CHEWING TOBACCO IS NOT CHRISTIAN'S DUTY—BULGIN

In the sermon on the unparjournable sin. But in brief it is as explained in Matthew's gospel: "The attributing of the works of Christ to the little contemptible god Beelzebub, the god of lies. To do this was to destroy the last way of escape from sin, to break the last golden wire of hope to get to God. They could blaspheme God the father and creator, or Jesus Christ the Saviour for their work was done, but the Holy Spirit was still doing his work and was the last revelation for God to men. To destroy that was not to be forgiven."

Dr. Bulgin and also Rev. T. F. Weaver took occasion to denounce in unparjournable terms those that had been going out of their way to discourage the new converts, and saying that many could be bought with one drink of whiskey. As announced the sermon was particularly to businessmen, and the theme, "The King's Business." The text was found in 1 Sam. 21:8. "The king's business required haste."

The evangelist said that the setting of the story was where David the shepherd lad had slain Goliath and was fleeing from the wrath of the envious Saul, and had gone to the priest Abimelech without food, arms or companion and asked for these same from him and explained the absence of such because he has hastened away from home on some urgent king's business which must be attended to and speeded up by any one on the way, just because it was the king's business.

"This was an oriental custom and is even true of us today. Men are not equal, they may have the same rights to live and make a living but there are different ranks, so to speak, and privileges granted to some that the other doesn't get. The king's right is the collected rights of all his subjects. The United States is you and I. The rights and laws of the United States has the right of way over you and me because it is you and I in a bigger and collective form. So in this democratic age men obey good laws which are for the benefit, protection and progress of all society. The king of whom we speak tonight is King Jehovah, who is absolute monarch. You are his subjects whether you are loyal or disloyal, yet he is the king. He has the prior right of the creator. Right here let me say that we have no right to curse legitimate business, the creator of any kind of goods has a right to his profit and rightful gain from his skill. Your monarch has a right to the property invested in you. Then again there is the right of possession by redemption. What I buy and pay the price asked is mine. There is the right of care. An animal on pasture can eat its head off. So in this magnificent country and climate of Pendleton, you are disloyal to the king, the giver. You do not increase your responsibility by becoming a Christian, you lessen it for now you are disloyal and hinder other subjects."

Dr. Bulgin closed with an earnest appeal for all to come to such a sovereign. The audience was deeply moved and 12 or more were converted.

SOCIETY

It was a delightful evening that about fifty citizens of Pendleton and other parts of Umatilla county spent in the Commercial club rooms last evening on the occasion of the first social session of the Umatilla County Historical Society. The program of papers dealing with the early history of the county and pioneer anecdotes was most enjoyable and all too soon for the pleasure of the company came to an end.

The reminiscences of Mrs. Nancy DeSpain as read by her granddaughter Miss Mildred Berkeley and of Mrs. Mary Dossway held the audience in rapt attention, giving as they did bits of real life in a romantic past. Mrs. Robert N. Stanfield opened the program with a talk on the naming of Pendleton which proved very entertaining. "The Early History of Pilot Rock," a paper by Rev. E. W. Warrington was read by Miss Grace Gilliam and furnished some illuminating facts upon the pioneer days of the south end town. Another very interesting paper was on "Early Indian Trails" by Homer I. Watts of Athena. The general after-talk, led by Major Lee Moorhouse, was enjoyed by everyone. In keeping with the occasion, Mrs. Gilbert W. Phelps delighted the members and guests by playing old, familiar airs on the piano.

Refreshments were served after the program was concluded, Mrs. Mattie La Dow presiding at the table. Guests were present from all over the county and, altogether, the first social session of the society was distinct success.

Miss Clara Tardiff, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Edgar Thompson for the past three weeks, has returned to her home in Portland.

Miss Marie Struve, who has been visiting for the past six months with her sister, Mrs. H. H. Taylor, in San Diego, California, arrived home Wednesday evening.

The Current Literature Club is this afternoon meeting at the home of Mrs. Eliza T. Wade on Bush street.

Rev. and Mrs. George W. Kennedy, who were residents of Pendleton in pioneer days, returned this morning to their home in Hood River, after enjoying a visit of several days with oldtime friends.

The Care of Children

Sweeping seems such a simple thing that one might almost think little could be said about it. There are, however, many little details which serve to distinguish a good sweeper from a careless one, and it is upon these particular points that the greatest stress should be laid by the mother who undertakes to instruct her small children in this branch of domestic science.

Nothing will appeal to a child and arouse her interest so quickly as to

COMB SAGE TEA IN LIFELESS, GRAY HAIR

IF MIXED WITH SULPHUR IT DARKENS SO NATURALLY NOBODY CAN TELL.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.

All Clogged Up? Here's Quick Relief

A Simple Remedy to Correct Constipation Before It Becomes Chronic.

Very few people go through life without some time or other being troubled with constipation. Thousands injure themselves by the use of strong cathartics, salts, mineral waters, pills and similar things. They have temporary relief in some cases, it is true, but the good effect is soon lost, and the more one takes of them the less effective they become.

A physic or purgative is seldom necessary, and much better and more permanent results can be obtained by using a scientific remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It does not hide behind a high sounding name, but is what it is represented to be, a mild laxative medicine. It is so mild that thousands of mothers give it to their infants, and yet it is so compounded, and contains such definite ingredients that it will have equally good effect when used by a person suffering from the worst chronic constipation. In fact, among the greatest endorsers of Syrup Pepsin are elderly people who have suffered for years and found nothing to benefit them until they took Syrup Pepsin.

It is a fact that millions of families have Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin constantly in the house, homes like those of Mr. H. W. Fenstermaker, Sierfied, Pa. He says he has had wonderful results from the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, that, in fact, he has never found a remedy so good.

provide her with a miniature sweeping outfit "just like mother's." Tiny brooms and carpet sweepers can be purchased in almost any large department store, and these, together with a small whisk broom, a dustpan, brush, and a couple of soft cloths, if there are hardware floors to be cared for, will constitute an admirable equipment for the little house-keeper's use. If a mimimative apron and sweeping cap patterned after mother's can be supplied, so much the better. It will have a tendency to increase the little maid's feelings of importance and responsibility, and thus lead to better work than might otherwise be accomplished.

Of course there are weak failures of mothers but the hero mothers outnumber them, else this world would be a sorry place.

And this little message is to say to every mother, no matter how discouraged and weak she may be, just give the baby a chance to carry you to the great things God has devised for the mothers who follow his plan. You may know yourself to be of the commonest clay, but the baby can bring the divine spark out to illuminate your life. Let the baby carry you to patience, to unfailing tenderness, to faith and courage. Do not let the crowd of petty worries that throng each day crush you down. They can be conquered if you learn the lesson and he is glad to recommend it. The special value of this grand laxative tonic is that it is suited to the needs of every member of the family. It is pleasant-tasting, mild and non-gripping. Unlike harsh physics, it works gradually and in a very brief time the stomach and bowel muscles are trained to do their work naturally again when all medicines can be dispensed with.

You can obtain a bottle at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar. The latter size is usually bought by families who already know its value. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing St. Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

the baby brings. Often we are amazed at people who give up a splendid possibility for a sordid indulgence of today. But that is nothing to the loss of the mother who gives up the splendid heritage she may have, to indulge her small fears and worries and irritations.

Home Hints and Recipes

Use Rain Water.

It may not be generally known that the lime deposits in a teakettle may be removed by filling the kettle with rainwater and gradually heating and letting the water boil until the lime scales off, perhaps an hour, more or less, depending on the depth of the deposit.—Los Angeles Express.

Grease the Cords.

To prevent window blind cords breaking, just the cords, and then rub them over with a well greased rag, says the Kansas City Star. The snapping is caused by friction, which impoverishes the cords, and they are further weakened by the sun and weather.
