SOMETHING NEW! ANTIFERMENTINE Preserves Fruit, Cider, Milk, Butter, Eggs, Tomatoes, Catsup, Pickles, Etc.

What is it: It is a simple, harmless preparation, free from taste, smell and color, that has the properties of stopping and preventing fermentation in all vegetable and animal foods.

What it does: It is especially useful for preserving fruits of all kinds without cooking, retaining their natural fresh appearance and taste.

Its Use does away with labor, and makes what has been a hot, disagreeable task, a delight and a pleasure. It substitutes for the Summer heat of the kitchen the cool shade of a lawn or piazza.

Its Results are never doubtful when used according to directions, and Plum Puddings, Peach and Berry Pies can be had in Winter as well as in Summer.

Its Use is profitable and economical, for it saves one-half of the sugar, saves the jars broken by heat, saves the fruit cooked away, and saves the time and labor lost by the old methods.

For Cider it unsurpassed. It stops fermentation at any point desired, and produces a sparkling beverage like Champagne.

The question is sometimes asked, "Is it injurious?" To allay all doubts on that score, we would say that we have consulted many of our most eminent Chemists and Physicians, and all unite in pronouncing the use of ANTIFERMENTINE as a preservative, a perfectly safe and harmless preparation.

NOTICE.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:
 Notice is hereby given that the County Judge, D. F. Hill, County Clerk, R. F. Jones and County Assessor T. E. Parker, will meet at an equalization board, at the Court House in Toledo, Lincoln County, Oregon, on Monday, September 25, 1893, to equalize the assessment of Lincoln County, Oregon for the year 1893. All persons feeling aggrieved at the valuation set in their assessment by the county assessor are hereby notified to appear at that time and place with their complaints and have same equalized.

THOS. E. PARKER, Assessor of Lincoln County, Oregon.

Dated this 24th day of August, 1893.

A Saleman writing from Nye Creek tells the following about a very smart Newport boy: A gardener and his three boys came along. "Anything wanted?" I went out and looked into his wagon,—butter, eggs, milk, onions, peas, lettuce, beans, potatoes and the nicest honey you ever saw, everything so fresh and nice. The twelve-year-old of his was the smartest boy I ever saw. He said to me: "Is your name Pennoyer?" I said no. Then he said, "You remind me of him very much." I said, "Do you know the governor?" He said: "I heard him make the nicest talk once in Corvallis I ever heard. By the way," said he, "I know how he stands on the naughty Chinese question, but do you know how he stands on the great and momentous silver question." I said he had never made a full revelation to me in this matter, but I thought he was a bimetalist. Then he remarked, "That he was convinced from all the gleaned from the best informed persons and papers that the governor was not a monometallicist." At that I fell over the wagon tongue, the horses broke loose and I broke for the house. I don't go out any more, but send my niece to buy, when there are boys in the wagon.—Albany Democrat.

A SPECIAL OFFER!

The above is a correct picture of THE OREGONIAN as it appears at the corner of Sixth and Allee streets. For many years THE OREGONIAN has felt the need of a more modern and improved building containing all the modern improvements, with the latest improved machinery for turning out a more perfect paper. It is now a fact that the whole Pacific Coast may justly feel proud of a paper that is as good as any in the world. Now that THE OREGONIAN is settled in this new home it feels like giving its many friends a benefit, and makes a special offer to those who subscribe prior to September 1st, to send the ## Fish of One, Fowl of Another.

It has become a by-word among many of the people of this country that the rich go free when they commit a crime and the poor go to prison. While this idea is entirely foreign to our system of government, still it occurs so frequently that the saying cannot be successfully contradicted. The people of the state were shocked some two years ago, because one Sandy Olds, a gambler and thug by profession, who shot down a fellow gambler in broad day light on the streets of Portland for no other provocation than that the other gambler's games was interfering with his unlawful traffic, was sentenced to prison for the short period of but twelve months, and the same judge sentenced a poor fisherman at Astoria, who stole a loaf of bread to feed his starving wife and family of small children, to three years in the same penal institution. Sandy Olds had thousands of dollars to defend himself and if possible to prostitute the court, while the fisherman had nothing. Another instance: Last June, we believe, a poor man, was clerk of a school district in Lane county and used for his own use some eighty dollars of the money belonging to the district. He was promptly arrested, but before his case came for trial he repaid the school money, every cent of it; and in fact, when he used the money of the district he did not know he was committing a crime, as he intended paying it back, and did do so, before the district needed it, but the dignity of the law had been rudely shaken, and the man was prosecuted after he had restored the money, and owing to the able and vigorous prosecution of our district attorney the man was sent to prison, his family scattered over the country, and a part of them taken to the poor house. But the dignity of the law had been upheld. Last June, in the district of the same attorney, the bank of Hamilton, Job & Co. burst up under very peculiar circumstances. When they closed their doors there were in their vaults $18,000 of state money, $11,000 of Benton county money and $7,200 of Lincoln county money. This money is still withheld from the various parties wrongfully and unlawfully and the parties who withhold it are walking the streets free men while the poor school clerk is in prison. Of course we do not suspect that the possibility of the jobs having money prevents our proper authorities from sending them to keep company with the school clerk. The clerk probably made his mistake in paying his money back. And still some people wonder why there is a growing disrespect for our courts and prosecutors. We would like to ask of able district attorney how he construes Sec. 1,772 on page 914, in volume 1, of Hill's Code? Why is it placed there? Has it ever been repealed? Is it constitutional? And if none of the three why the jobs are not prosecuted under its provisions. It reads as follows: "If any person shall receive any money whatever from this state or for any county, town, or other municipal or public corporation therein, or shall have in his possession any money whatever, belonging to such state, county, town or corporation, or in which such state, county, town or corporation has an interest, and shall in any way convert to his own use any portion thereof, or shall loan, with or without interest any portion thereof, or shall neglect or refuse to pay over any portion thereof, as by law directed and required, or when lawfully so demanded to do, such person shall be deemed guilty of larceny, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary not less than one nor more than fifteen years, and by fine equal to twice the amount so converted, loaned, or neglected, or refused to be paid, as the case may be."

DEAD BY THE RAILWAY.

The body of H. P. Butler found dead last Saturday.
 The community was startled last Saturday evening by the news that H. P. Butler, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of the Bay was laying dead by the railroad track just east of town about a mile and a half. Justice Hall, in the capacity of coroner, at once empanelled a jury and went to where the body lay, and proceeded to hold an inquest thereon, and the following facts were elicited:
 James Robinette, a farmer, was walking along the track coming to town and saw the body of the deceased lying by the track on its face. He did not at first recognize the body, and went at once to town to give the alarm. Dr. Rich, after making an examination, stated that the death was due to hemorrhage of the lungs, as it was plainly evident that death had resulted from bleeding. Mr. Butler had worked at home all morning, helping his grandson to roll logs and burn brush, and appeared to be in his usual health. About three o'clock in the afternoon he started for Toledo, about three miles distant. He had almost reached Mr. Denlinger's place east of town, when the fit of coughing overtook him, and he turned and started for home. There were marks along the track where he had spit blood almost continuously, and he had almost reached the crossing on the river at Dr. Rich's place when the end came, and he fell on his face by the side of the track and bled to death. He had struggled hard to reach home and be cared for by the faithful wife who has been his companion for many years, but his strength would not hold out, and his life went out by the side of the railway with no one near to minister to his last wants.
 The deceased has been a resident of the Bay for many years, and was an honest, upright man, a good husband and father, a good neighbor, and honored and respected by all who knew him. He has raised a family of eight children, four boys and four girls, six of whom, with his wife survive him. The funeral sermon was preached at the house on Sunday afternoon by Rev. L. M. Butler, and in the evening the body was laid to rest in the Brazelton graveyard, where it was followed by many sorrowing and sympathetic friends. The sympathies of the entire community go out to the grief stricken family in their sad bereavement.

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

School Superintendent Bryan was in town today for legal advice before making the apportionment of the county school funds. The division of the county has complicated matters in this respect and a portion of the money is now in litigation. An adjourned term of the circuit court will convene in Corvallis next Thursday and Mr. Bryan hopes to then get the matter settled. Should no decision be made he will go ahead and apportion Benton county's share and await the action of the court in the amount claimed by Lincoln county which is about $3,000. In any event this matter will work a hardship on our schools on account of delaying the apportionment.—Corvallis News.

MR. WILLIS BROWN'S RETURN.

Mr. Willis Brown has received returns from the carload of peach plums shipped to Chicago from Eugene the fore part of the month. Seventy-eight cents per crate was realized from the fruit. This was fully ten cents a crate above California fruit of that description on the same date; but was not what it should have been; as the railroad delayed the car on the route, and some of it had decayed.—Eugene Guard.

A PETITION FOR THE PARDON OF CHAS. A. FANNEY.

A petition for the pardon of Chas. A. Fanney, the school clerk of district No. 104, who embezzled $88.08 to buy food for his children, and was convicted at the June term of circuit court because he entered a plea of guilty to the indictments, is in circulation. It is being numerously signed in this city.—Eugene Guard.

RECEIVER HADLEY OF THE OREGON PACIFIC RAILROAD.

Receiver Hadley of the Oregon Pacific railroad, has had sent to him a section of piling taken from Yaquina Bay, which has been exposed for two years. It has been placed in a glass case and will be forwarded to Hon. Binger Herman at Washington, to be put on exhibition in the room of the committee on rivers and harbors. The piece of piling is thoroughly honey-combed, plainly demonstrating the destructive work of the terebra and the necessity of precautions against the pest on the work that has already been done at the Bay. To a person who has never seen anything of the kind, the specimen is quite a curiosity and is very attractive. Mr. Hadley informs us that he is also preparing a case which will contain samples of the many and beautiful native woods of Oregon, also the productions of the state, such as grains, wool, etc., which are shipped by way of Yaquina Bay, showing the importance of the harbor and hoping that it will materially assist in having congress appropriate money enough to make necessary improvements. Large photographs showing the bar at different stages of the tide and of other important points will also be sent.—Corvallis News.

THE INSURRECTION AT CHITWOOD.

The insurrection at Chitwood mentioned in last week's LEADER was a small rumpus kicked up at the depot at that place. It seems that the company wishes to discontinue the station there for a time and sent the auditor out to take up the tickets and other effects of the office. The agent, Mr. Hollister, objected to closing up and turning over all the goods, monies, etc. until he received what wages were due him, together with a large amount of back pay. This brought matters to a crisis. The auditor seemed to have the authority to discharge him but none to pay him. A telegram was sent to Toledo for the sheriff, and Deputy Sheriff Parrish went up there, but on arrival no papers were found and he was powerless to perform any of those fine official acts for which he is noted, and a hasty trip to Squire Morrison's was made, but when they got back to Chitwood the depot was locked and nailed fast and no one was around. The party adjourned until next morning when another futile trip was made by Deputy Parrish. At the last accounts the station agent was holding the fort, but the company have instructed its conductors not to recognize any tickets issued by him.

A PARTY HAS BEEN CAMPING IN THE CASCADES.

A party has been camping in the Cascades for a few days during the past two weeks, and thought they had discovered a fine stream of strongly impregnated mineral water. After drinking the water a couple of days they started to trace the stream to the head, and thought, perhaps, they might get an appropriation from the state, a la Sodaville. After tracing the stream about ten rods through the brush they found the half decayed carcass of an old cow lying in the stream, and above that the water had lost its mineral taste. They moved camp right away.

THE APPOINTMENT OF STATE SCHOOL FUNDS MADE LAST WEEK DOES NOT COVER THE WHOLE AMOUNT OF FUNDS COMING FROM THE STATE, BUT THE ANNOUNCEMENT IS MADE THAT A FURTHER APPOINTMENT OF THE MONEY WILL BE MADE IN DECEMBER.

Just why this money was not all apportioned at the present time is not stated, but we presume that if the facts were known the money is on deposit in some bank and some one is drawing interest on it. Meantime the schools of the state can suffer because the money is not forthcoming that should be.

PENNOYER HAS DECIDED NOT TO CALL AN EXTRA SESSION.

We think that if the members got together they would enact some more game laws.

TIMBER FIRES HAVE BEEN RAGING SOUTH AND EAST OF TOLEDO FOR SEVERAL DAYS.

No serious damage is reported yet.
