ROY FARNUM JURORS ARE UNABLE TO AGREE

ROSEBURG, Ore., Jan. 6.—The jurors in the second trial of Roy Farnum on a statutory charge in connection with Edna Morgan's death reported when court reopened that they were unable to agree on a verdict. The jury went out at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and, although forced to deliberate for two nights, failed to reach a verdict. At 9:30 Saturday night they reported to Judge Hamilton that they were unable to reach a verdict and the case was hopeless. The juror, however, said they would have to stay out until Monday morning, unless they arrived at a verdict sooner. On reporting their disagreement in court Monday morning it was found that jurors stood eight for conviction and four for acquittal.

Farnum will be tried a third time on the same charge although he is also under indictment charged with second-degree murder, but the trial of which is being postponed until the minor charge is disposed of.

The Farnum case is one of the most peculiar ever tried in the history of Douglas county. Although indicted for the murder of Edna Morgan aged 15, he was twice before another crime on the girl he is accused of having murdered. The trials of Farnum are costing Douglas County several thousand dollars. Farnum is a resident of the Glendale neighborhood where Edna Morgan's body was found in the ruins of a burned barn a couple of weeks ago, and Farnum who had long kept company with the young girl, was arrested and charged with her murder and other offenses against the dead girl.

TENTH CORPS OF THE OTTOMAN ARMY HAS BEEN BADLY BEATEN

RUSSIANS ALL BUT ANNIHILATE TURKISH FORCES, HOLDS OFFICIAL REPORT.

Slavs Completely Overwhelm Moslems in Struggle That Lasts Ten Days—Frantic Attempts of the Turks to Turn Russian Column Are Successfully Repulsed.

PETROGRAD, Jan. 7.—That the tenth corps of the Turkish army has been almost annihilated by the Russian Caucasus force which Tuesday reported the capture of the ninth, and the defeat of the 11th corps, is asserted in the official statement of the general staff of the czar's troops defending the southeastern part of the empire.

The official statement follows: "At the end of November the bulk of the tenth Turkish army was sent to the region east of Erzerum, preceded by two army corps, besides a reserve corps near Hassan Kalah.

Turks Attempt Ruse.
"In conformity with the plan of Enver Pasha, the third army was to proceed as follows:

"The ninth and tenth army corps were to advance in the direction of Oidi and form the offensive wing, whereas the 11th corps had orders to hold its powerfully-organized position and to attract through a strategic demonstration the weight of our troops. In case Russian troops had taken up the offensive energetically, the 11th corps had been ordered to fall back on the fortress of Erzerum, carrying along with it the Russian forces.

Alternate Offensive Is Plan.

"The 10th Turkish army corps was then to advance in two columns, the first including one division proceeding toward Id by the Oidi-Chai valley. The second, two divisions strong, was to advance on Ardost through the Zervy Chai valley. The ninth corps was to take the offensive in the intervals between the 10th and 11th army corps.

"Our troops in the region of Oidi checked with great courage the Turkish advance, despite the numerical superiority of the enemy, though several counter attacks inflicted heavy losses.

"In the meantime we detected a strong Turkish column, reinforced by Mussulmen rebels, which was advancing from the Panjoureisk and Jai Agouzschansk passes in the direction of Ardham. The garrison which we had left at this point, after holding out 17 days, fell back a little to the east.

Strengthened Russians Attack.
"Having received reinforcements we attacked, on January 3, the Turkish forces concentrated at Ardham and inflicted upon the enemy a complete defeat. We captured the flag of the eighth infantry regiment, a part of the Constantinople garrison.

"During the development of a subsequent action we discovered that the bulk of the Turkish forces, that is to say, the ninth and 10th army corps, were taking the offensive against Earl Kamysh. This movement was undertaken through mountain roads and steep passes buried deep in snow.

"The Turkish troops were abundantly provided with provisions and war material. The enemy had planned the operation, relying on the sympathy and help of the natives who previously had been influenced by Turkish emissaries.

"The task of our troops consisted in holding on the front important forces of the enemy and at the same time in offering a resistance strong enough to check the ninth and 10th corps.

Battle Lasts Ten Days.
"In spite of the extraordinary difficulties of this, in spite also of the rigors of the winter and of necessity of fighting in passes of mountains rising 10,000 feet and covered with snow, our gallant troops, after a fierce battle extending over ten days fulfilled brilliantly the exceptional task which had been imposed upon them.

"They repulsed the frantic attacks of the Turks on the flank and on the front and at Sari Kamysh enveloped and almost annihilated two Turkish corps. They captured one of these corps with its commander, three division generals with their staffs, a number of officers, thousands of soldiers and many guns, rapid-firers and horses.

"The fighting was very fierce on the principal front, and of course necessitated a change in the grouping of our forces in regions of secondary importance. We brought certain detachments nearer our frontier.

"We have not yet ascertained the extent of our booty. The pursuit of the enemy still continues."

Submarine Is Conqueror.

BERLIN, Jan. 6.—An official announcement made public through the official press bureau says: "A German submarine boat reported by wireless to the admiralty in Berlin that it has torpedoes and sunk in the English Channel off Plymouth the British battleship Formidable." "The submarine was pursued by British destroyers but escaped undamaged."

ARIZONA "DRY" LAW VIOLATOR SENTENCED

TUCSON, Ariz., Jan. 6.—Louis Ghera, a saloonkeeper arrested January 1, by pre-arrangement, to test the Arizona prohibition law, was found guilty in the superior court and given a sentence of 90 days or a fine of $100.

Ghera refused to plead prior to judgment in order to give basis for habeas corpus proceedings, which will be instituted Wednesday for the purpose of bringing the validity of the law to a legal test.

SOCIETY LEADER RETURNS

Mrs. Lorillard Spencer, NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—After a year spent in the mountain stronghold of the head hunting Moros and Jolo, where no woman had ever penetrated before, Mrs. Lorillard Spencer, philanthropist and society woman of New York, has arrived in San Francisco enroute to New York. She is accompanied by her companion Miss Katharine Buffum. "The only real danger," said Mrs. Spencer, "was in reaching the Moro country. We were forced to ride horseback for many miles through the jungle. We forded swift running streams and climbed mountains guided by a native in whom we had none too much confidence. Snakes hissed at us from the heavy undergrowth." Mrs. Spencer failed to find the Moros the blood-thirsty savages they had been painted.

BUSINESS IN AMERICANS IS BRISKER IN LONDON

LONDON, Jan. 6.—Business was brisker in the American section on the stock market especially in the United States Steel shares, which changed hands between 51 1-8 and 51 3-4. Canadian Pacific sold from 160 1-2 down to 159 3-4, but rallied and closed at 160 1-4. A large business was done in war loans and consols, while the official board recorded several markings in American rails and bonds.

The January White Sales

January white sales have become a merchandising institution. This year, however, they have more than their usual attractiveness because of the low price of cotton. Merchants and manufacturers, with their country's prosperity at heart, are making unusual efforts to encourage the sale of cotton goods. Prices are favorable and the success of these sales will have their impetus in the coming business revival. The advertising columns of The East Oregonian are an excellent guide to the best stores.
