The report in Baker City recently that Pendleton was the scene of a fierce and raging conflagration, consuming everything in its path, was started by the two Pendleton operators. They had fixed up the job on the key manip-lator at La Grande, wiring "hot as blazes," "can hardly keep my seat," etc., wishing to get him to reply and ask particulars, when they would wire the words, "hot stove." He did not bite, but the Baker City young man did, and we have the two young man did, and was so eager to glean exciting news about the fire that the two operators here evidently took his mea-sure and filled him up. Hence the whyness thereof.

scandal to Christ's church. No man shall court a maid in person or by letter without obtaining the consent of her parents; £5 penalty for the first offense, £10 for the second, and for the third imprisonment during the pleasare of the court.

There is an element in this city which would like to have just such laws enacted here with even far more sumptuary additions. They would like to say what sort of bread others shall eat, and they would like to say that a glass of wine at dinner of bread others shall eat, and they would like to say that a glass of wine at dinner should be prohibited. They would like for allowances, and a report, together also to say that certain organizations of the papers, forwarded to the second feeble-minded men and strong-minded women should be the governing power. women should be the governing power mentioned in the first paragraph. Then there are others who would like

The New Year's Paper Did it.

From the Little Rock Woman's Chronicle, Hon, E. D. Boyd, for years a resident of Little Rock and at one time State Senator of Arkansas, is now engaged in the real estate and insurance business at Pendleton, a beautiful little city of Eastern Oregon. Pendleton is situated upon the Umatilla river, county seat of the county bearing the same name, and judgsheet of the East Oregonals must be entitled to the honor of being called a gem, among the young and thriving cities of the far West.

Indian Agent Coffey Removed.

Colonel J. C. Saunders, the govern-ment inspector, who arrived here a few days ago, as stated in this paper at the time, to look after matters on the Umatilla reservation, has come to the conclusion that a change in agents is necessary to the best interests of the government and Indians, so he has removed Mr. B. Coffey from office, also Paddy Miles, the lars are not to be had at this writing.
