Since her arrest and furnishing of bonds, she has been in Washington.

 A complete and modern equipped steam laundry is now being installed at the Umatilla agency by Major Swartzlander and will serve henceforth to provide laundry service for the government school and agency. The laundry is being secured through money earned on the agency farm and costs the government nothing.

 J. G. Kilpack, agent for the Boys & Girls' Aid society, was here yesterday looking up some data in a case now before the association. It is a case in which a former Milton school teacher, Mrs. Richen, desires to regain custody of two children that were taken by the society and have since been adopted in good homes. The mother is now living at Marshfield and is married to a Greek named Lazapaulas. The aid society is opposing restoring the children to the mother.

 Immigration Inspector E. L. Wells has returned from Portland, where he had been called in a white slave case against J. B. Hoover, who recently was arrested in Pendleton. The action was dismissed, owing to the illness of the defendant, who is in a Portland hospital, and who is said to have no chance of recovery.—Walla Walla Bulletin.

Ban On Dances at Standfield.
 Alarmed by the spread of an epidemic of smallpox and other contagious diseases within the town and surrounding country, the city fathers of Standfield last night decided to put a ban upon dances and other public gatherings, according to news telephoned here this afternoon. The baseball boys of the town had planned a dance for Friday night and had engaged the United Orchestra of this city but were forced to cancel the engagement.

News for U. of O. Alumni.
 EUGENE, Ore., Jan. 28.—University of Oregon alumni, of whom there are a number now in nearly every Oregon community, will be interested to know how the old, familiar buildings will be affected by the building expansion of this year. The library, now crowded to the ceiling by 45,000 volumes is to be extended on the north so that its capacity will be 90,000 volumes. Deady hall will be made entirely a science building, the upper two floors to be devoted to botany and zoology, and the lower two floors to physics. In the new classroom and administration building there will be no laboratories, and this building will probably be put south of Thirteenth street. The men's dormitory, where a student is given quarters at a cost of only $32 a year but which now accommodates only 44 students, is to be enlarged to accommodate as many more as the $10,000 appropriation will provide for.

GOVERNMENT MAY OWN ITS OWN RADIUM PLANT
 WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Government ownership of a radium exchange plant will be proposed in a bill to be introduced in the house tomorrow. EXTRA POLICE ARE PLACED ON DUTY IN CHICAGO
 CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—Precautions to prevent further trouble from Chicago's army of unemployed were taken when extra police were placed on duty in the vicinity of the Maxwell street station. The action followed the receipt by Captain Thomas Storen of a letter threatening to blow up that police station unless six alleged rioters arrested last night and arraigned today were released. Two boys delivered the letter to Storen. They said a man gave them a dime for their trouble. The letter warned Storen that unless the six prisoners were released by noon the station would be dynamited.

JAMES ESTES NAMED NEW DEPUTY SHERIFF
 James H. Estes, well known proprietor of a Main street barber shop, will become an officer of the law next Monday morning, Sheriff T. D. Taylor having appointed him deputy and later to succeed George Strand whose resignation goes into effect on the first of the month. Estes will probably dispose of his shop in the near future.

The new deputy sheriff has been a resident of Pendleton and Umatilla county for a good many years. Most of his mature years have been spent in the barber business though at one time he was interested in the Pastime bowling and billiard parlors and later was local agent for the Oregon Life Insurance Co. Something over a year ago he went to Portland to engage in the barber business and only recently returned to Pendleton and opened a shop. He has had some experience as an officer of the law, having at one time been deputy game warden for this county.

Mr. Strand quits the sheriff's office to engage in farming near Vancyle, having leased the Edgar Smith ranch.

NAVY OWN BOSS IN HAITI
 United States Leaves Revolution Course to Officers' Discretion.
 WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—There has been no declaration of policy by the United States in regard to the revolution now raging in Haiti, although the arrival of the armored cruiser Montana at Port au Prince to join two other American warships in Haitian waters normally would call for some specific instructions to the naval officers in command.

The state department refrained from warning the rebels that they would not be allowed to profit by any temporary victories, and the naval officers are left to work out their own course under the general principles of international law.

PRESIDENT GREETES KIDDIES.
 National Business Waits When Two Youngsters Visit Wilson.
 WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—President Wilson suspended business in the executive office to greet the two little children of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Brookhurst, of Jersey City.

Senators and congressmen were waiting, delegations were crowded in the corridors, secretaries were hustling when the president saw two golden haired children arriving. He beckoned and they came forward—Edmund, 4, and Anna May, 2. The boy was friendly at the outset but the little girl was somewhat reserved. The president's cordiality broke her shyness and as they left the offices they paused at the door and waved their hands. The president waved his as long as they did.

BOY RECOVERING FROM KNIFE WOUND IN HEART
 Fight for Lad's Life Has Been Going on Since Christmas; Wound Was Accidental.

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 28.—Vern Lazenby, a boy of 15, who lives at 140 Emerson street, is recovering from an accidentally self-inflicted knife thrust that penetrated his heart. The fight for his life has continued since Christmas. Internal hemorrhage has reduced him from an unusually robust youth to a feeble and anemic invalid, scarcely able to leave his bed. Christmas day the boy was engaged in showing a girl companion how he could point a long sheath knife toward his heart, bring it toward him violently, then reverse it so quickly that the butt, not the point, would strike his chest. Miscalculating the length of the blade he failed to reverse the knife in time and it cut through the clothing and flesh and into the surface of the heart. It was at first thought the boy had no chance of recovery. His father, C. D. Lazenby, is an instructor in Jefferson high school.

the grocerymen were charged with selling short weight butter. The butter was bought from Swift & Co., and that company's traveling salesman also was arrested on the same charge. Faint praise ne'er won fair damage
