

MURCHISON BOYS STILL MISSING

Lads Could Not Smoke and Chew at Home and So Ran Away.

HAVE BEEN GONE FOR NEARLY TWO MONTHS

Poor Mother Advertises for Her Sons and Prays for Their Return.

Willie and Cecil Murchison, aged 15 and 16 respectively, lived with their mother, Mrs. Murchison, at McKinney street and the Boulevard, University Park. Their home is on an eminence overlooking the Willamette river.

For the past four years they have lived their lives as if they were on a great pine woods beyond. They ran away from home two months ago, and all efforts to locate them by a distracted mother have been unavailing.

The youngsters have no reason for their going, except that they wanted to find a job. Cecil, the younger, wanted to smoke cigarettes, but was prohibited by his mother.

The boys are described as tall for their years and slender. The younger had curly dark hair.

WERLEIN SHOWS HE IS YET RECALCITRANT

City Treasurer J. E. Werlein and the civil service commission are still at loggerheads over the appointment of a clerk for the treasurer's office.

The city treasurer says he will not submit to the wishes of the commission, and it is rumored that unless he complies with the requirements of the city charter the commission will charge him with a misdemeanor, which is punishable by fine and imprisonment.

J. B. P. Copeland is still in the treasurer's office, and Mr. Werlein stated this morning that although his temporary appointment of 30 days will expire December 7, Mr. Copeland will be found at work at his desk on the following morning.

"Not so much depends upon clerical ability in my office," said Mr. Werlein this morning. "It is the man in whom I have confidence. If I am to be held responsible for the city's money, I should not have a little to say regarding the selection of my clerks who have to handle large sums of money. If they would make these clerks directly responsible to the city, I would be different. I am held responsible for this office, and I have to answer for my clerks. I want a man in my office of my own choice, and not a man the civil service gives me, although a few of them are good men."

THIS POOR DOG MET A VERY CRUEL FATE

Evidence of a horrible murder was discovered by Patrolman Craig this morning after he was detailed this morning by Police Captain Grizzmacher to investigate the report that a "human body, half covered with dirt in a rough grave, lay with the walls up here to the sky. The light was evidently not in on the deal."

As John Dirksen of 930 Rodney avenue and Oscar Schweitzer, living at 700 East Eighteenth, reported, the body had been partly interred close to the gravel pit near Midway, and it is true that the flesh was off the hands while the ribs were bare. After giving all the evidence gathered at a four o'clock time, the coroner made the following statement:

"The body is that of one large, full-grown gray dog. There is no doubt whatever that he was murdered."

SIX MONTHS IN JAIL FOR SMILING MAN

"A man may smile and smile and be a villain still." This was the comment of Deputy City Attorney Fitzgerald in the police court this morning after the defendant, who had testified in his own defense on the charge of disorderly conduct, preferred by Patrolman Foster. During the trial, which brought out a shameful condition of affairs relative to his wife, Hightower admitted evoking comment from Mr. Fitzgerald.

"The evidence shows plainly that you brought this girl here from Chicago and have since acted in a way which leads to the impression that you were trying to get her to lead a disreputable life," said Judge Hogue. "It may be true that you are married. If that is so, it makes matters all the worse. I will send you to jail for three months."

Foster of Cheney, have incorporated the Eastern Washington Railroad company in a way which will capitalize at $200,000. Much of the stock has been subscribed by farmers on the proposed route. The line will pierce the heart of the country in the state court, its principal source of revenue will be in transporting the immense wheat crop.

SUPREME COURT MAKES DECISIONS

Motion to Dismiss Appeal of Marquam Against Title Guarantees & Trust Company Denied.

HARLOW'S SUIT AGAINST OREGONIAN DISMISSED

Controversy Arose Over Delivery Route in Territory South of Alder Street.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Salem, Or., Dec. 5.—Decisions were handed down by the supreme court today as follows:

P. A. Marquam, respondent, against the United States Mortgage & Trust company, the Title Guarantees & Trust company, Oregon company and J. Thorburn Ross, appellants. This was an appeal from a decision by Judge Sears of Multnomah county. The opinion was rendered by Chief Justice Moore. A motion to dismiss the appeal was denied.

F. E. and L. A. Harlow, appellants, against the Oregonian Publishing company and H. L. Pitcock, respondents. This was an appeal from Multnomah county, and the decision of Judges Cleveland, George and Sears was affirmed. The opinion was by Justice Bean. This was an injunction suit brought by the Harlows to enjoin the Oregonian Publishing company from refusing to deliver newspapers to the plaintiffs in accordance with the provisions of a contract entered into in 1924 between Henry L. Pitcock and Byron M. Southworth. The territory covered by the contract included all of the city of Portland south of Alder street. This controversy arose because the Harlows have the right to control the delivery route in the territory added in the city of Portland south of Alder street since the contract was executed. Whether the contract applies to territory subsequently added to the city is not decided by the supreme court. The decision handed down today being upon two grounds. First, that the plaintiffs, if they are entitled to any relief at all have a full and complete remedy at law, and secondly, the remedy by injunction or specific performance is not mutual. The suit is therefore dismissed.

NAN PATTERSON FACES HER SECOND TRIAL

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) New York, Dec. 5.—A special panel of 20 laymen have been summoned for a second trial of Nan Patterson, who is charged with the murder of Caesar Young, which begins today. It is expected that the present trial will attract more widespread attention than the first. Miss Patterson has been ill with throat trouble, and came into court with a halting step and carriage. She sat down beside her father and, raising her eyes to the jury, she said: "I am here to answer for my father's death. I am here to answer for my father's death. I am here to answer for my father's death."

FAVORS WHIPPING POST FOR SALOONKEEPERS

At the White Temple, Rev. J. W. Broughton, last night, in his address to the saloon as the foe of the common people, said: "One of the most threatening aspects of the saloon evil is the destroying of our young men. A saloon can no more be run without using up boys and girls, than a flourmill without wheat, or a sawmill without logs. The only question is, whose children? Yours or mine? Ours or theirs? Thousands of our young people and boys and girls are being ruined in the saloons, the concert halls and dives of our city. There is a law against selling liquor to minors, but it is general just the same. The law that comes in the way of the saloon-keeper's business—it is broken and the liquor is sold. For a saloon-keeper who sells liquor to a minor, or one of our young boys and girls, the whipping post should be effectively used, and the penalty is not too great a punishment."

(Journal Special Service.) New York, Dec. 5.—Andrew Carnegie's secretary today gave out the following: "Mr. Carnegie wants me to say he does not want to be bothered any more about this Chadwick affair. FIRE IS CENTERED ON 203 METER HILL

Tokio Awaits News from the Scene of the Heaviest Fighting of War.

(Journal Special Service.) Tokio, Dec. 5.—There has been a decided dearth of war news from the front today, but it is understood from private dispatches that the fighting is continuous, with 203-meter hill as a base for a great artillery fire. The dispatches do not state whether another assault is being made, hence it is the belief here that Stossel has concentrated all his forces in the hope of making it untenable for the conquerors. The enlistment of recruits continues at a rapid rate, and all are sent forward as rapidly as transportation facilities can be had.

MAN TAKES BLOCKADE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Tacoma, Dec. 5.—The steamer Germanicus, which has arrived in port here, had some exciting experiences in carrying a cargo of coal from England to the Russian fleet at Vladivostok. The Germanicus was convoyed by a torpedo boat, which led the ship through the mines in the harbor. A second attempt to carry in coal failed, as the Japanese were alert, and the Germanicus was forced to hide behind an island for several days. The officers of the Germanicus assert that the Russian men of war's men are not of the sort to win battles on the sea. They declare that General Stossel, commander at Port Arthur, is a German born, naturalized Russian, hence his stubborn defense of the fortress.

(Journal Special Service.) Madrid, Dec. 5.—Government officials have held a conference over the protest filed by the Japanese against the Spanish government's permitting the Russian Baltic fleet to coal at Vigo. No details of the discussion have been given to the public.

THUBER ARRESTED ON MURDER CHARGE

Implicated in the Killing of George at Oregon City Last June.

J. A. Thuber was arrested last night by Sergeant Slover on suspicion of murdering George Joyce at Oregon City last June.

The police were instructed to make the arrest yesterday by Marshal Burns of Oregon City. Thuber was not acquainted with the reason for his arrest, by the officers of the Oregon City official, who reached Portland this morning and was in close conference with Chief Hunt and Sergeant Slover for some time.

Thuber was found dead at the foot of the back stairs of the Cliff house, an Oregon City hostelry. Several men have been taken into custody on suspicion but all have been released for lack of evidence. It is rumored that the man in the commission of the crime, taken into custody at Oregon City, has confessed and implicated Thuber. Bobery is believed by the officials to have been the motive for the deed.

BIG CUT IS MADE IN LIVESTOCK RATES

In response to urgent requests from packers in the sound cities, the Northern Pacific railway today put into effect a low rate on sheep from Portland. To Tacoma the rate is cut on double decker cars lots from $55 to $40.60. To Seattle, Bend, Coquille, Coos Bay, Hogue and Hoquiem the former rate of $67.33 is cut to $44.40. The rate is based on 36-foot cars.

This is one of the most sensational reductions made in many years by the livestock schedule of a Pacific north-west railroad. The result will be the carrying of large numbers of sheep from northern and western Oregon to the packing houses of Tacoma and Seattle. The importance of establishing more large packing plants in Portland to take care of Oregon livestock is made more manifest by this action of the railway company.

BUILDING WILL BE COMPLETED IN TIME

In a letter to the Lewis and Clark centennial, J. L. Mitchell, in charge of the work of raising funds for the erection of a fraternal building at the fair, stated that $35,000 would be raised. The building will be completed in ample time for the opening.

Already the sum of $19,130 has been pledged by various fraternal associations and societies. Mr. Mitchell expressed the belief that it would undoubtedly reach the sum of $35,000. In the letter Mr. Mitchell said the building is certain that car-temple is going to do your association a vast amount of good. The fraternal press throughout the United States is advertising the fair and temple, and your association is reaching millions of homes which you would not reach otherwise."

Belshaw. An address of welcome was followed by speeches by Jacob H. Naff and Hon. Niles Searles, who spoke on the object of the association.

MANY BURGLARIES WITHIN PAST WEEK

Hotels, Stores, Offices, Restaurants and Residences Are Looted by Criminals.

EVERY NIGHT SHOWS ITS RECORD OF CRIME

Police Suppress the Stories, but They Signally Fail to Suppress the Robbers.

Within the last week an epidemic of burglary has prevailed in the city. In not a single instance has an arrest been made nor was any of the stolen property recovered. Chief Hunt has suppressed all these reports and cautioned his men to pursue their investigations quietly, and give no information to the papers.

Perhaps the most daring burglary occurred Saturday night at the Norton house, 216½ and Morrison streets. The thief broke open a window shortly after dusk and entered the room of H. Allen. He secured a quantity of clothing, when he was frightened by the sound of approaching footsteps, and jumping through the window made his escape, taking the garments with him. Several articles of value were in a dresser, and would doubtless have been obtained by the burglar had he not feared detection.

It was only a short time ago that a man was arrested on suspicion of stealing valuable jewelry and silver toilet articles from the room of a wealthy couple named Purdy, who came here from Denver and were staying at the Norton. A number of the stolen articles were found on him, he pleaded guilty and was sent to the penitentiary.

At an early hour Sunday morning the rear of a restaurant, conducted by C. E. Conner, at 308 Irving street, was broken open by a burglar. The thief tore the lock off a gas meter with some sharp steel instrument and secured several dollars. He also took an overcoat, a suit case and other articles.

Cigars, bacon and butter, aggregating $65 in value, were stolen from the grocery store of H. J. Faust, at East Twenty-sixth and Powell streets Saturday night. Almost the entire stock of cigars was stolen. Entrance was effected by forcing open the front door.

Last Thursday night a thief entered the rooming house at Second and Davis streets, conducted by the Salvation Army, and carried away a quantity of clothing. A costly gold-handled umbrella disappeared from the office of the Portland Lumber company, at 789 Pettgrove street, yesterday. It belongs to a woman and has the initials "E. C. R." cut on the handle. The theft was reported to the police last night. F. H. Barstow, a reward has been offered the officer who discovers the umbrella.

The residence of Mrs. E. Morrison, at 269½ First street, was broken into by a thief Friday night. A pocket watch and a pair of gold-rimmed eyeglasses were taken.

LOGGER'S BRAVERY FAILS TO SAVE LIFE

Although Crushed and Mangled He Jokes with Death Until Final Summons Come.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Aurora, Or., Dec. 5.—Ben Barstow, a logger living on Coal creek, who was killed yesterday, was a practical fire fighter at the Scott's mill cemetery this afternoon.

Barstow and another man were logging on Coal creek and were hauling logs over to a skidway leading to the stream. Tuesday of last week, while Barstow had started to take a big log from the timber, the log made a sudden turn in a slant of the road and rolled over him, striking him across the groin, and before he could stop the log had rolled across him. Barstow's helper was some distance away, and when he arrived he was unable to lift the log off the unfortunate man, after several futile attempts. Barstow told him to whip up the horses and "let her slide," which was done. This nearly cut Barstow in two, crushing his hip joints and injuring the lower vital organs.

To carry him was impossible, so the helper took him by one arm and dragged him for a distance of about 300 yards to the skidway, where a crude sled was made, on which the injured man was taken to a distance of about a mile. Medical aid was hastily summoned, but it soon became evident that to ease the pain was all that could be done. Barstow bore up manfully, but after several hours of pain, Saturday night and Sunday morning several friends and relatives came to see him, and he talked with them and told jokes until a few minutes before he died. "Say, let my boy come in and rubber me, too," he called his eldest daughter and his boy, a child of about 4 years, to his side, took the child's hand in his, pressed them to his face and fell back. He leaves a widow and three children, the youngest of which is an infant aged 10 days.

HURLED TO DEATH BY LOCOMOTIVE

Charles Warring and Team of Chehalis Struck by Fast Moving Engine.

HORSES KILLED AND MAN FATALLY INJURED

Caused Much Excitement as Train Said to Be Exceeding Speed Limit in City.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Chehalis, Wash., Dec. 5.—This morning Charles Warring, a teamster for the electric light plant here, was fatally injured at Prindle street crossing, in the heart of the city, by collision with an engine of the Northern Pacific's through freight, No. 43, en route to Portland.

The train was running at a terrific speed through the city at the time with a helper at the rear. Warring was driving fast and did not hear the train until it was upon him. He attempted to turn his horses, but the engine struck them, splitting the team in two, throwing Warring and one horse clear across the track and dragging the other horse for two blocks, where the end of the neckyoke was driven into the horse's breast. Both horses were killed and Warring's injuries will cause his death.

The affair caused much excitement, as trainmen have been warned about the speed limit in passing through the town. The train was not stopped for half a mile, when it was backed up to the scene of the accident. Warring is married and about 30 years old.

B. Landers, city superintendent at the Dalles; W. A. Wiley, city superintendent at Hood River; H. H. White, principal of the Dufur school. At the same meeting Professor Landers described the educational exhibits at the St. Louis fair, and explained the method to be followed in preparing an exhibit for the Portland fair. The various schools of the county are taking a deep interest in the matter.

BAD BOYS ANNOY GOOD NEIGHBORS

A crowd of boys that gathers nearly every evening at the corner of East Seventh and East Pine streets have been having so much fun of late that its members' antics were reported to the police. The complaint was made by Dr. C. E. Nottage, who resides at 461 East Pine street. Several days ago a large front window in the home of G. E. Burns, near East Pine and East Eighth streets, was broken by a stone thrown against it; the stone narrowly missed crashing into a handsome plate glass sideboard filled with fine china and cut glass. A few weeks ago a window in the home of J. J. Kaddery, 224 East Pine street, was also broken. The boys range from 8 to 17 years of age. It is said that there are nearly 15 in the crowd.

The wife came down town and secured officers Croner and Stiles, who went to the Eddy residence and arrested the drunken husband after a hard fight. During the melee all three fell down an eight-foot flight of steps.

WASCO SCHOOLS WILL MAKE A BIG DISPLAY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Hood River, Or., Dec. 5.—Robbers blew open the safe of the Hood River postoffice early Sunday morning, secured $227 in stamps and $173 in money, and made good their escape. Entrance to the building was effected by a crowbar and other tools taken from the railroad shops near by, where a large gang of Italians and Japs is employed in construction work. Postal inspectors are working on the case.
