OCEAN, BAR, BAY, DOCK AND RIVER

Work upon the sunken oil barge, No. 91, in the lower harbor, has progressed as satisfactorily as Captains Daniels and Stannard have desired but the arrival down yesterday of the steamer Diamond O, with a barge and one of the biggest and best of the Standard Oil Company's pumping outfits, relieved the situation some, and the day was spent in attaching and setting up the apparatus, and it was gotten to work last evening, but with just what success has not been ascertained owing to the lateness of the hour of getting it started. At all events the big barge is not as badly off as before the Maverick undertook the work of pumping her out, and was rising slowly yesterday, and it is hoped to clear the four tanks yet intact and put her practically upon an even keel, or in such shape as to permit her being towed to the nearest dry-dock. The big pumps attached yesterday it is said threw a stream eight inches in diameter, of water; but what it is doing with the heavy oil is yet to be learned.

The Charles R. Spencer arrived down yesterday on her new schedule yesterday, with 24 people in her cabins and a grist of local freight. While here Captain Charles R. Spencer, noting the death of "Chief Spencer" of the Klickitats, over on the Sound, framed up a postal card of condolence to his father, Captain E. W. Spencer, of Portland, commiserating

NOTHING TO PAY

Hyomei is Guaranteed to Cure Catarrh or Money Back.

When you suffer horribly from catarrh and are constantly sniffing and snuffing, hawking and spitting, and doing other disgusting things, remember there is a certain cure, called Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me), which is guaranteed to cure.

Hyomei will give joyful relief to any catarrh sufferer in five minutes and it gives remarkable relief to consumptives.

Hyomei is medicated air prepared from the extracts taken from the giant eucalyptus trees of inland Australia, where catarrh or consumption is never known.

You breathe in this healing and antiseptic air through an inhaler and this air, with its peculiar soothing properties, passing over the inflamed and germ-ridden membrane (for catarrh is a germ disease), kills the germ, allays the inflammation, and in a short time completely cures the disease.

A complete Hyomei outfit, which includes a hard rubber inhaler that will last a life time, and a bottle of Hyomei, costs only $1.00 extra bottles cost 50 cents. Sold by leading druggists everywhere an T. F. Laurin guarantees it on the money-back plan.

UNEARTHED LITERATURE OF UNDERWORLD

SOME PECUOLIAR CODES DEMONSTRATED, AND HUMOROUS WITHAL.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Of all the literature and lore of the underworld unearthed from time to time by the police, a naive code of instructions in the gentle art of safe-cracking holds at least a near-record for brazen yet humorous originality. The last contribution of Yeggman Bell's letters reads like a sheet from a correspondence school on "how to blow a safe." It was found last night in the rooms of an energetic individual in the Bronx, recorded in the Rogues Gallery as No. 500. He was detained in the hope that he may explain a recent robbery. His treasured document says among other things: "The knight of the road should know his book in order to keep abreast of the times. I can give you a general knowledge of all the different kinds of safes, their platings, paddings, etc. so that once you have a practical idea of how to blow one you are there all right. The 'burglar-proof' safe is the simplest going in the world to get to. They are generally made with an oval tumbler, but the bolt is so constructed that you can't do it on the quiet."

Here follows a line of instructions on "How to Insert the Dope," and "How to Get into a Safe." It advises against going through the back, as it is likely to be of solid material without packing and the contents of the safe may be blown up with the explosion. The foregoing is but a sample. Before concluding the writer gives minute details as to the peculiarity of safes, the amount of explosives to use and other valuable hints that no up-to-date burglars library should be without.

NEW AT THE BUSINESS.

Julian Ralph's Son Tries Suicide at Old Coney Island.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Willard Ralph, 22 years old, a son of the late Julian Ralph who was prominent as a magazine writer, is in a critical condition today in Coney Island Hospital from a bullet wound inflicted by himself under peculiar circumstances. While walking along Surf avenue Coney Island, late last night, Ralph took a revolver from his pocket and fired a bullet into his side. Although the shot was heard by many persons and several witnessed the accident, none went to his aid and Ralph walked to a drugstore, a half block away and asked for a glass of water. The druggist observing that he was wounded caused him to be taken to the hospital. In his pockets were found letters which the police declared indicated his intention to commit suicide.

LABOR LEGISLATION.

Iowa Man Presents New Bill in National House.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Representative Kendall of Iowa yesterday presented to the House in the shape of a bill his ideas in regard to the desirable labor legislation. The bill provides that no restraining order or injunction shall be issued in labor disputes unless the order or injunction shall be clearly necessary to prevent such irreparable injury to property rights as cannot be adequately redressed by law and then only after previous written notices of the application shall have been served on the person cited as the party to be restrained or enjoined and who, it is provided, shall have due opportunity to appear and answer. The bills also restrict labor unions from the operation of the Sherman anti-trust law by providing that no agreement between two or more persons or between parties involving the terms or conditions of employment, shall be held to constitute a conspiracy unless the act or thing to be done or not done, would be unlawful on the part of any individual.

Whooping Cough.

"In February our daughter had the whooping cough. Mr. Lane, of Hartland, recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and said it gave his customers the best of satisfaction. We found it as he said, and can recommend it to anyone having children troubled with whooping cough," says Mrs. A. Goss, of Durand, Mich. For sale by Frank Hart and Leading Druggists.

HOT STUFF, THIS!

Chicago A. P. Has Some Dandy Cubs At Work Evidently.

CHICAGO, May 18.—Whether Miss Madeline Wakem was merely the "party" on whom a young aspirant for burglary honors sought to practice is something which she has not quite figured out, but she is quite sure she was in the drawing room at the home of her father and mother, Mrs. and Mr. J. W. Wallace Wakem, when she suddenly looked up and saw a stranger sitting on the sofa. "I wasn't at all frightened," said Miss Madeline in telling the story. "He was so small and looked idiotic."

The young woman is 15 years old. He had on a mask and when he looked up he said in a disguised voice "I want money."

"Really," I answered.

"If you don't give me some, I'll shoot you," he threatened.

"Mother doesn't allow me to receive strangers alone so I started up stairs saying 'I haven't any money, so you'll have to excuse me.' He came after me and I said 'Maybe the maid has some.' The maid said she had five cents. He said he would cut off her hand if she didn't give the five cents to him. She handed him the nickel. Then he went down the stairs and out of the front door. We didn't notify the police as it was so trivial we did not want to make a fuss over it."

The Human Appetite.

Of all the whimsical, shifting, unreliable, treacherous, exacting things in the world, the human appetite for the right thing to eat is, perhaps, the most unreasoning and imperious. There are those who humor it; others who defy it; and all men are more or less inclined to treat it with consideration. To find a place where these varying attitudes may be fostered, at the least cost in each case, and yet keep the appetite in proper and peaceful subjection, is always desirable information. One place that is conceded as perfectly adapted to this, is the Palace Restaurant, just opposite the Page building, on Commercial street, in this city. Try it once, and patronize it always; that is the rule of the Palace.

The very best board to be obtained in the city is at "The Occident Hotel." Rates very reasonable.

Biliousness and Constipation.

For years I was troubled with biliousness and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me. I lost my usual force and vitality. Pepsin preparations and cathartics only made matters worse. I do not know where I should have been today had I not tried Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. The tablets relieve the ill-feeling at once, strengthen the digestive functions, purify the stomach, liver and blood, helping the system to do its work naturally.—Mrs. Rosa Potts, Birmingham, Ala. These tablets are for sale by Frank Hart and Leading Druggists.

For a burn or scald apply Chamberlain's Salve. It will allay the pain almost instantly and quickly heal the injured parts. For sale by Frank Hart and Leading Druggists.
