

Club Activities

BY VELLA WINNER

YESTERDAY brought to a close the activities of Portland's 52 Parent-Teacher associations. During the past month these associations have been busy with annual meetings, elections, appointments of committees and a general closing up of the year's work. This week many picnics have been held. The past year has been an exceptionally busy one and much excellent work along constructive lines distinguished itself. In an elaborate scheme of activities is being planned by the council for next season and during the summer there will be numerous mother meetings to perfect these plans, while a few of the associations will continue informal meetings at the homes of members.

Seattle Women Open Club House.
The opening of the new quarters of the Sunset club, an organization of leading women of Seattle, on Wednesday, was the most notable social event of the week. The new building erected at a cost of $52,000, is located at the corner of Boren Avenue and Third street and is modeled after the Colony club of New York, a famous organization of a similar nature.

The dedicatory services, which marked the opening of the club, were preceded by a luncheon which only members of the club were privileged to attend. As the guests entered they were received by Mrs. Winfield E. Smith, president, Mrs. Richard A. Ballinger, secretary, and Mrs. John Harrington Edwards, treasurer.

For two years the members of the club have been having a building which would afford conveniences for large gatherings and provide a suitable place for the entertainment of the city. The new building contains a large drawing room and a spacious dining room where large numbers of people are entertained while there are smaller rooms for informal affairs.

The board of trustees of the club includes Mrs. Thomas Burke, Mrs. Richard A. Ballinger, Mrs. John Harrington Edwards, Mrs. J. D. Lowman, Mrs. Pierre F. Pflingstein, Mrs. J. W. Norris, Mrs. Livingston B. Stedman, Mrs. Joshua Green, Mrs. David Edward Skinner, Mrs. Frederick Bauman, Mrs. Elbert F. Blain, Mrs. E. B. Stewart Collins, Mrs. Alexander B. Green, Mrs. Fred S. Stimson and Mrs. Harry Whitney Treat.

Oregon City Club Election.
Mrs. Rosina Fouts-Evans was elected president of the Oregon City Women's club Thursday to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. H. F. Pflingstein. The retiring president intends to leave Oregon City for the Dallas soon. As Mrs. Evans was first vice president, Mrs. J. W. Norris was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion.

The Oregon City club will maintain headquarters at the Club during Chautauqua session in July, and Mrs. J. W. Norris was appointed secretary of the committee to arrange for these headquarters.

Holiday Association Picnic.
The children of the Holiday school who took part in the picnic at the House "Jack Bull" and those who participated in the Rose Festival parade, were yesterday the honor guests at a picnic given at Peninsula Park by the Parent-Teacher association of Holiday school. About 125 enjoyed the afternoon, which was filled with games, races and the enjoyment of ice cream provided by the association.

Oak Grove Social Service Club.
Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock, the Women's Social Service club of Oak Grove and vicinity, met with Mrs. Moore at Roehampton. The following program was given at the luncheon and business meeting: "Federal Executive Department," Mrs. Patricia Moore, and a poem, "Stander," was given by Mrs. Outfield.

Kennedy Association Picnic.
The Kennedy Parent-Teacher association and pupils of the Kennedy school joined in a picnic at Peninsula park yesterday. About 150 children and 50 parents enjoyed the day. At noon a picnic luncheon was served and in the afternoon there was a program of races for which prizes were awarded.

Women's Club Closes Year.
The Portland Women's club yesterday brought to a close one of the busiest years in its existence. The reports of officers and chairmen of standing committees showed much excellent work during the past year. The president, Mrs. G. I. Frankel, who was unanimously re-lected this year, expressed her appreciation for the loyal support of the members and bespoke the same assistance for next year.

Miss Lovelle Epperly, who sang a group of songs at the meeting of the Daughters of Confederacy held recently at the home of Mrs. F. Joplin.

At the close of the address Mrs. Frankel was presented with a bouquet of sweet peas and ferns. Mrs. B. F. Weaver paid a tribute to Mrs. Frankel, saying that there was one thing more beautiful than the flowers of the fields and that was the flowers of love and kindness such as bloomed in the heart and life of the president.

The address of the afternoon was given by Miss Grace DeGraff, Mne. Fay Huntington sang several selections and Mrs. Sarah A. Evans, president of the state federation, reported the council meeting, the entertainment of which cost $1700.

The committee chairmen were announced for next year as follows: Calendar, Mrs. A. King Wilson; chautauque, Mrs. Elizabeth Pettenger; civics, Mrs. J. M. Reeves; departments, Mrs. G. I. Frankel; education, Mrs. States M. Cummings; hall, Mrs. Anton Giesch; membership, Mrs. J. Francis Drake and Mrs. Cora Puffer; philanthropy, Mrs. Robert Schmidt; press, Mrs. E. T. Taggart; legislature, Mrs. H. A. Moore; public health, Dr. Mary Louise Evans; publicity, Mrs. Frederick Taggart; residents of the state federation, Mrs. G. O. Jefferson; visitation, Mrs. Jordan T. Brumfield.

There were numerous guests at the club yesterday, including club women from Ohio, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Illinois, Michigan, Washington and Idaho. The club will resume its activities the fourth Friday in September.

He is just completing a tour of the United States in the interests of the export cigar trade of the islands. More extensive use in this country means more business for the islands and greater revenue for the expenses of government.

ABOUT THE HOUSE With the summer coming on, a word about fireless cooking may not be amiss.

Now, a fireless cooker is merely a box into which a supply of heat and given amount of food are placed together. The box is designed to retain the heat so that enough will combine with the food to complete a cooking process already begun, the heat being held either the food alone or in the food plus heated discs. It is just this difference which makes the problem of cooking by this device difficult to some women and this is where common sense comes in.

Let us take a fireless cooker and the food, put the food in a suitable pan, and the pan in the cooker, and keep it there long enough to cook the food. What is a suitable pan, and how long? How long does the food have to remain cooking on the stove in order to absorb sufficient heat before being put in that cooker to find its way into the fireless cooker?

Here is where common sense comes in and the woman with it or with scientific training—either will, do it. The cooker and experiment with it and by and by regards it as her most helpful friend. But the woman without training or common sense will despair and discards the cooker, without discovering that she herself is to blame for her own disappointment.

The device itself consists of a round, square or oblong box, lined with metal, the insulating material asbestos, paper, sawdust, hay, cotton wool, lambs' wool, granulated cork or some other material. These vary in their insulating power, some being less satisfactory than others. There must be something to keep the heat retained in good material or heating discs from radiating and disappearing before it has done the desired work. Some of the best cookers now have enamel food containers in the metal lined compartments in order to overcome one of the troubles resulting in loss of heat.

FROZEN CHERRIES The cherries must be good and ripe and sweet; the dark red or black cherries are the best.

1 quart pitted cherries.
1 quart water.
2 cupsful sugar.
1 tablespoonful lemon juice.

Put the water and sugar in saucepan over the fire, boil five minutes and set aside to cool. Crush the cupsful of the cherries and strain through a coarse strainer; add the sugar and water, then the lemon juice. If not sweet enough, add more sugar. Pour into freezer, pack with alternate layers of ice and salt and churn eight to ten minutes, do not freeze too hard. People E. White, of Cathlamet, is at the Multnomah.

STORIES OF STREET AND TOWN

Sign of the Times.
SIMPLIFIED spelling enthusiasts, if they have any sympathy for those who are trying to put their orthographic theories into practical use, should take their lunches at a restaurant on Washington street, which has a sign:

OUR WAFFLES UN-X-LEED

You Can't Always Tell.
WHEN John Kendrick Bangs was a story at the Press months ago he told of a letter from Hayes to Judge Rosenthal, who has nothing else to do, remembers it. Here it is.

When Mr. Bangs was editor of Harper's Weekly, a tall, professional looking man came in with some books under his arm and said he was thinking of writing a history of the American people from a human standpoint. He said he wondered if Harpers would publish such a history.

"Well," said Editor Bangs, "the idea of these days seems to be to make history rather than to write it."

"But what chance," said the man, "has a poor college professor to make any history?"

The man was Woodrow Wilson.

Vag Was Grateful.
THE unexpected happened to Municipal Judge Stevenson this morning when he found in his mail a letter from John F. Hayes with a dollar bill inclosed. Judge Stevenson said the $1 by Judge Stevenson last summer and the judge considered it gone for good.

Hayes, according to Judge Stevenson, was the toughest vag he ever saw and had been in court several times before he secured the money. He was arrested at that time on a charge of being implicated in a court robbery of an old man of money the man had in a bank. He was sentenced to the rockpile despite protests of innocence.

A letter from Hayes took Judge Stevenson to see him and again he protested his innocence with such fervor that the following day the judge suspended the remainder of his sentence. When the sheriff's office asked what to do with Hayes, Judge Stevenson said to send him to the municipal court without a guard and Hayes soon wandered into court. He said he was up against it and Judge Stevenson loaned him the money from a fund created by the state for the purpose of helping stolen travelers' checks, were contributed by himself and Rev. Henry Russell Tabbot.

Moore to Go to Gladstone.
The Loyalty Order of Moose of Portland has been invited to meet with the Oregon City Moose at Gladstone Park, July 5. Women are special invited. Good music and athletic games and sports is being arranged.

Will Get New Silks.
The Portland Lodge of Elks has appointed a committee of 100, each man of which is to bring in one new member within 60 days or suffer the consequences.

LADIES CAN WEAR SHOES

One size smaller after using Allen's Foot-Powder, the antiseptic and preservative makes tight or new shoes feel easy; keeps ladies' feet cool and dry, prevents blisters, calluses and sore spots. It's the greatest comfort discovery of the century. Sold everywhere. 25c. For FREE trial package, address, Allen S. Ginnist, La. Roy, N. Y., Ad.

THE ENVELOPE CHEMISE is a particularly appropriate garment for summer wear. Made of sheer muslin or dimity, it is cool and comfortable and taking the place of two garments, as it does, drawers and corset cover, it lessens the bulk of clothing for warm weather wear. Another feature is that these garments are extremely easy to launder. Just now the June white daisies in the department stores allow purchasing of these practical undergarments at most moderate prices.

NEW SPORT TIES—Men or women. They're made of light weight silk materials in pleasing stripes and sumptuous colors and are designed to find a dash to the outdoor costume that is very effective. They're being featured in a Fifth street men's shop, manager of the Helig, to resign from membership in the Musicians' union, Seaman is president and manager of the Helig, and the Portland Protective association, organized to resist the demands of the musicians for a minimum number of men rule re-ly, that is on May 4, did we assert President George E. Jeffery of the Musicians Mutual association said the statement that the musicians doubtless endeavor to get the better of less employes to strike was without foundation. He said that would be a last step that had not even been thought of yet.

President Jeffery Explains.
"For some months back local No. 99 has been fighting an unwarlike number of men law, but postponed the matter from time to time on account of depression caused by the war," said Mr. Jeffery. "At the beginning of May, several theatres in town started to reduce their orchestras, and only those in Portland refused to do so. We ourselves by saying that we would not work in the theatres in Portland with less than five in the Helig, five in the Baker, six in the Empress, six in Pantages, eight for the Orpheum, three for the Lyric and five at the house at Eleventh and Morrison."

IT IS TO LAUGH A facetious contributor had dared me to print the following paragraph:

"Please you have guests and they engage in a heated political controversy, start up the phonograph. Burning a large onion on a red hot plate, and the odor of the onion in your drawing room. Don't throw your coffee grounds away. Dry them and keep them for the use of burning neighbors. Letting the children run barefoot in summer will save money in shoes, but it makes the soap bill larger."

NO NEW VALUE TO GOODNESS
The unfortunate quality of goodness is that it remains invisible and silent. Love and generosity do not get themselves noticed about. They do not "advertise," as Kipling says.

CORVALLIS ELECTION NEXT MONDAY WILL BE RED HOT CONTEST

Mayor, 6 Councilmen, Chief, Judge, Treasurer, Water Commissioners to Choose.

THIRTY CANDIDATES RUN

Initiative Measures of Importance Also to Be Passed Upon by the Voters.

Corvallis, Or., June 25.—City election next Monday promises to be a "red-hot" fight between the "outs" and the "ins" in Corvallis.

A mayor, six councilmen, a chief of police, a municipal judge, a city treasurer and five water commissioners are to be elected and initiative and referendum measures to be acted upon by the voters. For the 15 officers to be elected there are 30 candidates, showing that both sides are counting on no wasted ballots. Candidates are as follows:

Who Candidates Are.

For mayor—J. M. Porter, W. F. Groves.

For councilmen—First ward, J. F. Moore, S. H. Rondeau, Second ward—H. Eberhart, E. A. Miller, Third ward—L. M. Howard, B. G. Leeds.

Councilman at large—M. L. Barnett, T. H. Cooper, Frank Francisco, Dr. W. T. Johnson, C. I. Lewis, G. F. Wagner.

Chief of police—John A. Embree, J. D. Wells, James M. Emery.

Municipal judge—F. W. Danielson, S. O. (Brian) McFadden, B. W. Wilson.

City treasurer—L. J. Carl.

Water commissioners—E. E. Burger, L. F. Davis, J. Foster, R. H. Huston, L. Hollenburg, M. M. Long, Charles McHenry, George W. Smith, Clarence J. White, S. N. Warfield.

The initiative measures include a proposed tax of two mills to support the fire department, which is a departure in this line; a plan to make the municipal judge the receiver for city funds and the city treasurer the custodian of the funds, the proposal that the city issue bonds for $7500 to join with Benton county in buying fair grounds; to provide for special elections to establish additional polling places in the city; to refer measures to permits issued by the council for storage of oils and explosives in a certain district.

The main issue upon which the two forces are so sharply divided is whether the present program of administration be continued or reformed.

The party headed by Mr. Groves says little as to what its attitude in this matter would be if elected, but that headed by Mr. Porter has published pledges that the business methods of the present council will be changed and improved if elected, and that the administration shall be strictly in conformity to the charter, honest and economical.

In a signed statement the Porter nominees promise a thorough investigation of the financial affairs of the city.
