To Hold Service.—Rev. B. F. Bennett will hold service at C. Selander's place Sunday, August 22, at 1 p. m.

Entertains Friends.—Miss Mabel Mauzey will entertain a few girl friends tomorrow evening at a "stunt" party.

Deliver Two Fords.—I. R. Tower yesterday delivered Ford cars to A. T. Haines, in Marshfield, and George Smith at Loon Lake.

Auction Bridge Club.—Mrs. Carl Davis will entertain the ladies of the Auction Bridge Club tomorrow afternoon at the Myrtle Arms apartments.

Service Tonight.—The Rev. Alex Steinhoff, district missionary of the Baptist Church, will conduct the prayer meeting service at the Marshfield Baptist Church this evening.

Slight Accident.—Dennis McCarthy had his first accident as a chauffeur the other day. While enjoying a spin in the country, a bad hill, a narrow road and stump contributed to a badly sprung axle.

Will Preach Here.—Rev. H. B. Foskett, convention pastor for the Oregon Baptist State Convention will preach in the Baptist church here Sunday morning and evening at 11 a. m. and 8:00 p. m.

Teaches at Bridge.—S. C. Sherrill who taught the Bunker Hill school a few years ago writes from Salem saying that he has taken a position in the school at Bridge and will open the term there September 20.

Will Return Here.—C. B. Landers who retired as agent of the Breakwater in Portland this week, being succeeded by L. H. Keating, will return to Marshfield to take a position under Supt. Miller on the local railway.

Moonlight Picnic.—Some of the young people of the town are planning to give a moonlight excursion to the Sandhills next Wednesday evening. The launch Albee H has been chartered for the occasion and will leave at 7:15 o'clock.

Will Warble in Curry.—Jack Flanagan, Charles Stauff, Vince Pratt and Jay Tower left this morning in Mr. Tower's machine for the Agate Carnival at Port Orford. It is rumored that the men expect to warble a bit and supply melody while visiting in Curry.

Recovering.—Dorsey Kreitzer continues to recuperate rapidly and is now able to be out the major portion of the time. Today he enjoyed a long auto ride with Dr. Higneworth. He and Mrs. Kreitzer may take a cottage on South Coos River and spend part of the summer there.

Trip is Halted.—Dr. R. H. Walters and family returned last evening from Roseburg, having called off their proposed trip to Klamath Falls and Crater Lake because of two broken springs. They spent an enjoyable week in Curry county following a vacation, camping at Bastendorf Beach.

Parents Both Ill.—Mrs. Ward M. Blake, who was called to her home in Minneapolis by the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Mullen, writes that the latter has recovered sufficiently from an operation to return to her home. However, Mr. Mullen has suffered a nervous breakdown and is now in rather critical condition, which makes the date of her return uncertain.

Murphy's Gardens.—A delegation of Marshfield Elks are to inspect W. G. Chandler's summer home "Killarney" on South Coos River next Sunday to ascertain if Murphy's reports about his big garden are correct. Mr. G. Chandler contends that Murphy hasn't anything except rocks and trees within three hundred yards of the new home and this resulted in a wager to be decided by the Elks.

Logs Were Drazing.—The police stopped one of the large trucks hauling logs down from West Marshfield because one of the logs was dragging in the street. City Attorney Goss warned the teamsters that there will be arrests made if this recurs. The limit of loads on city streets, according to a city ordinance is 14,000 pounds and the officers said today the loads must be kept within the limit.

Dark Returns Here.—E. W. Dark who was arrested here last week and taken to Hood River on a charge of non-support has returned from there having quickly adjusted the matter. It seems that Dark showed that he left a comfortable bank account at Hood River and that the trouble was due to relatives of Mrs. Dark. He wanted Mrs. Dark to come to Coos Bay with him and be free from her.

relatives but she objected.

To Visit Lodge.—Judge John Hall Grand Master of the Odd Fellows lodge in Oregon, accompanied by Robert Andrews, Grand Patriarch of Portland, will this evening visit the Myrtle Point lodge. This is the last lodge out side of Marshfield that Judge Hall expects to visit now until next October. For the past week Mr. Andrews has been making a tour of the county.

Cargo Shifts to Port.—Head seas and a buffeting wind late yesterday afternoon upset the John McCulloch on Front street and the officers picked up the craft in a bad condition and towed it into the Haven of Rest provided by the city. McCulloch had but 35 cents remaining in his back hip pocket, all of which, even in dimes and nickels, failed to make a decent rattle in the general fund.

Has Interesting Relic.—Prescriptions that date back to the time when many of Marshfield's now prominent citizens were little tots and took castor oil and etcetera have been found in old book dug up by Frank D. Cohan, of the Owl Drug store. These were made out by Dr. C. B. Golden who used to conduct the store under another name. The first prescription dates back to April 1, 1873, and was for Eugene O'Connell.

Shoulder Broken.—O. A. Mintony of Coquille was more severely injured in the auto accident near Bandon Monday night, when his car went over the grade, than was first reported. He felt pretty badly bruised but was able to take his car back to town. An x-ray examination showed that his collar bone was broken. A tire blow-out caused his car to veer out of the roadway. Sheriff Johnson and J. S. Barton escaped with bruises.

Comes on Visit.—D. R. Troxel, who was formerly on the gravel train of the Coos Bay, Roseburg and Eastern, accompanied by his wife and Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Goodman arrived yesterday from Roseburg and for several days will visit here. They expect to go to Sunset Bay for a short camping trip and thence home probably by way of Crescent City. B. F. Goodman is a brother to Rolle Goodman, of the Coos River Hatchery.

Goes to Curry.—Mr. and Mrs. John D. Goss expects to leave Friday for Gold Beach, having chartered Lynn Lambeth's car for the run through. Mr. Goss will attend a few days of the circuit court session and then with Mrs. Goss will camp and hunt for a week. They expect to go back into the hills near Agness. Mr. Goss is disgusted for his first chance at a deer this season turned out badly. He went hunting near Glasgow and while sitting on a stump a five point buck came ambling down about 150 yards away. The first shot missed and there wasn't any second for the deer had taken to the bush.

Not to Dredge Now.—Julius Larson received word this morning from Myrtle Point stating that at a meeting of the Port Commission held there yesterday it was decided that no dredging shall be done this year unless the necessary funds can be secured from the War Department. It is said the work would have cost about $4000 or $5000 and would have been principally on the shoals above the south fork. The dredge Beaver, owned by Mr. Larson, is now busy on Coal Bank Inlet and the Oregon is still on the north fork of the Coos River. It is said that other projects are to be considered at the next meeting of the Port Commissioners.
