LOSES TEETH, GAINS SIGHT. Sandusky, O.—Partially blinded for five years, totally blind for seven months, Edward Kennedy, thirty-nine, a farmer at Parkerton, saw the light of day following the extraction of two teeth by Dr. J. T. Nicholson.

The case is without parallel in dentistry. Mr. Kennedy had been declared beyond human aid by eye specialists and had obtained a pension from a blind relief fund. Doctors gave the cause as paralysis of the optic nerve.

Accompanied by Fred Patch, Kennedy went to Dr. Nicholson's office, suffering severe pain. An examination showed that an upper molar and a lower wisdom tooth were badly ulcerated. Hardly had the second tooth been pulled when Mr. Kennedy exclaimed, "I can see—I can see the light! I can see the crack in the window, I can see you."

Mr. Kennedy will go to Detroit to consult an eye specialist.

RAILROAD TO SUE FOR 80 CENTS. Camden, N. J.—M. F. Cattell of Woodbury, near here, has been notified by the Central railroad of New Jersey that it would bring suit against him for 80 cents.

This action follows a recent verdict in favor of the Reading railway against Cattell for $150. The Reading sued for Cattell's fare from Philadelphia to New York.

The rate from one is $2.50, but the Reading connects with the Central railroad, using that company's tracks so that the amount recovered represents only its share. Now the Central railroad wants its share, amounting to 80 cents.

Cattell, who was going to New York, offered the conductor a mileage book which he refused, as the time limit had expired. Cattell refused to pay cash fare but was not put off the train.

SAVED BY MEDICATED STEAM. Child, seemingly dying of croup, Gets Novel Treatment.

Reading, Pa.—At the Homeopathic hospital here a notable victory over death was scored when the 3-year-old son of John Hammel of Shillington was saved. The child was in a precarious condition with croup and had a throat twice its natural size.

A canopy was erected over a cot, the flaps tightly closed and the inclosure filled with medicated steam. For three hours two doctors and four nurses worked with feverish energy over the child, who at one moment seemed to be arousing from stupor and throwing off the impediment in his throat and the next would sink back, an inert mass.

At last they conquered and the child is now able to sit up in bed and will recover.

LONG FIGHT GETS LICENSE.

Capitalist May Now Sell Liquor at His Summer Hotel.

Hartford, Conn.—The commissioners of New London county have decided to issue a liquor license to Morton F. Plant, yachtsman and capitalist, who for years has been violating the excise laws of Connecticut at his big summer hotel, the Fort Griswold House, just outside of New London in the no license town of Gretton.

Through the influence of a lobby a bill was shoved through the last legislature, despite the concerted opposition of the temperance interests, and it is to be issued.

LEAP YEAR IS NO LONGER THE JOY OF CUPID'S LIFE

Women Backward About Asking Men to Marry, Says License Clerk.

Sacramento, Calif.—"Leap year seems to be losing its grip on Cupid," said County Clerk Ed Pfund. "The women don't seem to be paying any attention to it. I think it must be on account of politics, and that they are getting so busy with voting that they haven't time to bother about getting married."

These observations on the part of County Clerk Pfund were drawn forth on account of the extremely low number of marriage licenses issued for March.

"The number of licenses issued for this month was just fifty-six," said Pfund. "This is away below the normal. I have been in the office for nineteen years and, as far as my off-hand recollection goes, I think this is lower than it ever has been."

"The women have time enough to come to the office to register, as the registration shows, but they haven't time to take out marriage licenses."

Mrs. Robert Jamieson and Mrs. Christine Arbuckle, sisters, and the children of Mrs. Jamieson are the nearest relatives of John Arbuckle.

GAS KILLS TWO ARTISTS.

Robert L. Newman and Louise Schofield Are Victims.

New York—Two artists met death by gas one being the octogenarian Robert Layton Newman and the other Miss Louise Schofield. Both were well known, Newman for his skill in color and Miss Schofield as a landscape painter.

Newman was found dead in his studio by his son among a large number of paintings and sketches. One canvas—a desert scene—to which the old man had been giving the finishing touches—is said by his friends to have been conceived as his final effort. Gas escaping from a heater had asphyxiated him.

Miss Schofield was found dead in her studio. It is believed she started to get breakfast on the gas range, but fainted and was overcome by the gas.

against it. Most of the women present did not vote.

MEXICO DENIES TREATY.

Two Hundred Japanese Colonists Arrive at Mazanillo.

Mexico City.—Official denial has been made of the existence of a secret treaty between Japan and Mexico and the granting of a coaling station, but the arrival of 200 Japanese colonists at Mazanillo a few days ago has started the story anew. Several thousand Japanese are working on ranches in the south part of the republic.
