good is feed and stable care if the horse is ringbound, old and diseased.

I will state in conclusion, I will deem it a pleasure to meet any one denying these facts and champion the poor horses and I ask the Humane Society to investigate, not the horses that are driven into Roseburg but the poor horses at Johnsons, Lairds and Fairview.
CHAS. E. BUCHANAN.
