OSTEOPATHIC HINTS

Human Spine Like a Telephone Exchange.

When you see a nerve cell under the microscope, it looks like some vast gray-colored water animal with numerous exquisitely sensitive tentacles reaching out in many directions, one of which is prolonged enormously. This long tentacle is the nerve fibre, and many thousands, or tens of thousands, or millions of these fibres make up the nerve or nerve trunk. All the muscles, all the glands, all the other organs and parts of the body are the mere slaves of these microscopic monster-like organisms, the nerve cells. The osteopath sends his message to the disordered organ or part through these masters of the body, and the message brings blood to the part precisely as the case requires, either to stimulate or normalize the organ to its own peculiar activity.

Every organ, every part of the body, has its own corresponding place on the marvelous keyboard of the flexuous spinal column, and instantaneously the osteopath reaches the disordered part by manipulating the nerve fibres that control its chemistry. — Osteopathic Health.

By authority of Drs. Hoisington, Judd Building.—Adv.

SETH LOW RECOMMENDS ANTI-TRUST LEGISLATION

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—The closing sessions of the fourteenth annual meeting of the National Anti-Trust Federation today developed intensely interesting discussions of the proper regulation of industrial corporations. President Seth Low of the Federation, a former mayor of New York, presented a report containing recommendations to be incorporated into any bill introduced in congress to supplement or substitute for the Sherman anti-trust law. Some of the questions discussed on the subject were: Shall the size of industrial corporations be limited? Granted that destructive competition is uneconomic from the standpoint of the public, how can competition be so regulated as to prevent it reaching this point? Should a manufacturer be permitted to fix the price at which a retailer may sell to the consumer? Is the price-cutting of department stores and other mercantile establishments a benefit or an injury to the public?

Safety Expo Nears Close.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—With George B. Cortelyou acting as chairman, the first International Exposition of Safety and Sanitation met today for its concluding sessions. "Employer and Employee" and "What Accident Prevention Means to the Worker's Family" were discussed by Mrs. J. Borden Harriman. Miss Lore O'Reilly of the Woman's Trade Union League and F. C. Henderson of the "The Coming Generation," discussed by Secretary of Labor W. E. Wilson was the first of the afternoon topics. Other topics and their speakers were, "Teaching a Child to Avoid Danger," by Gustave Straubmuller, New York City Schools, and "Changing Conditions in Municipalities," by Henry Bruere, director of the bureau of municipal research.

Drydock Bill Introduced.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—A bill providing for a drydock 1000 feet long at Puget sound at a cost of $3,000,000 was introduced today in the senate by Jones of Washington. Humphrey introduced a similar measure in the house.

ADDITIONAL SOCIETY.

Under the auspices of the members of the library board, assisted by the various clubs of the city, arrangements are being made for the annual library ball which will take place on the evening of January 1st, 1914.

Members of the Civic club, Thursday Afternoon club, Current Literature club, Commercial club and library board are co-operating in a committee on general arrangements. Already the affair gives promise of being one of the most brilliant and enjoyable of this winter's social events.

Committee on general arrangements: Mrs. John Vert, Mrs. J. F. Robinson, Mrs. F. Frazier, Mrs. N. Berkeley, Mrs. G. Hartman, Jr., Mrs. F. E. Judd, Mrs. G. L. La Dow, Mrs. J. A. Fee, Mrs. A. J. McAllister, Mr. J. V. Tallman, Mr. C. K. Cranston.

The members of the Young Ladies' class of the Methodist Episcopal church gave a farewell party for Mrs. C. A. Jackson at her apartments in the Monteville building, Friday evening. Rook was played during the evening and refreshments served. Mrs. Jackson and little daughter Lillian, are soon to leave for their home in the east after a three months' visit with Mrs. Jackson's brother, Herbert, in California.

The members of the class are: Mrs. Sam Jenkins, teacher; Miss Ida Hinderman, president; Miss Audrey Hunter, vice president; Miss I. A. Nell, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. C. A. Jackson, Mrs. Bert Hunter, Mrs. Leghorn, Mrs. Glenn Cannon, Mrs. James Beck, Miss Crow, Miss Maude Maxwell and Mrs. Frank Hoffman.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Snyder are being complimented upon the birth of a seven pound daughter, born at their farm home near this city last Wednesday, December 10th. Mrs. Snyder was formerly Miss Sybil Cole, and is a daughter of Councilman and Mrs. Charles A. Cole.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Storie popular young couple who formerly lived here are over from Walla Walla to spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Mable.

The choir of the Methodist church is preparing a Christmas cantata "Holy Night" by Ashford which will be presented on the Sunday evening prior to Christmas day.

Miss Ethel Fraker of Portland is visiting in Pendleton for a few days en route to Walla Walla where she will spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam R. Thompson returned this morning from Portland where they spent ten days.

A Circumstantial Hero. Biograph.

He rescued the ring for the beautiful diving Venus and also won the girl. A very amusing comedy.

A Hornet's Nest. Edison.

NEWS OF FARM AND RANGE

Returns from Sheepmen's Meeting

That the livestock show held in Portland during the convention of the Oregon Woolgrowers' convention was one of the best ever held in the northwest, is the opinion of Herbert Boylen, prominent Umatilla county sheepman, who came up last night from the metropolis. He declares the convention was also a very successful affair.

Attends Horticultural Meeting

J. Campbell, fruit inspector for Umatilla county, is now in Portland attending the annual meeting of the state horticultural society. A meeting of county inspectors is being held in conjunction with the convention. While away Mr. Campbell will visit the Hood River valley.

To Represent Farmers

A. R. Shumway who represented the farmers' union before sessions of the last legislature, has been chosen to serve again as chairman of the union legislative committee, the selection having been made at the recent meeting at La Grande.

Barbecue at Helix

The Helix local of the Farmers' Union is today enjoying a big barbecue and many members of other locals are in attendance. County President Manuel Friedley went out this morning to join in the festivities.

Using Electric Lights

Farmers in the east end of the county are making use of electric lights in their farm homes. O. Hodgson and J. E. Jones, both of Vincent had their places wired this week.

Checking Water Permits

L. A. Reineman, watermaster, is now out on Birch creek checking up water permits granted by the state engineer's office.

Good Apple Crop

Harry Sayer, who has a ranch south of Athena, is said to have raised some splendid apples, the principal variety being Rome Beauties.

Buys Good Ranch

Henry Koepke of Athena, has purchased the larger place north of the city limits of Athena, the price being given at $16,500.

FOREST NOTES.

Twenty states have published reports of their wood-using industries. A good grade of excelsior is being made from fire-killed Alpha fir and Engelmann spruce in Colorado. It is predicted that western yellow pine will furnish an excellent source of turpentine as the southern pine becomes exhausted.

While there are five hemlocks in the United States, only two are of any commercial importance, common hemlock and western hemlock. Of these two western hemlock makes the better lumber.

The Philippine bureau of forestry uses a launch for service between islands. The U. S. forest service employs several, both on inland lakes and in salt water, in Alaska and Florida.

Trunk manufacturers in Colorado are abandoning the usual hawthorn and cottonwood for the trunk box and are turning to Engelmann spruce which combines lightness, strength and ease of working.

ROAD BUILDERS HAVE THEIR FINAL SESSION

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 12.—"General Methods of Repairs and Renewals" was discussed by A. W. Dean, chief engineer of the Massachusetts Highway Commission, at the tenth convention of the American Road Builders' Association, which opened here Tuesday. Paul D. Sargeant, chief engineer of the Maine State Highway Commission, led the discussion. Another subject discussed this afternoon was "Blutinous Surface Treatment and Dust Prevention," by William H. Connel, chief of the Philadelphia bureau of highways and street cleaning. C. W. Ross, street commissioner of Newton, Mass., led the discussion.

Wildcat Knocked Out.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 12.—"Wildcat" Ferns of Kansas City was practically knocked out by Mike Gibbons of St. Paul here in the second round of what was to have been a 10-round bout. Floored three times for the count of nine early in the round, Fern was wobbly and the referee stopped the fight with probably two minutes remaining of the round.
