on the smooth, hard road at about 25 miles an hour. When about 250 yards up from the Lee street bridge, he swerved a little to the right and ran into a little rut next to the hillside.

It was a very fortunate accident for, had the car not been turned squarely around so that it went head first in its plunge, it would have turned over several times before reaching the bottom.

Repairs are being made to the car in the ditch today and it is believed it will be brought in under its own power.

35 OR 40 SUITS WILL BE STARTED FOR RIGHT OF WAY

Before the city of Pendleton can acquire title to the right of way for its pipe line leading from Thorn Hollow to the city, it will have to prosecute about 35 or 40 condemnation suits against the Indian owners of the land.

Not an Indian owner of land through which the pipe line is routed will make any agreement with the city. Seemingly they have taken a stand together and have refused absolutely to meet the city's overtures, thus necessitating legal procedure.
