E. A. SHERWIN RESIGNS

Popular Commercial Manager of Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co. in Ashland Will Rest.

Mr. E. A. Sherwin, commercial manager of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company at Ashland, has tendered the company his resignation as manager of the Ashland exchange, effective December 31, 1912. This is on account of ill health, which will in all probability necessitate his going away for two or three months to a lower altitude, and his own personal business interests, which require his immediate attention.

Mr. Sherwin states that the company's business is growing so fast that he considers, in view of the above named facts, that the public will be better served by the appointment of a younger man who can devote his entire time to the company's affairs in this territory.

W. K. Merrill, special agent of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company, who is here to check up the office and install the new manager, says that it is with great regret that the Pacific company accepts Mr. Sherwin's resignation and sincerely wishes that he may be as successful in the conduct of his own personal business affairs as he has been in the past conduct of the Pacific company's business, and that his health may be entirely restored to him.

Mr. Sherwin has had charge of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company's affairs at Ashland continuously for the past fourteen years and through his untiring efforts he has developed the telephone business from a plant consisting of about one mile of pole line and wire and twenty subscribers, connected with a small switchboard located in the back part of the drug store Mr. Sherwin owned at that time, to its present plant with a modern nine-position switchboard requiring nine operators to make connections for the 800 subscribers that are connected with it. The outside plant necessary for conducting the successful operation of the Ashland exchange has grown from one mile to 105 miles of pole line, carrying 195 miles of open wire and five miles of cable, containing 1,350 miles of wire, and one-half mile of underground conduit, which comprise the Pacific company's plant now.

Mr. Sherwin is to be complimented for his successful development of the telephone business in the Ashland territory. Mr. Sherwin asks the public to give the new manager, Mr. W. W. Usher, the same hearty co-operation in the conduct of the company's business in the future that they have given him in the past. Mr. Usher will take up the duties of commercial manager November 1, 1912.

Mr. Usher is known personally to many Ashland people and Mr. Sherwin believes that he will be untiring in his efforts to give the public the best service possible, and as Mr. Usher has been connected with the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company and the Home Telephone Company at Medford for several years, thereby gaining the necessary experience in the conducting of the telephone business, there is no doubt as to his ability to serve the public satisfactorily.

Mr. Sherwin desires at this time to thank his many friends and acquaintances for their past co-operation with him in the telephone business.

LECTURE ON LIGHTING

Professor Fagan Had a Good Crowd Tuesday Night and Gave Very Instructive Talk.

The lecture on electricity given by Professor Fagan, an electrical illuminating engineer, at Chautauqua Tabernacle Tuesday evening, was attended by a good sized crowd despite the unpleasant night. Mr. Fagan is well posted upon his subject and gave some very interesting examples of good and bad lighting, especially in the way of show windows. He showed clearly that with the lights rightly placed there was not only a much better lighting with less current, but it was much easier on the eyes of the onlooker and much more pleasing in effect. Mr. Fagan also went into detail as to the manufacture of the different styles of incandescent lamps. He congratulated southern Oregon on its cheap electrical supply and closed by stating that he would be in the city Wednesday and would gladly give his advice free of charge to anyone wishing it. Mr. Fagan's local expenses were paid by the Ashland Electric Power & Light Company, and he is kept out on the road by the General Electric Company, thus giving the paradoxical example of a firm sending a man out to show how the people can get more by using less of their product. The uses of electricity are yet in their infancy, according to the belief of many of the best posted savants, and lectures along these lines are both interesting and profitable.

FORMER ASHLAND MAN PASSES AWAY

William H. Hill, Son of Late Hansell Hill, Died at Richmond, Cal., October 13.

William H. Hill, oldest son of the late Hansell and Mary C. Hill of this city, died recently at Richmond, Cal. The Richmond Daily Independent of October 15 has the following to say regarding his death:

TURN IN FALSE ALARM

Someone Called Out Fire Department Tuesday Evening When There Was No Fire.

Someone who apparently had an unbalanced mind turned in a fire alarm from the box at the corner of Sixth and C streets Tuesday evening about 7:20. The boys turned out and hauled the heavy wagon down there from the city hall by hand, only to find that there was no fire.

The police have a pretty good idea as to has been turning in false alarms, and say that if it is repeated the suspected parties will be examined as to their sanity.

The city ordinances provide a heavy fine or imprisonment for anyone turning in a false alarm or otherwise tampering with the system. The city is put to a cost of close to $20 for every time the department is called out and there is a strong disposition to make an example of anyone caught giving a false alarm.

The land was to be planted in corn, and the senator, the ex-governor, was to receive one-fourth. The corn was duly harvested, but the senator did not receive his fourth. Meeting the negro one day, he said:

"Yes, sah, boss, long 'go."
"Well, wasn't I to get a fourth?"
"Yes, sah, boss, dat's de truf, but dar wasn't no fo' th. Dar was jes' three loads, and dey was mine."

PREDICTS ROOSEVELT'S ELECTION

Roosevelt, based upon the fact that this campaign appealed to the speakers as one in which manhood and not property rights had been made the issue by Theodore Roosevelt and Hiram Johnson.

Our greatest trouble has been to get publicity, the large dailies of the big cities refusing to print the Roosevelt news. Oregon, of course, is safe for Roosevelt by at least 12,000.
