

MEDICINE VIRTUE

depends on the medicinal quality, freshness and strength of drugs used.

This is the first point considered by us in the compounding of any prescription, no matter how simple or complex it may be. Quality to be allowed in this store must be proven of the very highest class.

The more critical the demand the more dependence you can put in our medicines.

Every drug has a recognized standard power. We insist that our drugs reach this standard.

We also take extraordinary care in selecting absolutely fresh drugs. In fact no point is overlooked to guard your health by way of correct quality of medicine for your ailments.

Then, prescriptions are compounded by experienced graduate pharmacists, under the most approved conditions.

Everything in our store is of first quality.

Drugs and toilet goods, rubber goods, baby goods and the many other usual and unusual drug store goods.

Everything we carry in full variety—so you need not look elsewhere.

Everything sensibly priced. Everyone treated alike.

Everybody satisfied if our hearty efforts to please count for anything.

Ours is a thoroughly modern store—an example of all that is latest and best in scientific pharmacy.

You who want to feel secure bring all your prescriptions here.

NOTICE

The best way to build up your own town is to do your trading at home. Patronize your home merchants. If they succeed, the chances are you will succeed. When you send a dollar to a mail order house you have the goods and they have the money. Trade at home and we keep both the goods and the money.

Repairing Ferry.

The ferry on the Sunset Bay road will be out of commission all next week undergoing repairs and painting.

Breakwater Due.

The Breakwater will reach Coos Bay about 8 o'clock this evening, having crossed out at Astoria early this morning.

Court in Curry.

Judge Coke announces that a term of circuit court will be held in Curry county in August. The calendar will probably not be a very heavy one, few actions being filed since last term.

Appraise Estate.

Arthur McKee, T. J. Hall and E. D. McArthur today are appraising the estate of the late Clay Moore. Besides his saloon, he left considerable real estate.

Take Up Charter.

T. J. Hall, C. F. McKnight and Dr. E. Mingus, the special committee to which the proposed new charter was submitted for final revision, will shortly complete the final draft and submit it to the city council.

Complete Foundation.

The piling foundation for the new Eagles hall on South Second street will soon be completed. The pile-driver completed the work Tuesday and the piling are being cut off today preliminary to putting on the sills.

Press Operation Success.

W. T. Merchatt received a telegram today from the German hospital at San Francisco stating that the operation on John Preuss was highly satisfactory and that he was doing as well as could be expected. This will be welcome news to Mr. Preuss' many friends on the Bay.

Has Blood-Poisoning.

W. J. Conrad of the C. A. Smith mill, is suffering from blood-poisoning in his foot. He had the first attack while visiting his parents in Minneapolis a few weeks ago but thought that he had fully recovered. However, he began walking on the member too soon and the result is another attack.

Receives Souvenir.

Deputy Game Warden Cal Wright has received what is probably the first souvenir of the Alaska-Yukon Exposition to reach Coos Bay. It is in the form of a small pin tray containing the official emblem of the exposition and comes from his son Rees who now has a position on one of the steamers plying out of Seattle.

Nann Smith Due.

The Nann Smith is due in today from Bay Point. It is possible that Mayor Straw and wife, who have been visiting in California, may return on her. According to the last advices from Mayor Straw, they expected to come up on the Nann Smith unless they decided to visit his old home at Klamath Falls in which case they would come in overland the latter part of the week.

Launches New Boat.

George Goodrum's new launch, the "U. R. E. Z." (pronounced "You're easy"), will be launched today at the Allger shipyards in North Bend. The new craft is an open boat, 24 feet long and draws about twenty inches of water. She will be equipped with a ten-horse power engine and will be one of the speediest crafts of the Bay, having a speed of between eighteen and twenty miles probably.

Spoil Flower Beds.

The women folks of the "sawdust flat" district which is to be shortly filled by the dredge Oregon, are bemoaning the fact that their flower beds will be ruined. Today, many are busy digging up their plants and flower gardens in hopes of saving them in boxes until they can be replanted on the fill. While the fill will cause some temporary grief like the ruination of flowers, it will be of great permanent value and consequently the men folks of the homes affected take a more optimistic view of the situation.

LITTLE TALKS ABOUT TOWN

A GRIST OF COOS BAY GOS-SIP GATHERED HERE AND THERE ABOUT THINGS OF PASSING INTEREST.

A friendly correspondent has the following to say: "Many people about Coos Bay are watching, with decided interest, the tariff action on lumber. Do they look as closely to the farming and gardening industries in this vicinity? Do they ask their grocer for the vegetables and fruits and berries grown near home? To grow our own garden products and use them locally will do as much to advance the prosperity of this community as a duty on lumber. We do not have to look to, nor wait upon, Congress, to grow our own gardens and raise our own chickens; they are in our own control."

"Of all the farms in the world perhaps the most remarkable is in Alaska on a small branch of the Tanana river, only 12 miles south of the Arctic Circle," said a Portland traveling man at the Chandler today. "It is owned and operated by a man named Karshner."

"A few years ago Karshner was engaged in hunting gold when he came across something which astonished him greatly. It was a little stream of hot water. He traced the stream to a spring, which was likewise hot, and presently it became obvious that a considerable area was underlaid by such spring. Promptly deciding that this was a discovery more valuable than a gold mine, Karshner gave up prospecting, obtained a quantity of vegetable seeds of various kinds and started in to raise garden truck.

"The temperature in that region sometimes falls to 56 degrees below zero, but a natural system of hot water heating, free of cost, was just the thing for truck gardening near the Arctic circle, where potatoes have a market value of 25 cents a pound and other vegetables bring prices in proportion.

Karshner's farm occupies a flat area with a convenient slant toward the south. Hot water, oozing out of the ground, forms three small streams which empty into the nearby river. The warm spring extends over a distance of about a mile, and as the owner says, the heat must be felt to be believed. He goes on to say that the place has a climate of its own, for often there is no frost when it is freezing everywhere else.

"This hot water farmer has seventy hens and six pigs. He claims that his crop of potatoes this year will average over 300 bushels to the acre. Tobacco grows finely and tomatoes are a success. Squashes of various kinds are grown, some of them weighing as much as fifty pounds. Not content with that, Karshner gets $1 apiece for his muskmelons."
