GENERAL MANAGERS OF PORTLAND
S. A. HARRIS STEAMSHIP COMPANY

J. H. Dawson, local general manager of the Portland & Asiatic Steamship company, has notified the head office at San Francisco that another freighter is being loaded here to load Japan and China.

Inquiries for space are still coming in from all over the country, and during the present month it is possible that the company could easily load two extra steamers if they were to be had at reasonable charter rates.

One of the smallest but busiest steamboat lines in the state is that which is in operation on Klamath lake, between the towns of Klamath Falls and Keno.

G. H. Woodbury is the owner of the line, and accompanied by his wife, he was a Portland visitor yesterday.

The Klamath Falls railroad is not provided with the best of accommodations, says Mr. Woodbury.

Mr. Woodbury reports that the principal topic of interest down that way now is an irrigation project which is under consideration.
