WEATHER REPORT

The disturbance yesterday over Van-couver island was central over British columbia at compilation of this report. caused light rain in northwestern Oregon and western Washington. The barometer continues relatively low over Arizona, and the Minnesota disturbance decreased in energy and moved to the lower lake region. A large high pres-sure area made its appearance off the California coast and the barometer was relatively high over the gulf states. Light to moderately heavy rains fell in the upper Mississippi valley, the lake region and at scattered places in the Atlantic and gulf states. It is warmer in the north Pacific and cooler in the south Pacific states. south Pacific states.

Indications are for showers tomorrow in northwest Oregon, Washington and northern Idaho.
