LARGE CROWD AT ELECTION

handed in their ballots. The vote resulted as follows:
Dr. McCormac 177
Tom Coke 112
F. A. Golden 2
Void 1

Following his election, Dr. McCormac arose and thanked the meeting for the honor conferred upon him. Besides thanking them, he said he wished to make a brief statement concerning his attitude toward Prof. Golden. He said that at no time had he taken any steps to supplant Prof. Golden or remove him from the schools. Furthermore, he said that the decision to drop Prof. Golden had first been suggested to him by Director Horton last winter. At that time, he said he told Mr. Horton that for various reasons, he could not vote for the removal of Mr. Golden and that if he was removed it would have to be done without his vote, and it was. He said that in making the change, Directors Horton and McFarland had come to the conclusion after carefully going over the school work to ascertain what would be best for the welfare of the schools.

Squabble Over Resolutions.

As soon as the result of the ballot was announced, and other business called for, Dr. McCormac stated that he had been informed that there were some resolutions to be offered. R. A. Copple introduced a resolution indorsing the work of the school board the past year and thanking them for their work. Alva Doll seconded it. Tom Bennett then arose to discuss the motion and said that interfered with the plans of the alumni who had a resolution commending the work of Prof. Golden and asking his retention in the schools which they wished to introduce. The adoption of the Copple resolution, he thought, would shut it out. He highly praised Prof. Golden in his talk and said that in order that the alumni resolution be given a show, the supporters of Mr. Golden should vote down the Copple resolution.

Mr. Copple objected to Tom Bennett's interpretation of his resolution and said that to vote down his resolution thanking the board and approving their work would be a direct slam at the men who had given time, energy and ability to the public without remuneration.

Tom Bennett again arose and said that he did not agree with Mr. Copple, but that he was endeavoring to get the Golden matter squarely before the voters to let them indicate to the school board their wishes. So, in order to comply with parliamentary rules, he said that he would amend the Copple resolution by substituting the alumni resolution. He declared the vote on director did not show the sentiment of the meeting concerning Prof. Golden because other things had entered into it.

A. O. Walker, the Christian Church minister, said this could not be done.

J. W. Bennett then made a short talk in Prof. Golden's behalf and asked that the Copple and alumni resolutions be merged and voted on together, the alumni resolutions to be added as an amendment.

Then R. A. Copple moved that the amendment to his resolution be laid on the table. An aye and nay vote was undecisive and a division of the house called for. This showed the motion to lay the amendment on the table had been beaten by a vote of 106 to 88.

Then the amended motion was put to an aye and nay vote and there was considerable talk of another division of the house to decide it, but before any action was taken, F. A. Saechli made a motion to adjourn. Arthur McKeown seconded it, and the meeting was declared over without any resolutions being passed. Many had previously gone home, leaving after the directorship was decided.

North Bend Results.

The North Bend school election resulted in the election of S. F. Jennings for director to succeed A. W. Myers and the reelection of C. E. Mayble as clerk. Not as large a vote was polled as was expected owing to the previous discussion of the matter. However, the fact that the field of candidates was reduced and that some of the prophesied contests did not materialize, there was not as great a turnout to the polls as was anticipated.

The vote was as follows:
For Director—
Dr. Ira B. Bartle 63
S. F. Jennings 71
For Clerk—
C. E. Mayble 56
J. G. Mullen 88
Nellie Weitzel 42
