

MRS. CHADWICK IS HOPEFUL AND WELL

Receives a Telegram from Her Husband Who is in Paris and Refuses to Talk.

ANDREW CARNEGIE IS SERVED WITH SUBPOENA

Prisoner Still Favors Waiving Examination in New York and Going to Cleveland.

(Journal Special Service.) New York, Dec. 12.—Although the efforts of her counsel to secure bail has so far ended in failure, Mrs. Chadwick told the keeper of the toombs this morning that she has great hopes of securing bondsmen today.

United States Marshal Henkel today received a subpoena from the state district attorney's office at Cleveland, which he was directed to serve at once on Andrew Carnegie, who is wanted to testify before the grand jury in Cleveland in the case against Beckwith, Spear and others involved in the Chadwick case. A deputy hurried out to search for Carnegie, and later succeeded in serving him.

Mrs. Chadwick slept well last night and arose at 7 o'clock this morning feeling quite chipper and happy. After a light breakfast she was handed a telegram from Paris, presumably from her husband, Dr. Chadwick. She then devoted her attention to this morning's papers.

Attorney Ryall, who represents Banker Newton, called at the Tombs at 10:30 o'clock, in company with Phillip Carpenter, counsel for Mrs. Chadwick, and held a conference with the prisoner. It is learned this morning that Mrs. Chadwick still favors waiving examination and returning to Cleveland for trial.

BIG MEN WARY.

Mrs. Chadwick's Expose Causes Tightening of Financial Net.

(Journal Special Service.) Pittsburg, Dec. 12.—Since the exposure of Mrs. Chadwick with numerous bankers and millionaires in different parts of the country has been made public, there is a remarkable tightening up around the offices of Pittsburg's big financial men. Whether the men of this city were mulcted to the tune of $200,000 as reported, is not settled, but the fact remains that it is impossible for a well-dressed woman to get within speaking distance of the Pittsburg kings of finance when in their private offices.

Flush orders have been handed out, and are being observed with a vengeance. No matter how pressing the business, it must be transacted through middlemen. Saturday afternoon H. C. Frick gave $5,000 to swell the fund for the new public bathhouse in Pittsburg. It was not known till today, however, that the woman who called at Frick's office to ask for a small donation were not received by the coke king.

They were asked their business outside of his office and their story carried to Frick, who wrote a check for $5,000, many times the amount expected.

RAILROAD MUST PAY UNCLE SAM

Government Gains Judgment in Land Suit Against the Oregon & California.

WILL RECEIVE MINIMUM VALUE OF PROPERTY

Filings at Time of National Grant to Company Irrevocably Exempted the Tracts.

Judge Bellinger this morning decided five of the cases instituted by the federal government against the Oregon & California Railroad company to recover the value of certain land included in the grant to the company. There were seven pre-emptions and four homesteads involved in case No. 2,665, three distinct homestead cases in consecutive order following, and two donation land claims last night. In the case involving 11 claims and the three individual cases, the judge held that the government was entitled to recover the minimum value of the land. In the case of the two donation land claims he held that the railroad company had title and the government could not recover.

When the government granted every alternate section of land for 20 miles on either side of the railroad to the Oregon & California company, exceptions in the grant area were made for such land as had been filed on by homesteaders or pre-emptionists. There were 11 filings at the time of the grant, which the settlers permitted to lapse by not completing title. These the railroad company took possession of and have sold. The judge held that the filings at the time of the grant, irrevocably exempted the tracts, and that when they lapsed, they returned to the government, and not to the company, and a decree was issued that they should be paid for.

In the case of the Harris Stanley and H. B. Burrill donation land claims, which were also allowed to lapse after the date of grant, the judge ruled that this mode of acquiring title was different to homestead and pre-emption, and that until the conditions were complied with, no title whatever had passed to lift the tracts from the railroad grant.

The motion for a rehearing in the case of the Columbia River Packing company vs. W. E. Tallant was overruled.

Arguments were made on the demurrer filed in the case of John J. Chambers vs. the First National bank of Butte, where the plaintiff seeks recovery of $10,000 put in the bank as security for an indemnity bond. The demurrer was overruled.

In the case of Rea Brothers vs. S. B. Baker, demurrer to the complaint was also overruled.

Two sets of harness were stolen yesterday from Albers Brothers' stable. No clues were left by any of the thieves.

The dory capsized and all were drowned. The schooner was driven over the bar by the wind and waves and reached port safely.

EARL HINDS TESTIFIES BEFORE GRAND JURY

Earl Hinds, 16 years of age, who was found drunk on the streets by the police, was before the grand jury this morning giving testimony. His father, Al Hinds, was in the habit of sending the boy for beer, and on the night in question he sent the boy to saloon four times. Each time he gave the son some to drink. The proprietor of the saloon, G. Myers, was arrested and taken before Judge Hogue in the municipal court and fined $50. The boy is now a ward at the Boys' and Girls' Aid society.

GREENE-GAYNOR.

(Journal Special Service.) Washington, D. C., Dec. 12.—The government has been advised that after repeated delays the cases of Benjamin D. Greene and John P. Gaynor, who were implicated with Oberlin M. Carter in the notorious Savannah river contract scandals, and who fled to Canada to get beyond American jurisdiction, will be taken up by the privy council of England today. This tribunal corresponds in dignity and importance to the supreme court of the United States, and it is hoped by the Washington authorities to obtain from it a decision which will place the exiles under American jurisdiction.

Proceedings for the extradition of Greene and Gaynor were begun as soon as the American authorities received information that they had taken up their residence in Montreal, Accordingly

AN APPLICATION WAS MADE AND A WRIT WAS ISSUED BY AN EXTRADITION COMMISSIONER

The fugitives however, were apprehended in Quebec, to which jurisdiction they had made a sensational escape. They were taken to Montreal, and a Quebec judge immediately issued a writ of habeas corpus, which was served on the Montreal jailer. He brought his prisoners, Greene and Gaynor, back to Quebec, where a curious legal squabble ensued, which finally resulted in the issuing of another writ of habeas corpus by Judge Caron.

It is from this latter writ, which permits the freedom of Greene and Gaynor within the boundaries of Quebec and exempts them from interference by American authorities, that the United States government appealed to the privy council of England. Officials of this government now believe that every legal obstacle has been removed and that a final decision will be reached soon.

Several cases involving large property interests are awaiting further action because of the necessity of the presence in the United States of Greene and Gaynor, who are defendants. Should the decision of the privy council be favorable to the contention of the United States, it is believed that little time will elapse before Greene and Gaynor, through extradition proceedings, are again safely under American jurisdiction.
