

U. S. DESTROYER IS STRUCK BY TORPEDO

By United News
SAN PEDRO, Cal., June 18.—With a jagged hole in her hull, the U. S. destroyer Dent put in here late today. The destroyer was accidentally struck by a "dud" torpedo in the sham battle maneuvers of the Pacific fleet near San Clemente Island, 50 miles off the coast of Southern California.

Although tin tipped torpedoes were being used, saving the government thousands of dollars over the use of regular torpedoes with the powder charge taken out, the force with which the torpedo struck the Dent was sufficient to make a jagged rent in her hull. Officers of the Dent said that the torpedo was being fired from another destroyer at a battleship a long distance away. In some manner the proper signal was not given and the Dent sped across the course of the torpedo, but a few hundred yards in front of the destroyer from which it was fired. The Dent's forward compartment rapidly filled with water, but she managed to limp in under her own power.

It is expected an investigation will be ordered as soon as the fleet returns from the scene of maneuvers.

from Wasco county this year in this way: first, because of the great shortage in soft fruits all over the east and middle west; and, second, this year the Wasco Royal Anne will hit the New York auction market just about the time the California market is over. The windup of the California season is taking place now. Frazier also cites the fact that irrigated cherries do not carry so well as the non-irrigated fruit. Irrigated cherries from the Yakima, Lewiston and Spokane districts in the past have not borne up well. They have never been shipped east of Chicago, according to Frazier. California cherries are non-irrigated, and usually they arrive in the eastern markets just as good as the black cherries.

Taking all of these things into consideration, the cooperatives have no hesitancy in expressing the opinion that the Royal Anne shipments from here this year will be very successful.

Men who have been growers here for years have been shipping Royal Anne in small lots through the usual express lines, without refrigeration, to points as far east as New Jersey. The cherries have always arrived in splendid condition, they maintain. Then, it is reasoned, there is no reason why the cherries, carefully handled in the packing rooms and refrigerated, should not go through in equally good condition.

AIR SERVICE ROW SETTLED BY WEEKS

By United News
WASHINGTON, June 18.—Peace has been restored in the army air service.

Its chief, Brigadier General Charles T. Mencher, has withdrawn his recommendation for the relief of the assistant chief, Brigadier General William Mitchell.

Mitchell, in turn, has promised that actions of his which incurred the wrath of his superior officers will not be repeated.

The arrangement was made at a conference of the two officers and Secretary of War Weeks.

Weeks stated that the recommendation made by General Mencher for the removal of General Mitchell, in his opinion, justified the request. Mitchell is credited with having been "too active."

"The secretary, however, believing in the interests of the air service and of the government itself, such action would be undesirable and unfortunate at this time, has been able to secure a satisfactory adjustment of the difficulties involved," said Weeks today.

NOW looking at it from your wife's point of view, don't you think it would be a good idea to put in a good kitchen sink? Outside of the added convenience of the thing, look at it from a health standpoint. Talk it over with your wife and then talk it over with us.

FINANCING OF HARVEST

take advantage of loans from eastern capitalists."

Financing is necessary because of the fact that farmers who have been in the habit of borrowing from the banks with their wheat as security, have conveyed title in that wheat to the Oregon Grain Growers' association.

much out of the emergency tariff measure. It is criticized both for its commissions as well as its omissions.

Secretary J. H. Mercer, of the Kansas Livestock association, already has sent out requests to all members to write their representatives in congress to see what items omitted in the emergency bill are included in the general tariff law.

The restiveness of farmers generally is not directed at any one thing other than credit. There is no doubt that their attitude toward the banks, however, and this has developed to the point where one hears more and more talk among them of concerted political action. They don't know exactly what they want. They do know they are not satisfied with what they are getting. A strong political leader who could establish the confidence of the farmers, could cause more than a ripple now on the surface of American politics. They are in the attitude of awaiting such leadership. Not that a socialistic movement is developing in the agricultural industry, but dissatisfaction is increasingly evident.
