The first volley wounded Scarborough and Birchfield, one shot striking Scarborough in the leg, badly shattering the bone; another struck Birchfield in the left arm Both men were disabled. The wounded officers held the outlaws at bay although hard pressed several times. A continuous firing was kept up until dark.

In the meantime Birchfield managed to build a rude rock fort in which he placed Scarborough and as soon as darkness prevented his movements from being observed by the bandits, he slipped away, secured a horse and went for assistance. Returning at daybreak he found Scarborough still alive and holding the fort but suffering intense pain from his wound and exposure, it having rained and snowed all through the night.

The party arrived at San Simon at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon with Scarborough, and he was sent to his home in Deming. His would will probably prove fatal. A large posse has started in pursuit of the outlaws who have evidently gone farther back into the mountains where it will be almost impossible to dislodge them.

WELL PLANNED PLOT.

Attempt to Assassinate the Prince of Wales a Premeditated Act.

BRUSSELS, April 5 .- The attempt at the assassination of the Prince of Wales yesterday was the sole topic of conversation on the streets, in the cafes and theaters last evening.

The Patriote says: Investigation proves premeditation. The interrogation of the prisoner lasted four hours, and it shows that he was instigated by an unknown person, who persuaded him to buy a pistol on Sunday in the Old Market for three francs. Then they went to a wine shop, where Sipide wrote a letter, saving he had employment. He then went to the railway station and asked the hour of the arrival of the train. Later he entered a neighboring cafe and loaded his revolver in the lavatory.

The magistrates are going to verify the prisoner's statement. The committment-charges the prisoner with an attempt at assassination. Sipido's parents were deeply moved at the act

IRON AND METAL TRADES.

Another Great Trust Formed Taking In All the Large Sheet Mills in the West.

NEW YORK, April 5.-Discussing the condition of the iron and metal trades the Iron Age today says:

"An event of great importance is the completion of the consolidation of Western sheet mills under the name of the American Sheet Steel Company with the Apollo Iron and Steel Company included. This makes the organization more potent than if the Appollo had been continued as an independent establishment. The absorption of this great company, the largest producers of sheets in the world, is a triumph for the promoters of the consolidation.

"Those whose interests require them to make some decision relative to the particular course of the iron market are in as great perplexity as ever. Nothing has really occurred in the past week to indicate decisively whether values are more likely to go down or up. The great consolidations are now exerting their influence in maintaining prices which was so freely predicted a year or more ago at the time when they were being formed. They seem competing for the same class of trade. iron, which may be regarded as the key to the steel situation, remains

"The report that the Carnegie company has made a contract to deliver 40,000 tons of structural steel in England during the summer is officially denied. Sales of pig iron and steel rails are being made for export, however, and the prospects for continued business of this character are excellent. Inquiries are daily being received from Germany and Austria, as well as from England for quotations on pig iron."
