

KENO DECISION COMES FRIDAY

JUDGE SETON WILL AT THAT TIME DETERMINE WHETHER MANAGERS OF PORTLAND CLUB CAN BE PREVENTED FROM RUNNING THE DEVICE.

Whether or not keno is a gambling game under the statute is to be decided by Justice Seton next Friday. Peter Grant and Nate Solomon, proprietors of the Portland club, and five players, arrested by Sheriff Word, were tried before him in Justice Reid's court yesterday afternoon and the cases of the proprietors taken under advisement.

The outfit seized as evidence by the sheriff and his deputies was taken into court. The principal witness for the state was Harry Kramer, said to be an expert on keno. Sheriff Word and Under Sheriff Morden also told of the facts connected with the arrest.

District Attorney Manning argued that keno comes under that part of the code which prohibits certain games, and any other device, whether the game be played for money, checks, credit, or any other representative of value.

LOSES POSITION AND PRESTIGE

BURCKHARDT IS REPLACED AS ASSISTANT POSTMASTER AND ALSO LOSES HIS POWER AS LIEUTENANT IN MATTHEWS' POLITICAL MACHINE.

J. J. Shipley will be installed next Monday as assistant postmaster of Portland, succeeding Charles A. Burckhardt, as announced several days ago in The Journal. For many weeks it has been a foregone conclusion that the change would take place, and though Burckhardt has done his utmost to retain his job, his efforts have been fruitless.

Nominally Burckhardt has resigned and the public is informed that his resignation has been in Postmaster Minto's hands since the latter took office a month ago. As a matter of fact, however, Burckhardt had a string tied to the resignation and he has made a desperate effort to retain his office.
