Architect C. C. Robbins has completed the plans for the new buildings of the Multnomah Trunk & Box company, to be erected in the place of the structures burned down early in the spring. The plling has already been placed in position at the site in South Portland, and work will be pushed on the buildings as soon as the contract is awarded. The box factory will be 150x50, two stories high, the veneering plant 50x70 and the dry kin 40x50. The sawmill building will be of the same size as the old one, but the napacity will be increased to 75,000 feet daily. Since the fire the company leased the old Smith sawmill at the foot of Lincoln street, and the veneering plant at St. Johns for the night run.

Weisman, Walter E. Weiz, William W. Wick, Jr., and Chester C. Moore.

For the first time in the history of the national guard of the state the men received pay from the government for the time they were on duty at the annual outing at American lake. This is a new departure, brought about by the provisions of the new army bill. The officers and men are paid the same salary while on duty as received by the regulars. Last night the sum of $5,-150.17 was paid the members of the Portland companies by Adjutant-General Finzer. The other companies throughout the state will be paid by a check. It is a mount due each company being sent to the captain who will distribute R.

The Arion society and others who went the faccima to attend the North Pacific Sangerbund have returned. The organization not only sang well but three of the members were honored with offices. Paul Wessinger was chosen president of the Sangerbund, Louis Dammasch was elected musical director and Fred Topkin was the choice for secretary. Portland also secured the next meeting of the Sangerbund which will be held in this city next July in Festival hall at the fair grounds. At this gathering it is expected that the famous Arion society of New York and singing societies from California will participate.

General and Mrs. Adna R. Chaffee and son, Cadet Chaffee, with Quartermaster-General Chaffee, with Quartermaster-General Chaffee, with Quartermaster-General Chaffee F. Humphrey and Captain Hutcheson, left Portland last evening for San Francisco, occupying O. R. & N. private car No. 52 through the courtesy of General Manager Calvin. The party came over from Vancouver to Portland yesterday. They will spend several days at the Bay city and other army posts in the vicinity of San Francisco, and return to Portland the first of next week. General Chaffee and his party express keen appreciation of the courtesies shown them by Portland people.

Gustavus Eiseman, formerly choir master of St. David's Episcopal church, who recently lost a suit for $220 against the church, states he will appeal from the verdict of the jury in Justice Seton's court to the circuit court.

A trim little cart and pony and two pretty girls caused all kinds of amusement to the "funny men" who were on the streets yesterday afternoon. Fastened to the harness was a large placard announcing that the outfit was "For sale." The cart was frequently stopped by those who made believe that they desired to purchase the rig. but they desired to talk to the girls. they desired to purchase the rig. but who really wanted to talk to the girls. It was only after they had been so notified by the occupants of the cart that the prospective purchasers learned that the rig, pony and harness were the only part of the outfit that was for sale.

restore station A, but they fear that it will result in doing away with some of the substations, especially those on Grand ayenue. It is not the idea of Postmaster Minto, however, that any of Station A will not be the station it formerly was. It will only serve the business districts of East Portland and be kept open a short time Sunday morning for the benefit of business firms.

Foster Wentz, son of Clayton Wentz, residing at 67 East Ninth street, was accidentally shot in the right hand Tuesday morning while hunting in the woods several miles back of Vancouver. He picked his shotgun up by the barrel and it was discharged. He was also shot in the side. Dr. Osman Royal was summoned to Vancouver last night to attend him.

After two hours' wandering through the city Arna Williams, the 13-year-old daughter of Frank Williams who drove to the city in a wagon from Spokane yesterday, was found yesterday after-noon and returned to her parents. She was sent to a shoe store at East Sixth street and Hawthorne avenue and lost her way.

Gen. J. H. Aitken of Boise, Idaho, and J. H. McKibben of this city will go to Seaside next week to make arrangements for the annual session of the grand lodge of Knights of Pythias, which will be held there next October.

In a mandate sent down from the state supreme court to the circuit court yesterday it is stated that the suit brought by Peter Hobkirk against the Hawthorne estate and the Fortland National Baseball club was not filed in the time required by law and the claim cannot be allowed. Hobkirk erected the grandstand on Hawthorne avenue and is trying to secure payment of the contract price. As the club only leased the grounds from the Hawthorne estate, Hobkirk must look to the baseball people for his money. The Hawthorne estate will recover $121.80, expenses and disbursements, in addition to cleanit court costs from Hobkirk.

C. E. Moulton of Tacoma, attorney for the Northern Pacific Railroad company, is in the city today. When that company selected thousands of acres of the best timber land in Oregon, covering it with Mount Rainier lieu land scrip, Mr. Moulton attended to filling the selections in the land offices at Oregon City and Roseburg. He stated that the company still owns a considerable part of the lands selected, but sold a large holding to the Weyerhauser Timber company. These lands are especially valuable, as the selections were made after cruisers filed their reports, before the last big rush for timber lands three or four years ago.

Dr. Roiand D. Grant, now of Seattle, aWsh., will preach at the First Congregational church Sunday morning and evening, August 7. Dr. Grant is a pleasing and brilliant speaker who filled the pulpit at White Temple Baptist church for five years from 1892 to 1897. His last regular pastorate was at Vancouver, B. C., but he has been supplying a pulpit in Seattle. He is now on his way to deliver a course of lectures in Denver, Colo.

While capturing Frank Guglielmo, the murderer of Freda Garacia. Postmaster W. A. Alcorn fell and injured his leg. He sent in a bill to the county court yesterday for $100 on account of the injury. Judge Webster was of the opinion that the county could not pay for such services. Commissioner Lightner wanted $25 appropriated. The matter was finally referred to District Attorney Manning for advice.

STATE COMMISSIONERS AT ST LOUIS JOIN PORCES IN PROTEST-ING AGAINST MECHBERY CHARGES AND THREATEN TO

An example of exterionate methods that sometimes creep into exposition management is seen at St. Louis in the excessive rates charged against state exhibits for transportation and handling at the fair grounds, according to a St. Louis paper. As the result of a meeting of state commissioners in the Oregon building at the St. Louis fair last week it was decided that if the obnoxious charges are not cancelled by the Louisiana exposition management the states will close their buildings and ship their exhibits home.

The meeting was held by a special committee apointed by the states' executive commissioners' association, to take up the question of extertionate bills that had been presented by the general service company within the exposition grounds for the unloading of freight and the hauling of exhibits. Presumably it is one of the companies that have been granted concessions by the fair board, under certain restrictions, and that have taken advantage of their exclusive privileges. A certain rate was fixed for these services in a circular sent out by the exposition management before the opening of the fair, and the state commissioners' committee says these rates have been exceeded. Another complaint is that the exhibits have been frequently hauled to the state buildings, and another charge made when the drivers were instructed to haul them to the exhibit palaces. Nearly all the commissioners have refused to pay these bills, but experience at previous fares has shown that when charges existing against state or other exhibits are unpaid at the close of the at previous fares has shown that when charges existing against state or other exhibits are unpaid at the close of the exposition the owners are not permitted to remove the exhibits until the charges are cancelled. The state commissioners now promise to have the excessive charges cancelled while they are in a position to enforce a just settlement.

In a letter written from Seattle In a letter written from Seattle plain B. J. Smith wants County Clerk Fields to send him a duplicate of his papers, which he says were lost in a fire. He declares they were taken out at Portland "between 1889 and 1890 or somewhere thereabounts." He says he changed his name because "it was hard to pronounce and not an American name."

Mr. Fields has searched the records and cannot find the name of Hashages.

Mr. Fields has searched the records and cannot find the name of Hashagen. Even if his quest were successful he could not make out new papers in the name of Smith, as such a duplicate would have to be exact.

"How do I know that Hashagen has lost his papers and that this is not a ruse to obtain papers for another man?" exclaimed the clerk. "I cannot take any chances. I was tempted to write Smith that perhaps he was using neither the that perhaps he was using neither the name of Hashagen nor Smith when he took out his papers here, but thought better of it. He will have to wait a while for his papers, anyhow."

Mears was formerly in the banking business, gave excellent opportunity for the practical jokers, which they did not overlook. A somewhat annoying circumstance, however, was the fact that some dispatches to papers in the east, where E. C. Mears is well known, gave the initials of the man in custody as E. C. instead of A. E. The Portland Mr. Mears naturally feels a decided aversion to being advertised as a bank wrecker.

CAUSE OF TROUBLE

JATE REGISTER CAUSES SCIEN AMONG ATTORNEYS, WHO JECT TO SIGNING THEIR NAMES BELOW TROSE OF RIVAL AT-TORNEYS.

Among the legal fraternity Sheriff commotion. The "blue book," as it is termed, is the tome in which all visitors at the county jail are expected to inscribe their names. The introduction of scribe their names. The introduction of the book is producing a result unlocked-for by the incumbent of the shrievalty. The object of Sheriff Word was to have a record of who visited the jail on a given day, should weapons or optim be smuggled into the bastile. It is found in practice that the book has produced a schism in the ranks of the attorneys. Before long, it is expected, there will be a local lawyers' four hundred in existence.

George J. Cameron did not wish to sign the book, it is said, because the name of a lawyer he does not like appeared on the same page. He did not want his name mentioned within sevral breaths of the other fellow.

Attorney Charles F. Lord visited the attorney Charles F. Lord visited the jail and found the last name on the "blue book" was that of an attorney under whose name he refused to sign. Finding he could not enter the jail until he had signed, he sat down and waited.

In a short time District Attorney Manning appeared. Lord explained his predicament. Manning laughed and obligingly signed his own name in the book. Lord then signed under manning.

SALMON RUN IS VERY DISAPPOINTING

F. C. Barnes has returned from South Bend, Wash, where he was making preparations to start up his cannery for the fall run, and adding some improvements to the plant, and enlarging its capacity. He expects that the run of salmon will be short, as it has been during the entire season, and believes that prices will rule higher on account of the scarcity. Mr. Barnes said:

"I will probably put up 20,000 cases."

Barnes said:
"I will probably put up 20,000 cases. There is a demand from Japan for white meated sait saimon, but they do not want to pay over 2½ cents a pound. It will not pay to supply the fish at that price. I have given a Japanese firm prices on a 200,000 pound shipment, but doubt it being accepted at the quoted rate."

Mr. Barnes also owns a cannery in southeastern Alaska. He says salmon southeastern Alaska. He says salmon are scarce there this season as in other places. He shipped 300,000 cases from Alaska to Japan last year, but they usually prefer the dog salmon, which are partially dressed and salted in the ship. He did not know whether or not it was rehandled at San Francisco before it was sent to Japan.

one cannery near the mouth of the Columbia had contracted to deliver 30,-000 cases of salmon, but as yet has secured only 19,000 cases. Unless an unexpected big run of salmon comes in the supply will be short. ent to Japan.
