WAYSIDE GLEANINGS.

Random Observations and Local Events of Lesser Magnitude.

Three carloads of hogs were shipped to Troutdale this morning.

The Dalles City took a load of sheep to Collins Landing this morning.

The fourth quarterly meeting of the Methodist church will be held tonight.

Max Vogt, Jr., left for Baker City this morning, where, we understand, he expects to start a bowling alley.

Five, four and six-horse teams loaded with merchandise pulled out for Gilliam county points this morning.

Between 12,000 and 15,000 sheep will be shipped to Dakota this week. They have been brought up by a Mr. Wright.

Yesterday a train load of sheep went out for White Earth, Dakota, carrying away 4950 of Wasco county's wool growers.

Commencement exercises of the St. Mary's Academy will be held Thursday at 2:30 p. m. The invitations state that children under 14 will not be admitted.

Seventeen carloads of sheep were shipped to Chicago this morning, and twenty-eight cars went out to Dakota points. They were shipped by Wright.

A big salmon run is reported on its way up the river, and our fishermen are anxiously awaiting its arrival. The catch improves here steadily, but is yet very light.

Mr. A. Urquhart, at present residing in Portland, is in the city, representing The Farmers' Market, and is trying to get together a carload of cherries for shipment.

At the recent meeting of the board of examiners, Professor Aaron Frazier, of Dufur, was recommended for a state life certificate, which last week the state board granted.

It costs but 15 cents to hear the program and get a dish of ice cream tomorrow night at the Methodist church. Try to be there, and thus assist the ladies in their commendable work.

Commencing Thursday, June 17th, the steamers of the Regulator Line will change time of leaving Portland and The Dalles as follows: Leave Portland 7 a. m. and The Dalles 8:45 a. m.

The weather is not at all pleasant, being windy and dusty, still it is just what is needed for the wheat crop, and so is welcomed as heartily as though it were of a more comfortable variety.

A number of tickets for the moonlight excursion, which was to have taken place tonight, have been sold. The excursion is only postponed for a short time, and the tickets will be good then.

Shurtz, the man charged with stealing $50 from Taylor Hill, had his examination before Justice Filloon yesterday afternoon, and was held to await the action of the grand jury, with bonds fixed at $300.

The recorder's office failed to furnish an item today, other than this one, even the hoboes have ceased to trouble. The camping season is on, and the professional tourists are enjoying their summer outing.

A Michigan paper gives an account of the sturgeon fisheries on Fox islands, and the danger the fishermen run from getting the big 30-pound fish landed. Our Columbia river fishermen would use a fish of that size for bait.

The Good Templars will have a Gypsy Carnival next Saturday evening in the small K. of P. hall. This lodge has a reputation of giving excellent socials, and the committee intend making this excel all others previously given.

The magnitude of the shipping interests and the stock interests of The Dalles and vicinity may be judged from the shipments made daily. Yesterday twenty-eight carloads of stock and today forty-eight carloads were sent away.

Owing to several circumstances, the moonlight excursion, which was to have come off tonight, has been postponed. The weather is not propitious, and the matter has not been sufficiently canvassed to permit the excursion to come off without it being a failure.

From the program received of the Gladstone Park Chautauqua Assembly, we note that Mrs. Alice Hamill-Hancock, who formerly had a class in elocution in this city, will again have charge of that study this year. This will be good news to those who attend from this place, as she is a favorite.

The Snipe-Kinersly drugstore windows look like a Christmas one today, or the aftermath of a prize fight or any old thing. The amount of advertising matter stuck in the windows is simply immense, and besides all that, pills warranted to find a fellow's kidneys, if he has any, are being given away.

Mr. Webber brought about twenty horses over from Yakima county, arriving here this morning. He will take them to Portland either by boat or by driving them over the Barlow road. The horses ought to be of angelic disposition, as they came from that portion of Yakima county known as "horse heaven."

Yesterday afternoon George Husted, of Fossil, while unloading wool at one of the warehouses, stepped on a small rock, turning his right ankle, and breaking the bones of the leg about two inches above it. Dr. Hollister reduced the fracture, and Husted last night expressed his determination to start home today, but this morning changed his mind and will remain.

Commissioner Blowers was up from Hood River last night, to advise with Judge Mays concerning taxes. An alias warrant for their collection was attached to the roll, and nothing further will be done until the regular meeting of the board. Taxpayers, however, can make up their minds that the taxes are to be collected this year, and the everlasting delinquent roll put an end to.

The 11-year-old son of A. Arnold was thrown from a horse yesterday afternoon near his father's place on Chenoweth creek, and very seriously injured. One arm and two ribs were broken, and he was injured internally, but to what extent is as yet unknown. Dr. Hollister reduced the fractures and made the little fellow as comfortable as circumstances would permit. His condition is dangerous, but he may pull through.

The rain yesterday morning reached the country south of us, watering it well, the rainfall increasing in amount as far out as Tygh Ridge, where it was quite heavy, the water standing in the roads when it was over. The Juniper Flat section was the center of the shower, which seemed to exhaust itself before it crossed the Deschutes. Sherman county got but little of it, but was favored with a good shower last week that passed over us.

Mr. B. S. Huntington is a gentleman of excellent judgment. The other day he was about to purchase a horse, but out of an abundance of caution, concluded to drive her first. The horse traveled all right around town, and Mr. Huntington concluded he would take the horse he owned out to the pasture, having made up his mind to make the purchase. So he drove out, leading his buggy horse, but when a couple of miles from town the horse balked and would not move a leg. The result was that the old stand-by was put in the harness, and the proposed purchase was led home behind the buggy. The sale was off.

The city election takes place next Monday; but little interest seems to be taken in it so far. The usual custom has been to call a citizens' meeting Thursday or Friday before election for the purpose of nominating candidates, which custom will probably be observed on the present occasion. We understand Mayor Menefee will not accept that office again, and candidates do not seem so numerous as they are for places with more money in them. But one name has been mentioned for the place, and that is Hon. W. H. Wilson. We do not pretend to say that Mr. Wilson will accept, for we do not know; but others mention him as the only available man.

Notice to Taxpayers.

On and after July 1, 1897, costs will be added for the collection of all taxes due Wasco county on all delinquent rolls now in the hands of the sheriff. This is an imperative order from the county court, and the sheriff has no option but to collect such taxes by levy on property if not paid voluntarily by property owners. All parties concerned are hereby notified that no leniency will be shown in the collection of taxes after July 1, and that levy will be made on all property delinquent after that date.

Opinion of Wood Ticks.

Sticking to the sagebrush, the grease wood and the natives in Malheur county is a species of exodus albipictus, and by people in a hurry called wood ticks, says an Eastern Oregon editor.

They are dipterous, with steel traps on their feet and a diamond-drilling apparatus attached to each palpus. They sometimes feed on dogs, but prefer boys and printers. They are without wings, but can jump 300 feet, and when they get beneath your pajamas, the damage they do is not so much in what they eat as what they tramp down. A wood tick is not so large as a bull dog, but he is more to be dreaded than a book agent or a Spanish mule. Some people, when they find an exodus albipictus sticking to them, take the bullet molds and ruthlessly tear away what there is in sight, but this is not the correct way to do, as it leaves the mandibles still in your company, and a sore that will not quit itching for nine years. The only proper thing to do when you find a wood tick screwed (they are never nailed) to you is to take a gold-headed needle, run it into the tick at the point that offers the least resistance, until it penetrates the pons varoli of the medulla oblongata, then hold a lighted lucifer match to the protruding part of the needle; this carries the heat to the aforesaid pons varoli, which causes the tick to withdraw his corkscrew and also to get out of business.

Drive Them Down.

Whatever else may be said of and concerning The Dalles sidewalks, they cannot be charged with having ingrowing nails. The measly spikes stick up promiscuously, knocking the veneering off the new shoes and the soles off the old ones. It is not conducive to pleasure, nor an adjunct to good morals to perambulate these aids to proficiency in the art of profanity. When a lady stubs one of her Trilbies on a projecting hand-spike and ruins a pair of $5 shoes, and before she recovers her equilibrium of body or temper another spike reaches up and catches on to the bottom of her skirts and brings her to a dead halt, the air is not redolent of profanity as it would be were she a man, but the agonized look of utter disgust at not being permitted to give audible expression to her feelings, is pathetically touching.

The city council would do well to pass an ordinance compelling property-owners to drive down the measly nails.

One business man wanted in every city (not already taken) for exclusive sale of manufactured goods. Applicant must furnish few hundred dollars cash capital to carry small stock of saleable merchandise with which to supply his own customers after orders are first secured. Two hundred dollars monthly profit assured over all expenses. State references, qualifications, etc.

Be Not Alarmed

By the so-called "WARNING" of our competitors. The threat made to our customers is nothing more nor less than a big bluff of a would-be monopoly.

Our Baker Barbed Wire was purchased from one of the largest concerns in the United States; each spool is branded "Genuine Baker Warranted," and we invite comparison with any other make of Wire.

We have bought nearly 100,000 pounds of this wire for SPOT CASH, at the right price, and propose to give our customers the benefit of it. We are not holding it for a fancy price, and claiming it to be the best Wire on earth. It is worth no more than any other good Wire, but is as good as any, and we are selling it as low as any. Compare our so-called "Spurious" Wire with the ONLY Baker PERFECT, before buying, and get our prices. We are making prices that should get your trade.
