

The Place
To buy Groceries
where you can have a big stock to select from. Call and see me. My stock is large both in fancy and staple groceries.
G. R. Demott

How to win a Shetland Pony

The Wayne Knitting Mills are going to give away ten ponies. How much do they weigh?

25c

GUESS

Buy a pair of Wayne-knit Pony Stockings and make your guess on the printed ticket. You have a chance to win a pony. A guess with every pair.

Wayne knit Stockings for boys and girls are the biggest worth ever made.

25c

R. ALEXANDER.

A BEAUTIFUL EULOGY OF WM. M'KINLEY

Judge Lowell on the Life of the Late President.

HE WAS AN IDEAL AMERICAN CITIZEN

Pendleton and Umatilla County Unite in Paying Respect to the Dead in Open Air Memorial Services at the Court House.

Never before in its history has Pendleton been so quiet and orderly as today. Out of love and respect for the late President McKinley, places of business have been closed.

Towards 2 o'clock the people began to move quietly toward the court house grounds, where the ceremonies were held.

The band, followed by fraternal societies and old soldiers and a long line of citizens proceeded to the sound of slow music.

When all had arrived, fully 2000 people stood uncovered waiting for the services to begin.

On the steps of the court house was erected a stand for speakers and singers and above it was the picture of the dead president draped in black.

It was an impressive ceremony and the tear stained eyes and bowed heads of the multitude gave evidence of sorrow which every one felt.

Mayor Vincent presided.

The services opened with a selection by the band, followed by a prayer by Rev. R. J. Diven, deeply touching the hearts of his listeners.

The hymn, "Nearer, My God, to Thee," was sung by a choir of twenty voices, led by Rev. W. E. Potwin.

The proclamations of President Roosevelt and Governor Geer were read by T. G. Haidley.

After the hymn, "Some Day We'll Understand," an address was given by S. A. Lowell.

The choir sang "Lead, Kindly Light," and Rev. B. W. King pronounced the benediction.

"America" was started by the band and the assembly, man, woman and child, took up the air and sang it through with pathos to the end.

It was a heartfelt tribute paid by people of all classes and conditions, all opinions and creeds.

Not an occurrence marred the picture—a community standing with bowed heads in sorrow for the dead.

Judge Lowell's address was:

Reverent we stand in the mighty mystery of death.

The republic mourns, not with the gorgeous pageantry which marks the passing of a crown, but with that impressive hush which pays sincerest tribute to a loved one gone.

The grim messenger of the Maker came, and from the loftiest station in the land called home His own, and despoiled its tears and sadness, the nation, looking beyond the present, joins with its martyred chief in answer, "Gods will, not ours, be done."

Buoyed by the inspiring example of his life and death, this government of the people re-dedicates itself to the principles upon which the fathers banded, and is ready to move grandly forward upon its mission of equal justice and human liberty.

This funeral day means not the end of anything, save the wrong and cruelty of anarchistic creed.

For the better and higher things it is but a re-beginning, for no well lived life ever ceases, and as we earthly mortals, looking beyond the present, pass on to the hereafter, we leave behind us a shining example of a noble life.

Reverent we stand in the mighty mystery of death.

The republic mourns, not with the gorgeous pageantry which marks the passing of a crown, but with that impressive hush which pays sincerest tribute to a loved one gone.

The grim messenger of the Maker came, and from the loftiest station in the land called home His own, and despoiled its tears and sadness, the nation, looking beyond the present, joins with its martyred chief in answer, "Gods will, not ours, be done."

Buoyed by the inspiring example of his life and death, this government of the people re-dedicates itself to the principles upon which the fathers banded, and is ready to move grandly forward upon its mission of equal justice and human liberty.

This funeral day means not the end of anything, save the wrong and cruelty of anarchistic creed.

For the better and higher things it is but a re-beginning, for no well lived life ever ceases, and as we earthly mortals, looking beyond the present, pass on to the hereafter, we leave behind us a shining example of a noble life.

FUNERAL SERVICES IN CANTON

The City Was Filled With Enormous Throngs.

LAST CHAPTER OF M'KINLEY'S LIFE

Was Written Today in the Ohio Town Where He Made His Home From Early Manhood and Among His Lifetime Friends.

Canton, Sept. 19.—A cold, damp and gray funeral day dawned at Canton. Lowering clouds overcast the heavens and chilling mist added to the depression which affected those who came to perform the last offices for the martyred dead. All during the night and morning special trains packed to suffocation were arriving. The streets soon were packed until they became almost impassable.

An Array of Distinguished Bourners.

The body of the late lamented president was placed in its temporary repository this afternoon, while thousands stood in the West Lawn cemetery mourning for the nation's late chief. President Roosevelt and his cabinet, special honorary pallbearers, local honorary pallbearers and Troop A of Cleveland assembled at the McKinley house at 12:30 o'clock. In a short time the caasket was borne from the house and then to the First Methodist Episcopal church of which the late president had long been personal friend, and Mrs. McKinley was not at the funeral, her serious condition making it impossible for her to attend.

The Services.

The church walls were hidden by flowers and crepe. Services there were simple and consisted of prayer, scriptural readings, singing "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" by quartette, "Lead, Kindly Light," sung by a double quartette, a general oration and a benediction. The face of the dead was not exposed to view, marks of death being too plain. In the church were army comrades of Major McKinley, President Roosevelt's state officers, cabinet members, several members of the diplomatic corps, senators and other high officials, residents of Canton who had long been personal friends, and officials from neighboring states and cities. The body was placed in the public vault, where it will remain until a permanent mausoleum be provided.

Services at the tomb were brief. The Knights Templar quartette sang one selection and Bishop Joyce of Minneapolis delivered a prayer.

The Secret.

The body was borne to the funeral car by the soldiers and sailors who have acted as pallbearers since the funeral party began to move from Buffalo. Troop A acted as an escort to the body. The cortege was composed of all the Ohio National Guard, independent military organizations, Knights Templar, Grand Army posts, civic societies and citizens. Lines of state soldiers kept the crowds back. When the two great bronze doors of the vault closed, women cried aloud, man sobbed, and, while the soft, sweet strains of "Nearer, My God, to Thee" stole out over the multitude, the sun shone out for a moment in gentle benediction and the last chapter of William McKinley's life was written.

Mrs. McKinley Falls.

Canton, Sept. 19.—Aber McKinley said last night that Mrs. McKinley is falling perceptibly, but there has been no collapse.

London Mourners.

London, Sept. 19.—All of London today was mourning the death of McKinley. Memorial services were held in Westminster Abbey. Over two thousand persons were present. Royalty was well represented.

This afternoon impressive services were held at St. Paul's. The lord mayor and city corporation in state attended. An hour before the services began thousands were unable to gain admission. Exceptional honor was shown the memory of the late president by the channel squadron which fired minute guns at noon.

Vienna Services.

Vienna, Sept. 19.—Memorial services for McKinley were held in the British embassy church here today. They were attended by the emperor.

New York Services.

New York, Sept. 19.—New York has given itself up entirely today to observance in memory of Mr. McKinley. Services were held in every church in the city. Business was at a standstill.

Chicago's Tribute.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Today Chicago is paying a remarkable tribute to the memory of Mr. McKinley. Never in the history of the city has there been such general suspension of business. Memorial exercises held in the schools and churches throughout the city this morning. This afternoon a great military parade marched through the downtown streets.

Navarra Suspended Business.

Navarra, Sept. 19.—Business was suspended today. Services were held in the theatre this afternoon.

Philippine Chief Justice Spoke.

Manila, Sept. 19.—Impressive services were held in the cathedral of St. Louis, Chief Justice Spoke addressed thousands of people. Philippine abhorrence of the assassin was shown.

Spain Also Paid Tribute.

Madrid, Sept. 19.—Impressive services were held in the cathedral of St. Isidoro. Chief Justice Spoke addressed thousands of people. Philippine abhorrence of the assassin was shown.

Canada's Day of Mourning.

Montreal, Sept. 19.—This is a day of mourning in Canada. Public offices, banks and exchanges are closed.

The Boston Store.

School Shoes Opening Sale Dry Goods

- 8 to 8 kid, $1.00 to $1.60
- 8 to 12 heavy, $1.00 to $1.90
- 10 to 12 heavy, $1.00 to $1.15
- Fine shoes for girls $1, $1.25, $1.50 and $1.75
- Strong shoes for boys, made like a man's shoe, $1.25, 1.50, 1.75, 2.00, 2.25 and 2.50.
- Big boys are young men. Try the Douglas shoe $3.00 and $3.50

12 1-2c 15 to 32 5/8c values. Plaids and Novelties. This covers the least.

19c This line of Plaid and Novelties range in price from 25c to 50c; will now be offered during this sale at this low price.

If these don't attract you prices don't count.

29c 35c to 75c values of fine plaids, novelties and plain colors and plenty of them. This price is made for this sale only.

39c 50c to 55c values and a good assortment of up-to-date materials, not a few pieces but many of them. These are on centre counter-counter, easily found.

A grand opportunity to get fall dress goods.

49c 60c to $1 values colored and black novelties.

59c 75c to $1.25 values colored and black novelties. These can be appreciated when seen.

The Boston Store.

On the Tray, Sideboard or Table.

Fine chinaware is always attractive, and you never saw such fine china offered at such low prices as in our present sale. A visit to our sales counters will well repay you in the attractiveness of the display. Then you can appreciate the attractiveness of these prices. We want you to see those 17-piece dinner sets at $37.50.

G. ROHRMAN.

SEE BAKER & FOLSOM

For Combination Folding Cots and Chairs. Just the thing to take to the mountains

Next Door to Postoffice Pendleton, Oregon.

AIR-TIGHT HEATERS

I have a full line of the celebrated COLE'S AIR-TIGHT Wood and coal stoves guaranteed to be absolutely air tight. None of the heat is wasted and the stoves will save ONE-HALF of your fuel bill.

I also have a full line of cast cook stoves and steel ranges. Prices are the lowest, quality considered.

Frederick Nolf

741 Main street, Pendleton, Oregon.

T. C. TAYLOR, the Hardware Man.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST NEWS.

The custom inspectors Wednesday evening seized three British Columbia built fishing schooners which, it is claimed were in American waters illegally.

The final preparations for the big street fair which opened in Roseburg on Wednesday insured for four days of enjoyment by the largest crowds ever seen there.

Gipsies who have been encamped on the outskirts of Walla Walla for the past week were ordered to keep out of town. The women roamed the streets telling fortunes.

The last Oregon legislature appropriated nearly three and a half millions for the biennial session, when it cost the state of Iowa with seven times as many people only a little over four millions for two years.

The case of Dr. Burson of Boise, who was arrested for the alleged offense of anarchistic ideas, has attracted a great deal of attention. The doctor, himself, denies that any of his words were of revolutionary character or that they expressed satisfaction at the murder of the president.

Few days ago the price of logs in the Columbia River district was reduced from $6 to $5.50 per thousand, and now what equals a further reduction of 50 cents has been made. The price remains nominally at $5.50, but the system of scaling at the mills is so strict that it virtually amounts to a cut to an even $5 per thousand. Should this continue during the remainder of the season it will entail a loss of fully 400,000 to the timber interests of that section.

Bids for furnishing the war department the largest single order of forage ever purchased by the government on the Pacific Coast were opened simultaneously in Seattle and in San Francisco at the quartermaster's offices. The tenders are to supply 4900 tons of double compressed hay and 2500 tons of the best white oats, for shipment to the Philippines. The purchase will aggregate about $140,000. The award on the bids will not be announced for several days.

EIGHT POUNDS!

Eight pounds of love and laughter, of smiles and sunshine—F. Pierce's mother can fill up the blank out of her experience of puffy, wailing children whose coughing and howling, though not child's noise to the home.

Women who have read Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" know that it makes all the difference between a healthy mother and a mother who is miserable and nervous. And they know also that happy, healthy mothers have happy, healthy children.

"I am mother of six children," writes Mrs. C. A. Briggs of Millwood, Oregon. "I have always had a weak stomach, and I have never suffered any such a great deal of pain as my babies were large—they all weighed more than eight pounds, and I felt like a woman who was about to go to the hospital. I had some stomach trouble, but a few doses of Dr. Pierce's 'Favorite Prescription' in ten days cured me. I can hardly ever without your medicine. They are all the healthiest and strongest I have ever known."

"I feel that I owe my little boy's life to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, as he had convulsions, and everything he ate would bring them on. I commenced to give him the 'Golden Medical Discovery' in ten days and in three days he was well. Now he is just as healthy a child as can be found and he grows like a weed."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best laxative for women.

DEVOTION TO PRINCIPLES

He never was a practical politician. His life was dedicated to principles, and he sought results through their advocacy, and he believed, as has every popular leader, that the average judgment of masses of men, if given time for consideration, was in the main correct.

His genial temperament, sterling integrity, and social gifts gave him entrance to the field of politics, and his intellectual endowment and habits of industry kept him there. Probably his long advocacy of the protective tariff, and the marvelous reaction in its favor at a time when he was the central figure in an important and doubtful issue, made him president.

But all men are in large degree shapers of circumstances, and his elevation to the presidency was the result of a combination of circumstances.

(Continued on Fourth page.)