Ghost Didn't Know Law.
DANVILLE, Ind., Dec. 10.—Ghosts that reveal forgotten wills should not wait 44 years before doing so, and the supreme court of this state has served notice to that effect. The case was one brought by Jasper Cravens against his mother, Adaline Barker Cravens, for the possession of a farm. The farm had belonged to Mrs. Cravens' brother, Jasper Barker, who was killed in the battle at Marietta, Ga., in the civil war. Mrs. Cravens held title to the farm and none questioned her claim until Jasper Cravens, the nephew, reported that his uncle's ghost had appeared to him and revealed a will that was in the possession of an old comrade of Barker. Sure enough, the will was found and the suit was brought successfully in the lower court. But the supreme court reversed the verdict because of the statute of limitations, and said: "While it may have been the intention of the uncle to bestow upon the appellee the real estate, yet if he had the power to appear to the nephew and disclose the existence of the will, his failure to make the facts known for 44 years has effectually barred the nephew's right to recover."

SOCTE

A new social club was organized in the city last evening. It is the "Frolichen Deutchen" and is composed of the German students of the high school. The meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Power, with Fraulien Edith Power and Fraulien Hazel Wyrick as hostesses. The evening was very pleasantly spent in playing German games and singing German songs, the vocal solo of Dietrich Struve in his native tongue being the feature of the evening. Refreshments consisting of hot buns, wafers, wurst, glinzer ale, pretzels, almonds, coffee and candy were served. The club looks forward to several other enjoyable meetings during the winter.

The second number of the city's winter lecture course will be the attraction Saturday evening at the high school auditorium. The entertainment will consist of rapid cartoon drawing, clay modeling and piano sketches by Ross Crane, who has been an entertainer extraordinary for the past quarter of a century.

Mrs. McClain's Experience With Croup.
"When my boy, Ray, was small he was subject to croup, and I was always alarmed at such times. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy proved far better than any other for this trouble. It always relieved him quickly. I am never without it in the house for I know it is a positive cure for croup," writes Mrs. W. R. McClain, Blairville, Pa. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

PROPOSAL SUBMITTED.

by law, shall be equal and uniform. Taxes shall be levied on such intangible subjects and in such manner as shall be prescribed by general law. Tangible property shall be deemed to consist of all forms of property except money, having a physical existence, together with the right to use and operate the same. All other property, including money and credits, shall be considered intangible. The legislative assembly and the people through the initiative shall have power to impose specific taxes, inheritance taxes and income taxes in such manner and to such extent under uniform rules, as shall be prescribed by general law.

In explanation of the move, Mr. Strain said: "Our constitution was made half a century ago. Since then a new set of economic conditions have arisen. As a consequence our tax laws are suited only to the assessment of physical property, such as real estate, livestock and the like. For this reason our constitution should be so amended and operate as to permit the creation of laws suited to the taxation of the intangible forms of property which have been brought into being through modern business methods."

There is nothing in this proposed amendment which can take away from any local government the taxable property on which it mainly relies for support. Neither is there danger that laws which could be formed under this amendment would discriminate against any particular section of the state.

As you know I do not have in mind any program further than to secure the amendment. After that I believe that the people through the legislature or the initiative will be sure to improve the present unsatisfactory, inequitable methods of taxing intangible property.

This fact should always be kept in mind in connection with the taxation of any form of liquid capital. It can be carried to whatever taxing jurisdiction the owner chooses, while real estate can not. Land must stay just where nature created it. Our laws now reach real estate and most other physical property pretty well. But they are not capable of dealing justly or effectively with intangible property. Until some such amendment as this shall be adopted our tax laws can never be much improved in this respect.

The subject of the amendment was discussed informally yesterday and upon motion of G. M. Rice was referred to the board of managers for action.

FLAGMEN TO BE HELD TO BLAME IN FUTURE FOR WRECKS ON R. R.

ENGINEERS NO LONGER THE "GOAT"—INTERSTATE COMMISSION REPORTS.

Many Other Points Are Touched in Annual Statement—Men Employed at Crossings Must Be Familiar With Rules of the Road—Wooden Coaches Condemned.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—No more is the engineer of the fast flyer the "goat" of big railroad wrecks. The Interstate Commerce Commission's annual report, issued today, gave him a nearly clean bill of health. Where he used to bear the blame, a new victim has been raised—the flagman, ignorant of the company's rules.

The commission pointed out that there has been a "considerable decrease in the number of collisions due to the failure of the engineer to obey the indications of the block signal." At the same time it held that it is unreasonable to expect freedom from wrecks when railroads employ flagmen of little experience without any examination as to their knowledge of rules.

Strong recommendation was made for universal use of a system of automatic train control in conjunction with other safety devices. During the year the commission investigated 43 train wrecks which caused death to 153 persons and injuries to 2,134. Improper flagging was given as the prime cause of wrecks. Inherent weakness of the train order system was responsible in several cases, and the commission advised use of extra checks to safeguard against danger of forgotten instructions. Inspection and supervision of work of train service employees is improving, the report stated, but there is still need for standardization of operating rules.

The report declared that there has been no material improvement in bad track and roadway conditions which have been the cause of many wrecks—no material improvement.

The commission's recommendations summarized, were:
Construction of a building adequate for the commission.

Use of steel cars in passenger service and prohibition of use of wooden cars between or in front of steel cars. Limitation to three years for filing of actions relating to transportation charges.

Passage of appropriate and adequate legislation for the commission's control of railway capitalization. Authority, explicit and emphatic, for the commission to examine carriers' papers, accounts, etc.

Establishment of a minimum penalty of $100 for violation of the hours of service act.

The report pointed out a continuation of use of cars in defective condition and advised railroads to acquaint responsible employees with the safety appliance laws.

Progress in work of the physical valuation of railroads was reported. Eight parties are now going over the roads and the commission advises increases of these parties. Satisfactory progress in surveying tentative routes for the federal railroad in Alaska was also reported.

Among the commission's larger investigations pending are:
Probe of the financial relations, rates and practices of the L. & N. road, the Nashville & Chattanooga and others; investigation of alleged rebates of the steel corporation; investigation of the Little Kanawha railroad, the Pere Marquette, the C. H. & D.; the Dock Island; the carling subject; of cement, iron ore and steel rates and transportation practices; rates and rules for telegraph and telephone companies; and investigation of revenues of carriers in "official classification" territory.

The commission evinced intention of seeking further indictments of companies billing coal to fictitious concerns or destinations for rebilling. It will also vigorously prosecute shippers who falsely report shipments or give false weights. Early prosecutions will be brought against railroads that give concessions to shippers through warehouses or similar devices.

The commission said that if congress would grant authority it could proceed to make uniformity of freight classification without injuring either shippers or carriers.

WAR TO COST THE DUTCH $80,000,000

THE HAGUE, Dec. 10.—By April next the cost to Holland of the mobilization made necessary by the European war will amount to 135,000,000 florins ($54,000,000). The cost of other war measures is placed at 60,000,000 florins ($24,000,000) and caring for the Belgian refugees at 5,000,000 florins ($2,000,000). It is estimated that the national revenue from ordinary sources will be 75,000,000 florins ($30,000,000) less than last year.

To cover the deficit it is proposed to secure a loan of 275,000,000 florins ($110,000,000) to add an extra percentage to all direct taxes and to levy indirect taxes. Judging by the tone of the press, there is likely to be active opposition to these financial measures at the coming session of parliament and also to the proposed tax on tobacco.

SURPRISES MANY IN PENDLETON

The QUICK action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-I-ka, the remedy which became famous by curing appendicitis, is surprising Pendleton people. Boy or Girl? Great Question!

This brings to many minds an old and tried family remedy—an external application known as "Mother's Friend." During the period of expectancy it is applied to the abdominal muscles and is designed to soothe the intricate network of nerves involved. In this manner it has such a splendid influence as to justify its use in all cases of coming mother-hood. It has been generally recommended for years and years and those who have used it speak in highest praise of the immense relief it affords. Particularly do these knowing mothers speak of the absence of morning sickness, absence of strain on the ligaments and freedom from those many other distresses usually looked forward to with such concern. There is no question but what "Mother's Friend" has a marked tendency to relieve the mind and of itself in addition to the physical relief has given it a very wide popularity among women. You can obtain "Mother's Friend" at almost any drug store. It has helped a host of mothers to a complete recovery. It is prepared only by Bradford Regester Co., 301 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.
