IS THIS PAIN ENOUGH.
If you have a nagging cough and are losing flesh, go to a drug store, and get a bottle of Shiloh's Consumption Cure. Take two-thirds of it, and then, if you are not benefited, return the bottle to the druggist, and he will return your money. Isn't that fair? No one could ask more. 25 cts., 50 cts., and $1 a bottle. Tallman & Co., leading druggists.

UNDERWENT SERIOUS OPERATION.
"Grandpa" Froome, of Athena, now at the Walla Walla Hospital.
"Grandpa" Froome, the pioneer hotel man of Athena, Oregon, was taken to Walla Walla last Friday and was admitted to an operation at the Walla Walla hospital, says the Statesman. His left leg was amputated a short distance above the ankle, almost all the bones of his foot having been effected with necrosis.
"Grandpa" Froome, as he is familiarly known in Umatilla county, Oregon, is 81 years of age, and has lived at Athena for many years. He conducted the first hotel at that place and has always been one of Athena's most highly respected citizens. His condition today, considering his age, was believed by his physicians to be very satisfactory. Dr. Bodkin, of Athena, assisted in the operation.

James H. Jones and his grandson, Frank Porter, are in Pendleton from their home in South Cold Spring, eight miles north of this city. He has noticed no wheat damaged by frost. Mr. Jones has about 50 Belgian hares on his farm and is going to raise more. He says the meat of the animal is more delicate than that of a chicken.

SIXTEEN YEARS IN BUSINESS.
W. H. Jones, Dealer in Farming Implements, Still Sells Out.
W. H. Jones has disposed of his farming implement business to William P. Temple and R. H. Wilcox. This move has been contemplated by Mr. Jones for some time, as he has felt that he is entitled to a rest after being in the first class in agriculture to business. He engaged in the farming implement and hardware business in Pendleton in 1886, and later in the same year, with the late S. P. Sturgis as partner, bought out J. M. Leizer. A few years afterwards T. C. Taylor came into the firm, and the incorporation was dissolved. Mr. Taylor taking the hardware, Mr. Sturgis retiring and Mr. Jones retaining the farming implement end of it, which he has ever since handled. His office and warehouse are on Cottonwood street, between Court and Water streets, where he has been doing a big business. His successors have bought the stock, which will invoice about $7000, and have leased the building. Mr. Jones has 2400 acres of land adjoining Pendleton on the north, which he has leased out, much of it being in wheat this year. His interests will continue to attract his attention, but he will not allow them to keep him so close as in past years.
William P. Temple is a well known farmer and a son of John F. Temple. R. H. Wilcox is a member of the grocery firm of Hawley & Wilcox. The new proprietors, according to the contract, will take possession on or April 1.

AN EVENTFUL DAY IN SEATTLE.
Accidents, Death and Crime of Twenty-Four Hours.
Sunday, the 24th instant, in Seattle, may well be said to have been a day of accidents, death and crime. Mrs. Lewis Drysdale, wife of a very prominent wholesale merchant, committed suicide by twice shooting herself through the body with a 44-caliber revolver. Overstudy in literature is thought to have unbalanced her mind.
Archibald Wilson died very suddenly at the general hospital, and mystery surrounds the case. The police are making a secret investigation of his death, at the request of Mary Davis, of Spokane, who telegraphed as follows: "Investigate every circumstance connected with his death." This case may produce a great sensation.
Mrs. J. W. Butts, of South Seattle, fell dead from heart disease at her home. The Butts family used to live at Portland.
Jesse Cedersdale was terribly mangled by a freight train, and may die. At least, he will lose both legs and may suffer mentally. The Cedersdales lived in Portland seven years and are well known there.
Peter Benson, a sailor, fell from a wharf and was on the verge of drowning. He was rescued by grappling irons and his life was saved.
Thomas Lynch, a student at the high school, suffered the loss of his hand, shot off by a gun. He was passing between freight cars, when the gun was accidentally discharged. In addition to the loss of the hand, he was a burglar, two disappearances reported to the police, and one child lost and another case of smallpox reported.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE GIBSON DEAD.
Both Die at Their Home in Cold Spring Within Twelve Hours of Each Other.
George Gibson and his wife, Isabel J. Gibson, residents of Middle Cold Spring, twelve miles north from Pendleton, died during the past 27 hours. Mrs. Gibson, who was ill with a malady of the stomach, passed away at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of Monday, her husband following her this morning at 1 o'clock p. m., in the Presbyterian church, the Rev. F. L. Forbes conducting the services.
Since April 3, 1882, eighteen years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Gibson had resided in Umatilla county. They came here from Kansas. Mr. Gibson, whose trade was that of a carpenter, also pursued the agricultural vocation. Mr. Gibson's birthplace was in Schenck county, Pa. Mrs. Gibson, before being married in Wyandotte county, Ohio. His age was 67, and she was 57 years old. Two children survive, Mrs. A. B. Cooley, who with her husband lives in the Cold Spring neighborhood; and Harry Gibson, resident in Joseph, Wallawa county.
Mr. Gibson, who died from complications accompanying a gripple, was a veteran of the civil war, serving under General McClellan in the Peninsular campaign, and continuing in the Union army throughout the war until peace had been declared.
At the funeral tomorrow the many friends of the deceased couple will come from Cold Spring to testify to the deep respect in which they were held, and doubtless numbers of friends in Pendleton will also be present.
The son-in-law, A. B. Cooley, is in town today effecting arrangements for the funeral.

Five Things.
The five diseases for which Shiloh's Consumption Cure is especially recommended, are Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup and Consumption. No medicine ever made by man is equal to it in any respect. Sold under a positive guarantee. Money back if it fails. 25 cts, 50 cts and $1 a bottle. Tallman & Co.
Capt. Oliver Dolson, whose body was found in his cabin in Washington gulch was undoubtedly murdered, and the confession purporting to come from him in which he was made to declare his son and grandson innocent of the murder of Eugene Cullinan was a forgery.

BLALOCK ISLAND RABBIT DRIVE.
Fare From Pendleton Will Be $2.50 for the Round Trip.
A rabbit drive of such stupendous proportions as that which will occur at Blalock island, on Wednesday, March 5, has seldom been witnessed in Eastern Oregon, or in the United States for that matter. Blalock island is in the Columbia river near Coyote station on the O. R. & N. Reduced rates have been made to accommodate all who would like to attend. The fare from Pendleton is $2.50 for the round trip. Persons from this city will leave on train No. 3, at 10:45 p. m., Monday, March 4. The drive will commence early on the morning of March 5 and continue throughout the day, ending with a barbecue. Coming back, passengers will get home on the train which arrives in Pendleton on the morning of the 6th. Great preparations are being made by the management so that all who attend will have a good time.

FRACTURED HER RIGHT ARM.
A Second Distressing Accident Befalls Mrs. J. B. Mumford.
Mrs. J. B. Mumford met with a distressing accident at her home, the J. S. Fielding place, in North Pendleton, between 2 and 3 o'clock on Monday afternoon. While walking on a board walk within the yard she fell and fractured both bones of her right forearm. It was soon after the rain and the boards were as slippery as glass. Mr. Mumford was at Weston and learned of the accident upon arriving at the depot at 5 o'clock in the evening. This falls with unusual weight on the victim, as she is a lady well along in years, and, in addition, 51 days ago, fell and fractured one of the bones and dislocated the wrist of her left arm. She had just commenced to use that arm, but had not regained its complete use, when this accident followed. Dr. W. G. Cole was summoned and Mrs. Mumford is today getting along as well as could be expected under the peculiar circumstances.

C. C. LA RIVIERE IS DEAD.
Sad information for the Brother at Deadwood, S. D.
J. L. Sharon received a letter last week from S. C. La Riviere asking for information regarding his brother, Charles C. Quinine is ten years behind. Colds do not need to be endured. MENDEL'S DYNAMIC TABLETS (called dynamic from their energy) crowd a week's ordinary treatment into twelve hours and abort the worst of colds over night.
