

DISTRICT ATTORNEY WANTS THE EVIDENCE

NO WARRANTS ISSUED FOR GAMBLERS CAPTURED IN SATURDAY NIGHT'S RAID—IN JAIL ALL NIGHT FOR THEM NEXT WEEK SAYS SHERIFF.

Whether or not information will be had by the district attorney's office as to the proprietors of gambling houses whose establishments were raided and against the poker players placed under arrest by Sheriff Word and his deputies Saturday night, seems to be an unsettled question. The question of information and warrants lies in the hands of Deputy District Attorney Adams.

Sheriff Word telephoned Mr. Adams this morning and requested him to come to the courthouse in order that steps might be taken for the prosecution of the alleged lawbreakers. He said he was very busy but would attend to the matter at his earliest convenience during the day. Up to 2 o'clock this afternoon he had not made his appearance at the courthouse.

"Will warrants be issued?" echoed the deputy district attorney in response to a query. "That is something I cannot answer now. No evidence whatever has yet been submitted to this office by Sheriff Word or his deputies."

The preparation of bonds in the cases of proprietors and players was in progress this morning. If they are found satisfactory they will be accepted by Circuit Judge Sears, who named the amounts in which the various persons arrested should be bound to appear tomorrow morning. If Mr. Adams should decide that the evidence is insufficient it is probable that he will cause the persons notified to be in court to obey the mandate of the sheriff.

"Hereafter," said Sheriff Word emphatically, "when I arrest players I will have to go to jail for the night."

PIONEERS TO HOLD ANNUAL SESSION

Preparations are being made for the annual meeting of the Oregon Historical society, which will take place in this city on the third Saturday in December. The committee of arrangements consisting of Secretary F. G. Young and Assistant Secretary George H. Himes, have formulated a very interesting program.

E. P. Boies of Salem, a pioneer of the '50's, and one of the surviving members of the constitutional convention of 1857, will deliver the annual address. Judge Boies is one of the oldest practitioners in Oregon. He was born in Massachusetts before coming west. For 45 years he has been on the bench in this state.

He was formerly a resident of Portland and was a member of the first school board in this city. With him was associated Alonzo Leland and Anthony L. Davis.

The subject of the address will be "The Bench and Bar of Oregon Prior to 1860." An effort is being made by the committee to have a large attendance of the old members of the legal profession of Oregon on this morning. Following the address some time will be given to reminiscences of the early Oregon courts.

At this meeting the annual election of officers will be held and a short memorial session in honor of deceased pioneers.

WILL REOPEN CASE IF BOND IS GIVEN

Judges William B. Gilbert, Erskine M. Ross and W. W. Morrow of the United States circuit court of appeals arrived in the city yesterday afternoon. A decision was handed down by them in the case of Martha E. Shields against the Monongia Exploration company. Today an order was handed down stating that if the petitioner could protect the present lessees of the mine in question and furnish bond the court would be disposed to rehear the case.

CLAIMS SHE WAS DRUGGED IN HALL

Declaring she had been drugged and robbed of her gold watch in the Oberon concert hall, Virginia Valentine, called at the central police station this morning and told a pathetic story. She was still dazed from the effects of the poison she says was administered to her. A description of the alleged robbery was given by the victim. Detectives were sent out to endeavor to effect his capture.

The man was young and smooth shaven and insisted on my drinking. I took the glass, which he said was white wine, and quickly became unconscious. When I awoke I found myself in a strange room in the Palm hotel on Third street. I was alone and upon making an investigation found my watch was gone. I then reported to the police."

RED MEN HAVE BIG INITIATION CLASS

By special dispensation the three local lodges of the Improved Order of Red Men have fixed a fee of initiation at $5 until November 5, the intention being to greatly increase the membership of the order before the Lewis and Clark expedition. A class numbering 100 candidates is expected to be admitted on joint initiation early in November.

SKULL FRACTURED; GLAZIER MAY DIE

WATER FALLS IN SALOON WEEKS INVESTIGATED AND KISS HIS HEAD AGAINST CEMENT FLOOR—HOSPITAL SURGEON SAYS HE MAY NOT RECOVER.

Clarence Glazier, a waiter, lies at St. Vincent's hospital in a serious condition as the result of a fall at the Winter Garden, Third and Morrison streets, a week ago. The base of the skull was fractured by the fall and it is feared that he will not recover.

Glazier was employed in a First street restaurant and went into the Winter Garden last Tuesday night after he was relieved from work. He is said to have been in an intoxicated condition and to have attempted to create a disturbance. He was standing in front of the bar when another man who was drinking the alleged lawbreaker and he fell to the floor.

His head struck the cement floor and his skull was injured. He was removed to his home, 394 Fourth street, where he remained for several days. Last Friday his condition was considered serious enough to warrant his removal to St. Vincent's hospital, and there it was found that he suffered from a hemorrhage of the brain, resulting from the fractured skull.

A report of the affair was made to Chief Hunt, Wednesday by Sergeant Hogeboom. He is of the opinion of the affair which Chief Hunt has kept strictly private since that time. Sergeant Hogeboom refused to discuss the accident this morning.

"The man was standing right in front of the bar when he fell," said Assistant Manager Jackson of the Winter Garden. "He fell as soon as the man struck against him and his head struck the floor."

The physician who is attending Glazier declared today that he may recover, though the odds are against him.

INSIDE INN FOR FAIR IS CERTAIN

It is practically settled that a temporary hotel of 500 and perhaps 1,000 rooms will be built in the Lewis and Clark grounds before the opening of the fair. The project is being considered by Mrs. McReaden, manager and owner of the American inn at St. Louis, will have this concession. President H. W. Goode of the fair corporation stated this morning.

"Mrs. McReaden has applied for the concession to build an American inn at the grounds, and the directors of the corporation have notified her that her request would be favorably considered. She will arrive in the city with her architect within a few days and the matter will be definitely determined then. As the form of the contract has been practically approved by the two contracting parties, and as we have confidence in Mrs. McReaden and believe she is the best person that could be placed in charge of such an enterprise, there is little reason to believe that the contract will not be soon signed."

The corporation has for months been considering the building of a new hotel. It invited Mrs. McReaden some time ago to visit her in St. Louis and the manager of the inside inn at St. Louis to make proposals for the concession. The invitation was restricted to those who were on the list of persons whose experience necessary to make the undertaking a success. The manager of the inside inn was recently crippled in an accident and was forced to give up the idea of coming to Portland.

The proposed contract between Mrs. McReaden and the corporation will stipulate that not less than 500 rooms are to be built in the Lewis and Clark grounds, and that the fair will provide for a certain concession price and for a portion of the receipts of the hotel from all sources. This plan will take the entire burden of caring for the fair's guests off the shoulders of the management.

Should the present prospective plan fail to materialize, the inside inn will be built by local capital. The same arrangement will be made at St. Louis where the inside inn people add 50 cents a day to the bills of their guests who remain in the grounds during the night. The damper atmosphere today has given rise to the fair management.

FOREST FIRES ARE NOW UNDER CONTROL

Fire that had been smoldering in a large fallen tree just above Rocky point near Holbrook, broke out last night and in spite of the cool and foggy atmospheric conditions the flames gained strong headway, driven by a west wind, and destroyed about 40 rods of the Hooper log flume and 30 rods of the Rocky Point Logging company's flume. A determined fight was made by a large force of men and horses today and the fire was put under control.

Today conditions are more favorable about Holbrook than at any time in the last few weeks. The fire on the Ed White timber has burned over the old stumpage and reached green timber in the neighborhood of Patterson's park, where the flames have subsided. The damp cool atmosphere today has gone far to check the flames in every direction. Reports from the Hammond timber in the Nehalem valley in Clatsop and Tillamook counties indicate that the flames there have made no gains. With a continuation of cool weather it is thought they will soon be completely under control, but dry weather and high winds this week could result in great destruction of valuable timber.

FAIR RATES ARE CONSIDERED HIGH

The Lewis and Clark fair corporation this morning received a letter from Director Adolph Wolfe who is now touring Germany and the continent. Mr. Wolfe sends his thanks for his rejection and states that he will work among his fellow countrymen for the success of the 1905 exposition. Mr. Wolfe writes that the European visitors at the St. Louis fair were chiefly disappointed because of the exorbitant fair rates and that he thought many would be deterred from visiting Portland for this reason. He believed, however, that the Portland fair would get its full share of continental patronage next year as many who had heard of the wonders of the country were desirous of seeing it and would take advantage of the rates offered.

WOULD PAY PRICE FOR "QUICK DIVORCE"

"What do you charge for divorce here? I want one and I want it right away."

These words were uttered by Mrs. Nina Lepetit, a pretty little masseuse who stood in front of the filing window in the circuit court and addressed H. C. Smith, chief deputy clerk, meanwhile nervously fingering a silver-netted purse.

Mr. Smith was astonished; so much so, in fact, that he was at a loss for an answer, and after opening his mouth, forgot to shut it.

"Well, well, what is your price? I am willing to pay anything reasonable," continued Mrs. Lepetit, a note of irritation in her voice. She began drumming on the counter with her fingers as a means of relieving the nervous tension under which she was resting.

"Why, madame, we can't sell you a divorce," finally ejaculated Mr. Smith. "You will have to see a lawyer and have him bring suit."

This statement visibly perturbed Mrs. Lepetit. She petulantly protested against the delay which would attend such procedure. The legal provisions governing divorce were explained to her by Mr. Smith, whereupon she sought Attorney John F. Logan and had a complaint filed.

In this document the fair complainant alleged that her husband had treated her cruelly since their marriage at Los Angeles, Cal., November 14, 1903. She avers that he has cursed her and recently knocked her down, being prevented from shooting her with a revolver only by the interference of other persons.

CARPENTERS' UNION IN CONVENTION

(Journal Special Service.) Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 19.—The United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America met here today at the biennial convention. Between 300 and 400 delegates filled the West Side Turner hall when the convention was called to order by President William Huber.

The convention has an unusual amount of important business to transact. First and foremost on the agenda is the proposition to amalgamate with the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners, an English organization with a membership of about 3,500 in this country. Another important matter before the delegates from all parts of the country, those present included delegates from Canada, Porto Rico and the Hawaiian islands. After the addresses of welcome and responses and the appointment of the usual committees, the convention adjourned until tomorrow.

The body will be in session two weeks, but after today all sessions will be executive.

ALL JEWS FAST ON HOLIEST DAY

At the three Jewish synagogues today the congregations are observing the Hebrew's holiest day, Yom Kippur.

The services began at 10 o'clock this morning at the Temple of Beth Israel, and will continue throughout the day. The program includes a memorial address by Dr. Wise on "Setting One's House in Order."

At 3 o'clock this morning the congregations of Ahavai Sholem and Talmud Torah began their service, and they will continue until sunset. All Hebrews are fasting during Yom Kippur.

The Jewish day of atonement is similar to the Christian's Easter, but is observed with more elaborate ceremony. The day of atonement, known as Kol Nidre, really begins the celebration. It was kept in Beth Israel last evening by a congregation that completely filled the temple. The excellent music was a feature of the gathering.

NEW CLASSES START IN Y. M. C. A. COURSE

A new feature is being introduced by the Portland Young Men's Christian association at its building, corner of Tenth and Fourth streets. It is a course fitted up for an educational department, to include physics, chemistry and electrical engineering. The laboratory will be sufficiently complete to enable instructors to give practical instruction in all three of these studies. The classes for physics and chemistry will be in charge of Frank Harrison of the Portland High school, and the instructor in electrical engineering.

A room in the building that has been used as a meeting room is being fitted up for a kitchen, to be called the "Little Inn," where lunches and soft drinks are to be served. It is modeled after the inn in the association at Buffalo, N. Y., where the feature has proved very popular. The Portland inn will be colonial in style.

EX-CONVICT IS IN TROUBLE AGAIN

Fred Love was arraigned in the municipal court this morning on a charge of larceny of $100 in gold coin. He was charged with carrying off a check for an equal amount from the cash drawer of the Favorite saloon, Fourth and Couch streets. The case will be heard in detail tomorrow. It is the man who claims to have been the prisoner at work will be present.

PEOPLE IDLE FOR A SECOND WEEK

MORE THAN 700 SCHOOLS WERE OPEN PLACES TO STUDY AS A RESULT OF DELAYED REPAIRS—BANKERS SCHOOL OPENS MONDAY NEXT.

At the opening of the second week of work in the public schools there are still about 700 pupils waiting for instruction. Nearly 400 of this number attend the Atkinson school, which will not be ready for occupancy before next Monday, while others have not entered school on account of the unfinished condition of the buildings.

The Clinton Kelly and Portsmouth schools opened this morning with a large attendance. In both schools a greater number of pupils assembled than on the opening day last year. There were 234 pupils at the Clinton Kelly, against 381 on the opening day last year, and at the Portsmouth there were 226 against 184 for last year.

The Atkinson school is the only one which cannot accommodate all or a portion of the pupils at the present time. Until it is completed the 587 pupils who attend there will be without instruction. Although the three higher grades are supposed to meet in the portables at the Couch school, the attendance has been so light that the principal has not even made a record of it.

On account of the unfinished condition of the Brooklyn and Ladd schools the classes are not very well organized, as many of the pupils have failed to appear. Both of these buildings will be completed by the end of the week.

In all the schools a large increase in attendance was reported today. The increase in the schools which opened last week is shown as follows: The Ladd school 76 new pupils entered this morning. The increase in other schools is as follows: Central 23; Woodlawn, 20; Highland, 36; Williams-Avenue, 28; Holladay, 29; Sellwood, 27; Knox Central, 25; Sunnyside, 23; Harrison, 24; Falling, 20.

PRESIDENT GOODE ON THOMPSON CASE

President H. W. Goode of the Lewis and Clark corporation does not agree with the statement made by members of the fraternal building board. Several of the members of the board have stated that Secretary Thompson of the association was personally distasteful to them.

"I have never held or stated any personal dislike to Mr. Thompson and it is immaterial to me whether he remains secretary or not. The only thing on which members of the board could base their statements was a remark of mine to the effect that the fraternal building did not seem to be progressing very rapidly and that something was evidently wrong. I did not place the blame and I could not say what the building is. We have donated a site and our responsibility ends there until the fraternal building has been completed. As for me having any predilections, or preferences or dislikes, that is entirely out of the question, as I know nothing of the situation."

THEY WILL CONSIDER RECLAMATION PLANS

The Portland delegation to the Ontario irrigation convention departed last night on the Oregon Railroad & Navigation company's line. There were half a dozen men, including A. H. Devers, A. King Wilson, Maj. J. G. Eastwick, E. M. Brannick and others. This is the annual convention of the Oregon irrigation association and Ontario people have made extensive preparations for the entertainment of the delegates. Speeches by Senator Mitchell, Mr. Devers and others prominent in the movement are on the program. A large list of premiums has been offered for the best exhibits of irrigation-grown fruits and products shown at the convention.

Mr. Devers has received an invitation to a convention to be held at Spokane October 5, called for the purpose of studying the government reclamation act and laying plans for co-operation between the states of Oregon, Idaho, Washington and Montana to secure appropriations and active assistance from the government in the work of reclaiming arid lands. An executive committee will be appointed to work directly with the government agents. Speeches will be heard from George H. Maxwell, an irrigation expert and others.

Circulars have been sent out by Mayor H. L. Gilkey of Grants Pass, President H. Thomas of the board of trade there and H. E. Foster, vice-president of the Southern Oregon Mining association urging a large attendance at the Grants Pass meeting of the Oregon Development league September 22.

QUEER COMBINATION SETS OWSLEY FREE

For the first time in the history of the justice of the peace courts, Justice Seton for the seat side, and Justice Reid for the west side districts, were both out of the city, and Clerk Fred Olson was instructed to prepare a special order explaining the reason for Municipal Judge Hogie's action.

Owsley was arrested at Colfax, Wash., and was extradited by the state at an expense of more than $100. Considerable time of detectives was also given in tracing the matter and bringing the man to the point where the arrest was made.

Because Owsley's attorneys were threatening to bring habeas corpus proceedings, Mr. Adams told Judge Hogie and because of the unwillingness of the prosecuting witness to testify, he wanted the action dismissed.

FAST DRIVER IS LANDED IN JAIL

While racing their horse back and forth on Sacramento street yesterday afternoon John McGinnis and a companion named McCroskey were placed under arrest by City License Collector M. A. McEachern. It is said that they were intoxicated and were exceedingly reckless in their driving. Several times they came near running down children and adults.

There was no regular officer near and Mr. McEachern, who is a special officer, was asked to arrest the men. He did so and took them to the police station. McGinnis' family came after him, but the officer took his man to the police station where a charge of fast driving was booked against him. He was released on $100 bail. McCroskey was allowed his liberty.

INSANE LOVE CAUSES MURDER AND SUICIDE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 15.—An Italian, met Daley Caplan, was in a vacant lot on Jackson street this morning and proposed marriage to a girl. The girl declined, desiring that she should be married in a more formal manner. The Italian then shot himself in the chest and then shot his girl.

Both died almost instantly. The girl had a baby in other areas who was shot by the bullet going through the girl's body.

HANGS HIMSELF AT WATERVILLE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Eugene, Or., Sept. 19.—A. G. Post, residing at Waterville, 15 miles east of Eugene, committed suicide on Sunday about noon by hanging himself in the barn of his son, F. A. Post, with whom he was living.

The old man, who was 80 years of age, was missed from the house about 11:30 o'clock in the forenoon. A search was made and his lifeless body was found dangling at the end of a rope with the other end tied around a rafter in the barn.

The cause of the rash act is not known. The man was in good health for one of his age and the only reason that can be ascribed is that probably realizing his dependent condition he became despondent and decided to end his existence.

He came to this county three years ago from Ohio and has since been living with his son. He leaves no other relatives in this vicinity.

Control of Sitka Canneries. The entire salmon cannery interests on the Sitka river are now owned by O. W. Hurd, the wealthy merchant and ship owner of Florence. He has recently bought out the C. Timmons company and the B. H. Moore company and has consolidated under the firm name of the Sitka Canneries.

Public Schools Open. The Eugene public schools began their fall session this morning. The attendance is considerably larger than the first day of school last year. This is partly due to the fact that hop picking is about over and many children who were employed in the hop fields started into school the first day, whereas last year school commenced during the middle of hop picking and a large number of the pupils were kept away on that account.
