Hard On Stock.—Ranchers claim that the inclement weather of the last few months has caused more suffering to livestock than was ever known in this section. Unless the weather materially improves soon, it is feared that stock raisers will sustain heavy losses of young stock.

To Buy Hose.—The fire and water committee of the city council has been empowered to purchase 1,000 feet of new hose to be held in reserve by the local department for emergency purposes. It is expected that the order will be placed within a few days. A half-dozen or more firms are bidding on it.

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD.

Editor G. A. Bennett of the Coos Bay News has been apprised of the death of Amos L. Haring, a pioneer of Coos Bay who was mate on the old tug Fearless with Capt. Jim Hill in the early 70's, at his home on the Siuslaw on February 25th, aged 64 years and 10 months.

Concerning him, Mr. Bennett says: "Jersey," as he was familiarly known on the bay, was born in New Jersey, and came to the Pacific coast in 1869. He was married in 1874 to Miss Clara Gamble, of Kentucky Slough, and in 1878 he settled on a homestead in the Siuslaw country, where he moved his family the following year. He leaves his wife, two sons and five daughters, besides a large circle of friends who regret his decease. Mr. Haring served as a surfman on one of the vessels of the U. S. Navy during the civil war, and witnessed the famous battle between the Monitor and Merrimac in Hampton Roads."

OREGON FARMERS DIG UP $2,000 IN POTATO PATCH

PORTLAND, Ore., March 9.—Richard Cornett, of Milwaukee, unearthed a treasure trove in his potato patch that is reminiscent of Captain Kidd and his buried doubloons of ruddy gold. A rusted tin box, packed tightly with gold dust and nuggets, was turned up by his spade. The box weighed about 10 pounds. Its contents are said to be worth about $2,000.

The box was found just 22 feet from the end of an old rotted log. To mark the spot where the treasure was hidden, 22 spikes had been driven in the log. The row of spikes pointed to the place where the box of gold had been buried.

Old residents of Milwaukee say the gold was undoubtedly hidden there by an old Australian miner who lived on the spot 30 years ago. He died without telling the location of the gold.

The finding of the box of treasure followed closely the birth of a son to the wife of Mr. Cornett, the lucky finder of the buried Australian gold.

NOTICE.

DR. J. T. McCORMAC,
President.

"EASTSIDE" is a winner.

CASH GUARANTEE NOW ASKED

strange. Walter Lyon while at Washington working to secure federal aid for improving the harbor secured a copy of it and sent excerpts to Marshfield which indicated that Mr. Holabird was highly favorable to the construction of the line. Evidently there were some details in the report not indicated by the excerpts, probably intimating that the tonnage in sight, according to the estimate he was able to secure, was not sufficient to make the line pay at the start.

Another is the statement that the guarantee must be in such shape that any deficit could be paid promptly at the end of the year. There is no legal means of making such a guarantee. It cannot be raised by either a tax or a bond and if such a guarantee. It cannot be raised by either a tax or a bond and if made must be by personal contribution or personal notes. This would probably fall on a few in a community and would not be fair to them. This understanding of the guarantee differs from the understanding the members of the Marshfield committee who saw Mr. Harriman last fall have. They understood him to state specifically that he must be shown there was sufficient business to make the line pay or rather pay the amounts he now wishes guaranteed in cash.

There is also some question as to the amount guaranteed. First it was estimated that the cost of constructing the line would be $3,000,000, but lately this estimate has been increased somewhat.

That Mr. Harriman should have started the Drain-Coos Bay line several years ago when there was not near the population in this section that there is today or not near the business originating here that there is now and then began the work without asking a guarantee from any source and now, when there has been a big development meanwhile, that he should suddenly decide someone has to guarantee the financial success of the road seems peculiar to many. Many who invested at various points on the expectancy of his building in here, and having the guarantee that the starting of a big piece of work gives, are inclined to grow irate over the strange developments in the situation.

The telegram to which Mr. Harriman replied was from the Marshfield and North Bend Chamber of Commerce and was as follows:

"E. H. Harriman, Hot Wells, San Antonio, Texas.—Chambers of Commerce of Marshfield and North Bend request specification of manner and form of guarantee indicated by wire to Governor Chamberlain February twenty-third, by you to insure construction of Drain extension to Coos Bay without delay. As to the proposition of showing an earning of four per cent on cost of construction, we understand from press dispatches that Col. Holabird reported favorably on same after investigation at your instance relative to probable tonnage and general conditions. What further is required? Kindly wire so the Coos Bay Chambers may act. Signed, J. T. McCormac and W. P. Evans, presidents."

The telegram to Governor Chamberlain referred to was as follows: "Hot Wells, San Antonio, Tex., February 23, 1909.—Hon. George E. Chamberlain, Salem, Ore.: No need for a witness. Investigations all completed. Construction already authorized. Matter in hands of local officers. Is there anything else I can do?"

"I told the delegation from Coos Bay that I would recommend construction of road to that point if they could satisfy us that it would earn 4 per cent on cost or have that amount guaranteed each year for a term of years. This still holds good to you or them."

"E. H. HARRIMAN."

Malthoid Roofing

Mr. W. T. Somes, Proprietor of Bimini Hot Springs Hotel, Los Angeles, Cal., U. S. A., writes as follows: "Our hotel building, a flat roofed structure covered with Malthoid Roofing, is situated quite near the large Bimini Bath Houses that burned so fiercely the night of November 15th. The wind carried blazing shingles and red hot cinders in showers to my building, where they simmered on the Malthoid Roofing and went out, doing no damage beyond a number of small blisters raised on the surface of the roofing. We have had one rain since the fire and the roof is tight."
