READ THIS!

It is of interest to Every Taxpayer in Oregon.

DEAD SIR: Would say in reply to yours of even date that the sum of $77.00 paid to me by the Columbia Fire and Marine Insurance Company, of Portland, Oregon, for School Tax in District No. 1, represents more money than paid to this office by all the Foreign Insurance Companies doing business in this city. FRED A. DALY, School Clerk District No. 1.

THIS PROVES OUR ASSERTION

That to protect yourself you should give your Insurance to the Columbia Fire and Marine Insurance Company, of Portland, Oregon—organized under the laws of Oregon. Has a guaranteed capital of $500,000 for your protection, which is ten times the amount of deposit required of Foreign Companies, who pay NO taxes, and send all the profits out of the State, thereby increasing your taxes. Think of this and give our Company a part of your INSURANCE.

Yours, respectfully, JOHN A. CHILD, Secretary. Office: Second St., Next Door to Child's Drug Store

Subscribed Capital, $500,000.

THE DECREE OF THE MONEY-DEVIL. From the Louisville Courier-Journal. The monopolists who did so much to buy the election of Harrison last month, and who now seem to think that, having bought the country, they own it, and have a right to do with it as they please, are not at all backward in notifying it just what they expect and demand.

The New York contingent, through their mouthpiece, Son-in-law Shepard, have already declared war against one section if it shall not do just as it dictates, and the Pennsylvania division, which, under the personal leadership of Quay and Wanamaker, poured money into the campaign by the millions, is fully as explicit in laying down the law to the South. These gentry have a club in Philadelphia which they call the Manufacturers' Club, and this club publishes their special organ, which they call the Manufacturer. This organ contains rather a significant editorial on the "far-reaching consequences of the victory of November 6," under the title of "A Grip That Will Hold," the purpose of which is to emphasize the point that "either the Southern States will send some protectionist representatives to the Fifty-second or the Fifty-third Congress, or the representation of those States will be cut down."

This is certainly explicit enough. The Southern States must understand that they must change their politics and send protectionists to Congress, or the protectionists will see to it that the representation of the Southern States shall be reduced. There are no ifs nor ands about it. Their present representation may be right or wrong; that is immaterial. Unless they do as protected monopolists demand, the protected monopolists will cut that representation down. If they comply with those demands, their representation, just or unjust as it may be, will be undisturbed.

This is the decree which has gone forth. The system which pours into the laps of these men their subsidies, wrung from a tax-ridden people, must be maintained at all hazards. The South must help maintain that system, or its power will promptly be taken away from it. The protected mill-owners have said it, and, judging their ability by what they accomplished in the recent election, it is not to be despised. They have the money, and they think they have the men, to make good their threats, and do whatever they please in controlling the government of this country.

The South, however, is neither to be bought or bullied. The money kings may not only reduce its representation, but they may deprive it of representation altogether. Let them do it, if they dare. The Southern people, having lived through the Reconstruction era, can stand anything the future may have in store for them; but they have never yet been bribed nor frightened into selling their principles, and the subsidy ring of the East will never live to see the day when they can be.

Bound to Solve the Problem.

From the Portland Oregonian. A gentleman who has more money than time, and more time than he—mathematical knowledge, saw a paragraph in yesterday's Oregonian stating that to multiply 15 by 15 and the product by itself and so on for fifteen times, would take a man ten hours a day three hundred days in a year for fifteen years. He imagined that he could work it out in a short time, and started in and got as far as the end of fourth multiplication, when he had a string of figures as long as his arm. He says he is going to build a five-story block on one of his lots in this city and have the bank wall on one side plastered and painted for a blackboard, and then he will have a scaffold, such as painters use, suspended along the wall and a small car to run back and forth on it, and he proposes to work out that problem to the bitter end, if it takes all summer. He thinks that by making the 500,000,000 figures necessary he can get them all on his five-story blackboard.

Small-pox Spreading in Marion County.

The dread smallpox is spreading at an alarming rate in the North End of the county. Another child of Victor La Chapelle, of Gervais, is now said to be down with the disease, although this report is not confirmed, and may be nothing but rumor. On Monday a new case was discovered near Gervais and Dr. Scott was called to wait upon a man named Salzman who had been sick for nine or ten days at the farm of John Prantel, where he has been working about two miles southeast of Gervais. The Prantels had no idea that the sick man had the smallpox, although he was broken out, and had waited upon him and all, therefore, are almost sure to have a siege. Father Vicernisch, of St. Paul, was reported as getting along nicely yesterday and it is thought that the attack will be light.

Fire and Death in Victoria.

Early Sunday morning the dwelling house of H. Rutland, on Fort street, in Victoria, B. Co., was discovered on fire, which was promptly extinguished. Four hours later fire was again discovered in the same place, this time too late to save the building which, with an adjoining one, was entirely destroyed. Loss, $3000. A. J. Finney, owner of the building, while assisting the firemen, dropped dead. Heart disease, superinduced by excitement, probably was the cause. The fire was clearly the work of an incendiary. One woman loudly bewailed valuables left in a bureau drawer, and a fireman risked his life to get them. He found only some artificial teeth.

Salem Statesman: Upon the whole, we think the State is committed to this form (omission) of regulation of railway corporations, and the commission should be continued, and if necessary, its powers and duties more explicitly declared. In justice to the public, as well as to the railroads, this should be done.
